FOR PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES,

HENRY CLAY.

NEW-ORLEANS:

THURSDAY MORNING, JAN'Y 19, 1843.

☞ The Mail failed, yesterday, beyond Montgomery.

A huge chasm in the ritual of the "Louisiana Democratic Association," occurs after the ever memorable tenth resolution and its five postulates. Alas! Resolution the 11th is missing. Its proximity to its immediate predecessor—the major area of the creed—was a dangerous one. It may have been overlaid by the Great Bear or one of her cubs, or perhaps it was dropped as unworthy to keep company with the others. Be this as it may, the resolution is gone, and will be no doubt bewailed like the lost Pleiad, universally styled the loveliest of her tribe, because nobody ever got a sight of her.

The 12th is a specimen of the omnium rerum cum multis aliis genus. We here append it for the benefit of our readers, with a preliminary admonition, that they take a long breath before encountering its perusal.

"12. Resolved, That it is a proud reflection to the Democracy of Louisiana, a state whose constitution as it now stands, doles out to her citizens scanty and unequal political privileges by their estimated value in dollars and cents, that the natural and inherent love of justice, magnanimity and respect for human rights by the property holders of the State in despite of federal fraud, corruption and pipelaying, has given an immense majority of votes in favour of a State convention, one of whose principal objects is to remove the property qualification from the elective franchise, but above all we glory in the patriotic course of our fearless and incorruptible governor elect, Alexander Mouton, who, nobly disdaining all the artifices of concessions and subterfuges of expediency, boldly placed himself upon the democratic platform, and openly proclaimed his determination to stand or fall by those democratic doctrines which we have endeavoured to set forth in the foregoing resolutions and adopted them as the issue between the two parties in the gubernatorial election, and we consider his election by the people as an emphatic sanction given by them to those doctrines, and an expression of their disapprobation to existing corporate and other abuses, and their determination in favor of an early and radical reform of those evils; which can neither be easily misunderstood, nor safely disregarded."

The dexterity and nimbleness with which the topics in this article are changed, are only equalled by the wonderful transitions of the kaleidoscope. It begins in an apostrophical flourish about the large majority cast in July last, in favor of a convention, and reaches that point where it would naturally be supposed the association would divide some little of the glorification with the Whigs who voted for calling one, when it suddenly bespatters them with choicest missiles from the armory of Tammany Hall, turns a sharp corner, and in a trice is touching up the Governor elect with the brightest kind of water-colors. Here it branches out diversely (to emulate the diction of the resolution itself) like the stream of a jet d'eau, which when it reaches its utmost altitude, radiates the compass with attenuated projectile lateral issues, which in their turn become further syncopated until there is a complete "solution of continuity"—the exalted aqueous substance descending in globules, commonly called drops—whilst the rainbow spans the exhalation in luminous beauty. Pretty good that, and well directed, barring the rainbow—we much question if any such arch of promise be put forth from the "lights" used by the Association.

To close with this resolution; it purports to show that the election of ALEXANDER MOUTON (a very worthy gentleman, and for whom we have a high respect, maugre his politics) establishes the orthodoxy of the whole creed of the Association, which must now be taken as corner-stone and entablature of the democratic edifice of Louisiana. So be it. There is scope and verge enough in it for all the purposes of a fair contest about principles, which are as distinguishable as the red and white colors of York and Lancaster roses. Before the Association can impose a constitution upon the people of this State, embracing all the doctrines of this creed, they must expect a conflict equally as determined as that waged by the rival houses of the Plantagenets—albeit, a bloodless one.

We now come to the last resolve, which, like the spectre in Macbeth, points to those gone before.

"13. Resolved, That we have adopted the foregoing resolutions after the most calm and deliberate reflections, as a declaration of the plain principles of pure democracy on which our association is founded. We are willing to stand or fall by them, and we hereby solemnly pledge ourselves, each to the other, that we will never vote for any candidate for any office in this city or state who has not subscribed to the doctrines contained in the foregoing resolutions previous to his nomination."

Were it not for the certainty that these resolutions will come up for discussion at every canvass that will take place for some time, we would feel a deep grief at parting with them—we cannot entirely repress our melancholy, although we are persuaded that our separation is only transitory. Before concluding this brief survey of the ground upon which contending parties must measure strength, we cannot but congratulate the whigs upon the choice made by the Association of the field upon which to do battle. Notwithstanding we are assured, by solemn resolution, that the Association did not pitch their tents until after "calm and deliberate reflection" upon the vantage of the ground, we yet think that their positions are untenable and their defences insufficient. As a means of recruiting their ranks, the pledge of the members of the Association to vote for no one who does not sign the articles of faith, will perhaps swell their muster roll with the names of the ambitious of their party; but we do not believe that the State is so over stocked with aspirants for locofoco promotion, that this rigid mode of impressment will enable them to out-number us for a cycle to come.

LEGISLATURE.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.—Among the resolutions offered yesterday, was one by Mr. Stille requiring the President of the Mexican Gulf Rail Road, to lay before the House a statement of the affairs of the Company. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Morgan, of Baton Rouge, presented a resolution calling upon the State Treasurer for information whether any of the Sheriffs had failed to pay over to the State the amounts received by them for collection of taxes—who such defaulters are—whether any further delay than that provided by law had been granted by the Treasurer—what Sheriffs were in arrears to the State, and what was the amount of their indebtedness. The resolution lies over one day under the rule.

When the reports of Standing Committees were called for, Judge Ogden, as Chairman of the Judiciary Committee, made a number of reports in relation to various bills which had been submitted to that body. Among others, we noticed substitutes for the two bills relative to public advertising in the Parish of Orleans. With respect to the Senate bill amending the law which prescribes the time for the election of U. S. Senator by the Legislature, Mr. Ogden read a long, able and elaborate report, in which the subject was treated with power and cogency of argument. The report was totally unfavorable to the bill, and the committee asked to be discharged from its further consideration. After some sparring on both sides, it was made the order of the day for Tuesday next.

The bill from the Senate to provide for the cancelling of the State bonds issued and not sold, and to prevent further issues of these bonds, was referred to the Committee on Banks.

The Senate bill to take the sense of the people a second time in regard to calling a Convention to amend the Constitution, was made the special order of the day for to-day, when a similar bill comes up.

The resolution offered yesterday by Mr. Benjamin, relative to those banks which had issued bonds, making it obligatory on them to receive such bonds in payment, which had been referred to the Committee on Banks, was on motion of Mr. Brewer, seconded by Mr. Benjamin, referred to a special committee, consisting of Messrs. Benjamin, Brewer and Winchester.

Among the proceedings in the House was the passage of a bill to form a new parish out of the Parish of Claiborne, to be called the Parish of Bossier. The name occasioned rather an amusing discussion.

FIRE.—At half-past 8 o'clock last evening, a fire broke out in a wooden tenement occupied by a Mr. Fitzgerald, as a dwelling house, situated on Girod st., between St. John and St. Peter streets. The firemen were promptly on the spot, and arrested the flames before the building was half consumed.

RECORDER'S COURT—FIRST MUNICIPALITY.—There was but a single prisoner in the dock yesterday—the slave François, belonging to Mr. Jules Molière, is sentenced to receive 25 lashes for stealing vegetables.

COL. R. M. JOHNSON.—The Locofoco State Convention, that assembled at Frankfort, Kentucky, on the 9th instant, nominated Col. Johnson for the Presidency, subject to the decision of a National Convention.

OHIO RIVER.—There was 6 feet 9 inches water in the canal at Louisville on the 11th inst, and the river was still rising.

THE NEW ST. CHARLES.

This handsome and commodious Theatre opened last evening to a full and fashionable audience, amongst whom we were pleased to remark a goodly number of ladies. The Theatre itself is yet unfinished, much of the plastering and ornaments not having been completed. But even in its present state, it is one of the neatest, most convenient, and pretty Theatres we have ever entered. Its arrangements for the comfort of the spectators are admirable. The stage slopes upwards at quite a visible angle, while the Pit is elevated so that the audience are not in the slightest degree shorn of the usual range of vision. Both Pit and Boxes are well provided with comfortable and cushioned seats. The capacity of the Theatre is about that of the New American; the front is not so deep, but wider; the stage is apparently spacious. The style of the ornaments is that of chaste simplicity, there being nothing of a meretricious, gewgaw character about them.

The performances were prefaced by an appropriate poetical address delivered by Mrs. FARREN, after which Tobin's delightful comedy of the "Honey Moon" was exceedingly well played by an effective and excellent company. The old favorites, Mrs. Farren, De Bar, Ludlow, Chapman, Smith, &c. were greeted with redoubled rounds of applause, while the new debutants were treated with becoming indulgence and encouragement. In fine, the entertainments went off with great spirit.

Miss LEE, a danseuse of great celebrity, makes her first appearance this evening in the beautiful pas de caractere El Jaleo de Xeres, and the Pas de Danube.

LATE AND IMPORTANT FROM TEXAS.

By the steamship Neptune, arrived this morning, we have later intelligence from Texas. It appears that a portion of the invading forces after capturing the town of Mier, were attacked by a large party of Mexicans—who, after a desperate conflict, retook the town, and captured 250 Texians. It is further stated that 400 Mexicans were killed during the engagement, but only two Texians escaped.

The following from the Houston Morning Star gives the news more in detail.

"Since our paper went to press this morning, we have seen Mr. Needham, who arrived last night direct from Bexar. He states that Gen. Somervell, with a portion of the army that remained under his command, about 200 men, had returned to Bexar. Another portion of three hundred men, left the command of Gen. Somervell, elected Colonel Wm. S. Fisher commander, and went down to Mier, and captured the town, but a shower of rain came up just after they had captured it, so that they could not use their rifles to advantage, and the Mexican army arrived, and after a desperate engagement retook the town and captured about two hundred or two hundred and fifty of our troops. During the engagement our troops captured seven pieces of artillery, which were re-taken by the Mexicans.

About 400 Mexicans were killed in this engagement—only four Texians were killed. It is not known upon what terms the Texians surrendered. Only two Texians escaped, who were found at Gonzales by our army when it returned, and it is from these two men that Mr. Needham derived this news. The names of these men are Chalk and Sinclair. They say that they secreted themselves in some canes in or near the town, while the Texians were fighting in the stone houses, and they left in the night after the firing had ceased. They say also, that the fight lasted from twelve o'clock till two P. M. the next day, and during all this time only four Texians were killed, and four hundred Mexicans were killed! This story seems quite too incredible for belief. The army under Gen. Somervell heard nothing of it until they reached Bexar. Mr. Needham says Sinclair reported that the Mexicans were commanded by Gen. Ampudia and Canales, and that the whole Mexican force was 1,500 or 2,000.

Mr. Needham mentions that our army, after the capture of Laredo, moved down on the east bank of the Rio Grande to the mouth of the Salado, and found Canales with 300 men, ready to dispute the passage, but our troops crossed without difficulty, and he retired without firing a gun. The troops then proceeded to Guerrero and encamped near the town, the Alcalde came out and informed the General that the Mexican troops had fled, and that he would furnish any articles they required.

The General made a requisition for the articles most needed by the soldiers, and they were promptly furnished by the Alcalde. Gen. Somervell believing that his force was too weak to proceed further, gave orders for the army to return to Bexar. This gave dissatisfaction to a large party of the troops, and in consequence the division was formed, and the party under Col. Fisher refusing to obey orders, left the command as before mentioned, and went down the river to capture the small towns above Matamoras.

P. S.—By the arrival of the Spanish brig Tonante from Laguna, we have received information that a party of eighteen hundred Indians attacked a place called Champertown, about the beginning of the month, and captured it. The inhabitants, authorities, &c. had fled to Laguna for safety.

The new steamship Montezuma, was seen by the Tonante on the 5th inst, at a distance of about 75 miles from Laguna, steering for Campeachy.

☞ After issuing our Extra, yesterday, we were shown a letter from Dr. MOORE, Mayor of Houston and Editor of the Telegraph, dated Houston January 13th, which speaks of the reports respecting the divisions in the Texan Army, the loss of those under Col. FISHER, &c, as fabulous, and as having originated in the misrepresentations of persons who left the army through cowardice, &c. When the army was last heard from, says Dr. MOORE, its discipline was perfect, and complete success had attended it in every enterprise.

There has been so many rumors about Texan affairs, that it is hardly possible to credit any thing we hear from that country.

ALABAMA BANKS.—The Mobile Tribune of the 17th inst. says: "The recent news from Tuscaloosa looks very like making a clean sweep of the bank system. The friends of the Decatur and Mobile branches, whose fate is already sealed, it seems are determined, now that their pets have gone by the board, that the others shall follow suit."

We find in the same paper a statement of the debts due the banks in Alabama which are classified as follows.

The total amount due the Banks, is $16,401,863 .77—of which there are

Good,	$8,852,135 80
Bad,	5,501,493 16
Doubtful,	2,048,244 81
	—16,401,873 77

DIVIDEND.—The Alabama Life Insurance Company declared a semi annual dividend on Monday last of 4 per cent.

KENTUCKY.—RE-ELECTION OF JOHN J. CRITTENDEN TO THE U. S. SENATE.—After all the prophecying and log rolling, Mr. CRITTENDEN was re-elected to the Senate of the U. S., on the 7th inst., by the following flattering vote.

	Crittenden.	Johnson.
Senate,	24	11
House,	64	22

FIRE IN MOBILE.—The cotton pickery of Dr. Berghaus, on Royal, between State and Anthony streets, Mobile, was consumed by fire on the morning of the 16th instant. Sixty-two bales of repacked cotton were destroyed. The fire broke out about 4 o'clock in the morning, and was unquestionably the act of an incendiary.

☞ We are indebted to the clerk of the steamboat Missouri, for late Vicksburg papers.

AFFRAY.—The Missouri Republican of the 7th inst., says:

"A serious rencounter occurred yesterday, on Chesnut street, near the Post Office, between B. S. Farr, Esq., and Mr. Leonidas Walker, (late of the firm of Walker & Kennett.) As the case has to undergo judicial investigation, it would be improper for us to do more than allude generally to the circumstances.

The difficulty, it appears, originated at a ball given a few evenings ago at Concert Hall, where Mr. Walker, acting as manager, refused to Mr. Farr a ticket of admission. Following this Mr. Farr addressed Mr. Walker a note, demanding an explanation, which note Mr. Walker refused to receive or open, objecting to Mr. Farr's standing. Yesterday the parties met at the Post Office, each accompanied by a friend—Mr. Walker by Mr. McKinley, and Mr. Farr by Mr. Eustace. Mr. Farr approached and spoke to Mr. Walker, and upon receiving a reply, retreated a few paces and drew [illegible] and attempted to fire, but his pistol snapped. Mr. Walker, about the same time, drew a pistol, with revolving barrels, and shot twice or three times, the loads taking effect in Mr. Farr's breast and face. One of the balls in the chest, it is feared, may prove fatal. One of the balls, we are told, entered the face above the mouth and below the nose, the other entered the breast a little below the nipple of the left breast. After receiving Mr. Walker's fire, Mr. Farr drew another pistol which he fired, but without effect. About the same time that Mr. Walker fired, McKinley, seeing a pistol in the hands of Eustace, and presented, fired at Eustace but without effect. It is said that Eustace fired also. We have not seen either of the parties, and cannot vouch for the above being in every particular correct, but believe it is substantially as the affair occurred.

Mr. Walker immediately surrendered himself to the officers, and was taken before Justices Wetmore and Labeaume, where the facts being admitted as stated in the writ, he was admitted to bail in the sum of $20,000, which, having been given, he was discharged.

The friends of the respective parties were also arrested; but there not appearing any thing against them they were discharged.

They are both young men; Mr. Farr is a member of the Bar, and the collision is a source of deep regret."

☞ The barque MARY, from Baltimore, will commence discharging this morning at the foot of Lafayette street. Consignees will please attend to the receipt of their goods.

PAS DE DANUBE, By Miss MARY ANN LEE.

OPPOSITE THE ST. CHARLES HOTEL,
Formerly the Museum, No. 38 St. Charles street. (Second Municipality.)
SATURDAY, 31st December, 1842, and the following days,
Will be exhibited the new and celebrated
CHEMICAL TABLEAUX OF DAGUERRE,
Imported from Paris to to the United States by Messrs. Maffey and Lonati.
These are the Tableaux which for the last two years have met with such unrivalled success throughout the principal cities of the United States, and which have excited general admiration on account of the marvelous effects produced by their imitation of nature from sunrise until night, these reproducing two different subjects on the same canvass; results obtained by the decomposition of light; a new process invented by Daguerre.
The Exhibition will consist of four Tableaux, representing:
1st. The Sicilian Vespers, or Palermo in 1282.
2d. The Avalanche in the Valley of Goldau (Switzerland.)
3d. A Midnight Mass in the Church of St. Etienne du Mont at Paris.
4th. Venice on a Carnival night.
Open twice every day, (Sundays included) first at 12 o'clock precisely, second, at 7 o'clock P. M.
As the Tableaux are produced but once at each exhibition, the public are requested to be present punctually at the hours indicated, in order to enjoy the spectacle in all its fullness.
Admittance 50 cents—children, half price.
