ROBERT A. GERARD,

New-York, 1st June, 1839. j26 6t.

TO DR. MAGNIN, inventor of the "Lacina cordial, or Elixir of Life."

"Respected and honored sir.—We have all, in a variety of cases, tested the remarkable effect of your great discovery, and have assembled for the purpose of bearing evidence to the fact, and tendering you the honor which is your due. The "Lacina cordial" is, in our opinion, an infallible remedy for the prostration of the processes functions, and artificial barrenness; and therefore until proves a blessing to the human race. We can also bear evidence that there is nothing in it of a mercurial or deleterious nature; and, in effect, that it is one of the noblest medicinal discoveries of any age.

"With feelings of admiration and respect, we remain, dear sir, your obedient servants,

JOSSELIN ROSSUIT,
SIGISMOND DE LA MARTINE,
ADRIEN DECRAND,
OCTAVE NICOLS,
JEAN BLANC,
ROBERT STEVENSON
LOUIS CUBIEAU,
PIERRE BUFFON."

"LE CORDIAL DE LUCINE," or, in English, "the Lacina cordial," is a general invigorator of the human frame! In all the various cases of languor, lassitude, and debilitation, it is an unfailing remedy; as it is equally its province to impart cheerfulness and vigour to the mind, as health and vigor to the body. But the peculiar virtue on which its fame is based, is the facility and certainty with which it restores the virile powers, when they have been destroyed by disease, time, recklessness, or any of the numerous causes which terminate in the prostration of those functions.

In common with the generality of really good medicines, this cordial contains nothing of a mercurial or deleterious nature, among the many ingredients which compose it; but is, at the same time, so simple, yet so efficacious, that while it can renovate the prostrated energies of a giant, an infant may use it, not only with impunity, but with advantage.

The usages of society are unfortunately such, that notwithstanding the benefits which would be sure to result from it, we cannot enter into an analysis of this inestimable cordial here, or publish many of the documents which have been received as vouchers of the blessings it has conferred on numbers of despairing individuals. But this we cannot forbear remarking—that it has been demonstrated that there is scarcely ever, if any such thing at all, as natural barrenness, or as natural inability of the procreant functions, in either sex; and therefore, that those evils are the effects of artificial causes, and may be speedily subdued and removed by the use of "Le Cordial de Lucine."

This invigorating cordial is also an invaluable one for the gleet, and for the floor albus, obstructed, difficult, or painful menstruation; also for the inflammation of urine, or the involuntary discharge thereof. It is likewise a most powerful and invaluable medicine in cases of chronic eruptions of the skin, and in the dropical affections of the aged.

COUNTERFEIT—The public is respectfully informed that one of the basest and most dangerous counterfeits ever attempted has lately been brought to light in the city of New York; we mean an imitation of that most deservedly popular medicine known "Rowand's Tonic Mixture," for fever and ague.

We had but just put down an imitation called "Rowand's Tonic Mixture," by L. S. Comstock & Co., when another, still more dangerous, makes its appearance from the store of Messrs. Brothers, 195 Water street, N. Y., in which the fac simile of the proprietor has been counterfeited—his copy-rights infringed upon—his certificates copied—and, in fact, everything, in a manner, that from its outward appearance, it can scarcely be distinct. We would also say, that we have commenced a suit, in the United States court, for damages for this "piracy," upon our copy-rights, and also warn all persons from buying of whom they purchase the article, unless its source can be directly traced to the proprietor, or some one of his general agents, whom he has endeavored to select, as men deserving of the utmost respect and confidence in the communities in which they reside, and who, we trust, would blush to offer any other than the true and original "Rowand's Tonic Mixture," for the paltry gain of a few dollars, thereby endangering the lives of their fellow citizens.

HUMAN HAIR.—It is certainly true, although not generally understood, that the roots of the hair always remain in the most abundant profusion, and that there are not more roots in the skin of every individual than hairs growing from them, but in the worst cases of baldness, that they neither perish nor are destroyed; and unless by accident or disease have been in a complete derangement, or destruction of the parts which nourish and support them, we maintain that they (the roots) continue vigorous, and are not destroyed, or even injured, when the hair has fallen from, or worn, or from constitutional causes, either in the old or young. "Bean's Cantharidine" is a preparation accompanying Beals' hair restorative.

MESSRS L. J. BEALS & Co invite those who are bald (in any degree) or who are losing their hair, to come to Masonic Hall, Broadway, up stairs, and have their Hair Restorative applied without charge until the hair is restored.

They further offer to enter into a contract with any person to restore the hair under the penalty of a loss of from two to five hundred dollars, and party being bound in a like sum, to be paid when the hair shall have been restored.

Persons residing out of the country, enclosing cash for the quantity required, will be sent by return of post, directed to EDMUND CHARLES & CO.
