THE UNION—IT MUST BE PRESERVED.

FRIDAY MORNING, NOV. 7, 1834.

LATE FROM MEXICO.

By the schr. Rio, which arrived yesterday from Mexico, we have Mexican files of papers to the 10th October inclusive.

A new revolution has broken out in Chiapas, which the government has taken decisive measures to put down.—Troops were marching under the command of Gen. Vigargne against that place as well as the state of Guadalajara which was also in a state of revolt.

The inhabitants of the state of Jeliosc have addressed a memorial to the president, Santa Anna, for a change of government.

Don Lucas Alamen is to be invested with the secretaryship of foreign affairs, and General Tornel is to be appointed postmaster general.

THE OHIO ELECTIONS.

The mail of yesterday brought us the following gratifying returns from Ohio. The checkling of the bank party it will be seen, was a "little too soon."

The counties which remain to be heard from gave Lucas about 2600 majority in 1832, and they are in sections of the State, where his vote this year is as great as it was then.—We have no doubt but his majority will exceed 4000.

LUCAS ELECTED.

By the western mail which arrived since the foregoing was in type, we find that it is reduced to a certainty, that General Lucas is re-elected governor of Ohio. The Ohio State Journal admits this; but says his majority of 1832 will be diminished. Will the wiggies give us an hundred guns, or shall we have to provide for them ourselves?

The democratic party of the city of New-York, have nominated Gideon Lee and Charles G. Ferris, as candidates for congress, in the place of C. W. Lawrence and Dudley Selden, resigned. Also the following individuals as candidates for the 26th congress:—C. P. White, C. C. Cambreling, Eli Moore, John McKeon.

According to the Harrisburg Chronicle, the friends of the administration in Pennsylvania have elected 61 members of Assembly, and the opposition 39. The Senate stands 25 administration, 8 opposition. The relative strength of the parties on joint ballot, will be, according to this statement, 86 administration, and 47 opposition. According to the same paper, the Jackson majority throughout the state, on the Congressional tickets, is little more than twenty thousand votes.

We hold before us, says the New York Evening Post, a statement of the Cotton Crop of the United States, showing the growth, consumption, export, &c. for the year ending the 10th ultimo. The quantity consumed in the country during the past year was 190,935 bales. The quantity consumed the year previous (which was more than that of any antecedent year) was 184,412 bales. This shows an increased consumption last year of 2,523 bales! Let those who remember the assertions and predictions of panic makers and distress creators, consider this fact. During the time that the country was utterly ruined, the home consumption of our most valuable staple was increasing to the amount of 2500 bales a year! This, too, notwithstanding the reduction of the tariff.

To the Editor of the Bee.

Sir,

The recommendation made by your correspondent of The Times, Hinds as a suitable person to represent the 6th ward, met with general approbation among us. We have heard but one opinion expressed, and that is that he is the very man wanted. He is, as your correspondent justly observes both liberal and independent. Yes sir; there is no mean shuffling in this continuity, and there is none who has done more good in the way of encouraging the industry of the mechanics. Just look at the numerous and splendid edifices, public and private, that have adorned the fashionable St. Mary, the Bazar, and, etc. Mr. Caldwell, who has we believe been announced in one or more papers of this city, for the same post, may have, doubtless, many friends, we do not wish to disparage his claims, but can see no pretensions he has to be equal to those of Mr. Hinds. The latter gentleman is a man of business active and preventive, and has been brought up in the thoroughfare of life. He possesses all that keen shrewdness and that which so eminently distinguish the Yankee character. Should he consent to serve as our representative he would take care that our interests should be well looked after, while his liberal and mild, though determined measures, would secure him that respect and consideration among his colleagues, as necessary to the proper discharge of his duties.

The present situation of our city, demands that our representatives should not alone be free from personal views of self aggrandisement on entering the council; but that they should be above the suggestion of interested and personal motives. It is equally necessary, that they should be taken from the body of the citizens, and not from a class of interested men, who are ever in the start to turn a public employment to their own, or to the advantage of their immediate friends. Whether Mr. Caldwell be therefore to either of these situations we leave it to others to decide.

LATER FROM THE WEST INDIES.

ALEXANDRIA, Oct. 3.

Dreadful Hurricane at Dominica.

By the Brig Edward, Captain D. B. Smith arrived at Alexandria from Barbadoes, whence she sailed on the 5th, we have received files of Barbadoes papers.

The Islands generally continued quiet, but the laborers were very lazy, and not inclined to work when they could avoid it.

These papers give us an account of a most dreadful and destructive hurricane which occurred on the night of the 20th September on the island of Dominica. The works on two-thirds of the Sugar Estates were levelled to the ground, the canes blown flat to the earth, and in many instances buried in the mud and blown from the mill every description of provisions above ground completely swept away; and the face of the country, which exhibited before the utmost luxuriance of vegetation, changed to the appearance of a general conflagration having passed over it. There are not 50,000 feet of lumber in the island, nor 100,000 shingles. Every vessel that was in the roads at the time shared the same fate, viz: the schrs. Dispatch, Old Antelope, and a small sloop belonging to St. Kitts.

The Dominica schooner was driven ashore, bottom up on the rocks, and our pilot apprehends to Martinique. The officer, Barracks and Hospital at Morne Bruce, are mostly blown down, and those standing in such a dilapidated state, as to make them unsafe to occupy. Every building on the garrison has either been crushed to ruins or has suffered considerably—the spacious Hospital, lately built on an improved plan, has been partly unroofed, and the Barrack Master's and Adjutant's offices have been entirely destroyed, and it was with great difficulty that the troops escaped without loss of life. The left side of the Government House was then blown down, and the other parts of the building partially damaged. The office of the Auxiliary Commissioners of Compensation, adjoining those premises has been materially injured, and a great many of the original documents destroyed. The new Commissariat building—the Custom-House, the Court-House—the Market-House—the Jail and the Protestant Church, and almost every other building in town, have suffered considerably from the effects of the Hurricane—The Mercantile Houses of Messrs. Thomas Laine & Co., Messrs. James Gurrawy & co., and Thomas W. Doyle, Esq. on accdent of the proximity to the sea, have also experienced most heavy losses.

Throughout the whole island the most dreadful destruction took place.

The northern part of Martinique has suffered severely, and many vessels have been lost. St. Pierre did not escape, and considerable loss has been sustained at Fort Royal.

Great fears were entertained that the people of Dominica would suffer for the want of food, and measures were taken at Barbadoes and elsewhere to send supplies to the suffering inhabitants.

All accounts go to show that this has been one of the most destructive hurricanes ever experienced in the West Indies.

Extract of a letter from Barbadoes, received by a commercial house in this place.

"The great measure of emancipation is working better than the warmest friends of that law could have anticipated: and from the neighboring islands we continue to receive favorable accounts of the conduct of the laborers, with the exception of the colony of Demerara, where a great deal of indolence and apathy have prevailed."

3 DAYS LATER FROM LIVERPOOL.

CHARLESTON, Oct. 28.

The brig Retreach, Capt. Hamilton, from Liverpool, having sailed on the 19th September, arrived at this port yesterday afternoon.

By her we have received Liverpool papers to the 19th Sept. They contain no political news of interest.

LIVERPOOL, September 19.

SPAIN.

The news from Spain, through the French papers, continues favorable to the cause of the Queen and the Constitutional Government. If the accounts of the series of defeats that the Pretender experiences be correct, it is somewhat surprising that he is able to bring a man into the field. Week after week these papers furnish us with details of the defeats and flights of Don Carlos and his adherents, and yet there appear no symptoms that can be relied on, of this unhappy contest being brought to a speedy or satisfactory conclusion. On the contrary, from all accounts, it appears that the troops of the Queen are still kept in active operation in pursuit of the Pretender and his Generals. The following is a brief summary of the events in this quarter since our last publication:

The Paris papers of the 11th inst. state that Rodil, who was in the Bastos on the 6th, with 12,000 men, had marched in pursuit of the fugitive, who was known to be proceeding by the way of Villa Bona towards Biscay on the 4th.

The Monitour of Saturday contains intelligence from Bayonne of the 10th inst. By it we learn that there is a full confirmation of the truth of the rumours respecting the defeat of the rebels near Bergara, and that Rouil left Tolosa on the 10th, to form a junction with Eparatoro, to intercept the insurgents in the vicinity of Ascaita. The war is still maintained on the part of Don Carlos in such a manner as to protract its continuance to the longest possible period. General Rodil has had 350,000 francs sent to him from Bayonne for the payment of the soldiery.

The Echo del Commercio, a Madrid paper of the 5th instant, states that the various Procuradores are getting up a petition for the purpose of pointing out to her Majesty a subject which calls for the attention of the Estate, namely, the prolongation of the civil war which afflicts the provinces of the North, and the importance of putting as speedy an end as possible to it. For this purpose they offer to her Majesty all the co-operation which the Government may judge necessary, and all the assistance which it is in the power of the Estate to afford.

VERMONT AND THE BANK.

The Resolution.—The Governor having declared his opposition to the present Bank, a resolution, we understand, has been introduced to instruct our Senators and request our Representatives to use their influence against the recharter of this institution. It is presumed the resolution will pass by an overwhelming majority. The reasons for such presumptions are that the Governor speaks the real sentiments of the Republican party, which embraces the Jackson, and 75 in a hundred of the Anti-masonic party. If such a resolution pass, the Senators and Representatives must either obey those instructions, or resign their seats. It may be, they will have the stubborn nerve to set at defiance the expressed wishes of the Legislature. If so, their political lives will end with the expiration of their present term. The love of money and obstinacy conjoined, may nail them to their seats; but this will not answer. It is not our opinion, that either obstinacy or avarice will prevail. They will bow to the will of the People, and thus tear down, what for many years they have so anxiously endeavored to establish, a great money aristocracy.—Burlington Sentinel.

[From the Tory Budget.]

A GOOD ONE.

'TWAS ALL A MISTAKE.—We understand that the Wigs last evening, had made preparation for a grand celebration of the "Wig victory in New Jersey." A gun had been engaged; the 24 cartridges manufactured and filled with Bank powder. On the arrival of the boat from New York, a signal gun was to be fired; and on the annunciation of the New Jersey original Wig triumphs, a grand salute of 24 guns was to be discharged. The wigs had assembled in their several District Committee Rooms, and were drilled to raise a simultaneous hurra, at every report of the cannon.

Thus all arrangements were "cut and dried." The gun was loaded and as the boat approached, it was fired. Then gaped the wigs for another gun. Their mouths were opened, the hurra half uttered, but no second gun was heard." Astonished that their gun had lost its voice, they sent messengers to ascertain the cause. They returned with sad tidings. The Jersey Blues had kicked the wig ticket overboard, elected Jackson Congressmen and a Democratic Legislature, and the very dewes was to pay, the Bank powder would'at burn, and gunners were non est inventus.

Thus ended the Wig rejoicing for the victory in New Jersey. This morning the Jackson boys made up a purse and proposed to buy the Wig cartridges; but neither cartridges or powder could be found. It is supposed that they were thrown into the dock last evening.

From the Maysville Eagle.

Died, at the house of Baker Wood, in Washington, Mason county, Kentucky, on Monday morning about day-break, (the 29th September, 1834,) Doct. ALEXANDER H. DAY. Deet. Day was a citizen of Louisiana; had long been in bad health, and had visited Kentucky with a hope of being benefitted by her mineral waters, was on his return from the Springs, and had stopped at the house of Mr. Wood, only a few days before his death. The Doctor's stay among us was short, yet he had secured the friendship and sympathy of many, and it must be gratifying indeed to his friends to hear of the kind and respectful attentions which he received in his last moments. Although in a distant land and among strangers, his dying pillow was smoothed by a female hand, and his little wants duly anticipated by acts of endearing tenderness that woman only knows how to administer.

Col. James Speed, assisted by Maj. William Bickley and Lieut. James W. Anderson, acted as Marshals of the day. As a mark of respect to the memory of the deceased, the officers of the day, the pall bearers and physicians wore crape on the left arm. The Maysville Light Infantry company (on this occasion under the command of Capt. Mitchell) with their usual promptitude and fine military appearance, arrived a few minutes after four o'clock. The procession was immediately formed in front of Mr. Wood's house in the following order:

The First Marshal,
Music,
Pall bearers | The Corpse | Pall bearers.
Physicians,
Light Infantry Company,
Second Marshal,
The Ladies,
Citizens,
Third Marshal.

The procession then marched to the Baptist Burying Ground, where the mortal remains of Dr. Day were interred with military honors.

"There was a good demand for Cotton yesterday, and 4000 bags were sold, of which 1200 were on speculation. To day there is only a moderate enquiry, but the market is very steady, and the middling qualities of Upland Cotton are more difficult at last week's prices. Upland, ordinary to middling, 7 1-2 a 8 3-8; fair to good fair, 8 5-8 a 9; good to fine, 9 1-2 a 9 5-8.

Carolina Rice, ordinary to middling, 12 a 14 per cwt; good and fine, 15 a 18

P. S. 19.—The demand for Cotton continues good, but without any improvement in price.
