TO THE PLANTERS OF THE STATE OF LOUISIANA.

SILK!! SILK!!

THE PLANTERS in this state who desire realizing the largest profits from their lands, and their slave-labor, would do well, next spring, or even during August of the present year, to plant cuttings of the Mulberry or Morus Multicaulis, as they will be enabled to dispose in this city, of the cocoons arising from their culture. In order to obtain the knowledge necessary for the cultivation of the silk-worm, they will find at Mr Wm McKean's Book-store, corner Camp and Common streets, Mr Hebert's Book-store in Chartres street, between St. Louis and Toulouse, and at Mr. Dipu's Seed-store, corner of Tchoupitoulas and Common streets, a table containing directions for cultivating silk-worms, by means of which any intelligent person, can carry on the enterprise.

This work is absolutely indispensable to every planter who wishes to rear silk worms. It is written in English and French and may be applied to the culture of any quantity of Silk worms' Eggs, up to one ounce.

The "Baton Rouge Gazette," the "Feliciana Whig" and "Natchitoches Chronicle" will please insert the above advertisement one week, and send their accounts to this office. j27 1w

GARREAU'S INSTITUTION. Hitherto a certain class of society have had reason to complain of the difficulty, we might say, impossibility, of procuring for their children, as complete an education as is desirable. Parents ought therefore, to view with pleasure an establishment where their children may obtain a course of instruction equally solid and various.

Mr. and Madame Garreau have recently established a seminary for both sexes in Rampart street, between St. Ann and Maine streets. A long experience in the art of instruction enables them to satisfy every desire on the part of parents.

French, English, History, Geography, Mathematics, Mythology, Drawing, Book Keeping, and in short every department of a complete education are taught with care, zeal and assiduity. Professors of well ascertained merit are attached to the establishment.

Music, Dancing and the use of the Sword will be imparted to those desirous of acquiring a knowledge of these arts. All the various manual arts which constitute so essential a portion of a Young Lady's education will be taught by Madame Garreau herself.

Boarders and half boarders will be received in the establishment.
