HAS the honor to inform his friends and the public in general that he has returned from France with a complete assortment of PIANOS of all kinds, long square upright and piccolos. Having arrived at Paris before the close of the exhibition of French Industry, Mr Weil was enabled to study all the improvements in the construction of that instrument, and is convinced that the house of Pleyel & Co., maintain the superior standing they have acquired long since. Some of the Pianos he has brought with him and which he commends to the attention of amateurs, have figured in the galleries of the exhibition—others have been selected from the ware houses of Messrs. Pleyel & Co. F. Weil has been particularly attentive in choosing instruments so constructed as to resist the vicissitudes of our climate. He can therefore guarantee at the same time the perfection and durability of the Pianos to be found in his establishment. He respectfully invites amateurs to examine his assortment which he confidently offers as the most remarkable and perfect ever imported into New Orleans.

This Institution, the only one in the United States where the Civil Law is explained and studied, although recently established, has received so flattering a support from the public, that the undersigned has felt it his duty to spare no pains or expense in rendering it as extensively useful as practicable.

The Course of Studies embrace a general and a special course.

The General Course, which comprehends the outlines of the science of jurisprudence, is intended as preparatory to the Special course. It includes, besides an examination of the utility and philosophy of legal studies, an outline of the history of the Roman, Spanish, French and Common law, which is indispensable to enable the students to appreciate the elements of the jurisprudence of Louisiana, also the principles of modern international and of constitutional law, &c.

The Special Course, which is devoted to the study of the actual legislation of Louisiana, and which is intended to prepare the students for admission to the bar, embraces the study of the various authors prescribed by the rule of the Supreme Court of the 20th Nov. 1840, prefixed to the 15th vol of Louisiana Reports.

Attached to the Law school is an extensive and well selected Law Library, comprising several thousand volumes.

The Hon Henry A Bullard, Judge of the Supreme Court, Christian Roselius, Esq. late Attorney General of the State, and J P Benjamin, Esq. will aid the undersigned in delivering lectures in the institution.

Terms—Fifty dollars for the General and one hundred dollars for the Special Course—each course is of six months duration. Subscribers to the Special Course are admitted free of charge to the General Course.
