Patalon sater, or F. Delage. THE PARTY OF THE P THURSDAY, APRIL 17, 1888.

New Trk, April 1, 1828. By the Packet Ship Perk, Captain De Cost, arrived here yesperday from Liverpool, which she felt on the 26th ult. we have received out London pupers to the 24th, and Liverstool to the 26th inclusive.

The accounts received from Constantinople though the German and French of warlike preparations by the Sultan which, however, appear to be she same readers a few days ago. The Courier of the 36d gives the following summery

Some additional intelligence from Constantinople has been furnished by the Pasts papers of Wednesday and Thursday. It cormborates the previous accounts, and, if true, would leave but feeble hopes of peace. The mani lesso issued by the Ports, and so which we alluded yesterday had the day before, has arrived, and is unuched in no medianed or doubtful serms: "It is countries of Europe and Asia, where of Greeks are mixed with musecimalism put by degroes the Rayas in the piece of Ottomans and the Ottomans in the place of the Rayas to convert our Man inter Churches, where the sound of will be heard—in a wolff by vechiy and easily Inhiam. Meither law nor reason, nor folley, penalt the acceptance of these conditions.  "A circular order to the Pachas an vows that the forbearance of the Porte after the bande of Navaring was only to pup time, and accuses the Russians of selving at length the gooded in having evertheowing the Ottomas Empire." The measures adopted by the Porte rested in the documents we have alludd so. French, English and Russian subjects, some of whom have resided it Constantinople for thirty years, have both obliged to quit the capital; the Armenian Catholics have been sent to Asia; vessels with corn have becal unlanded for the supply of the Turkish and ammunicion; take their departure daily from Constantinople, and are to shape their course towards the Danob is some as the weather is suffi open.M

The Sun of the same date mentions enother report that's hundred thousand Asiatic troops had arried in the envirous of Constantingple to strengthen the Sultan's European army—that is, his? troops disciplined after the European

The Atlas, however, of the 24th ult save, that some doubt is thrown on al this intelligence by the arrival of direct effect their reconcilliation on the above accounts from Constantinople to the 12th which mention no change of ministry', no massacre, nor any arrest except that of Realli. And, by the way, it turns out that this Greek banker had have executed for forgery, or coining, and not, as we were led to suppose before, for any thing connected with the Greek question.

On the 22d the army and ordunnee estimates were referred to a committee of Finance, in which Lord Palmerston's motion was agreed to, that 91,075 men be kept up as the land force of the country for the ensuing year exclusive of that required for the service of the East India Company. A diminution of 5000 be equally accessible for all other namerrhas taken place from the reduction of the recruiting establishment, and his Lordship saided that in future the colonial troops would be included in the or-Saary of the army. So A Mardings brought forward the settle he stated and de had media was granted for the next year's expe
