THE TARIFF.

The official organ of the government, pressed on all sides as well by his democratic confrères as whig opponents, has at length condescended to lift in some measure the veil which has hitherto obscured the views of the administration in regard to the Tariff question. In the Union of the 18th, there is an article on the subject, in which the editor after his own peculiar fashion, expresses what may be considered the opinions of the government. He denies any hostility to American manufactures, but professes opposition to a "protected and pampered manufacturing system." He goes for revenue for revenue's sake, but if such a ratio should furnish incidental protection, no reasonable man, says the Union, can make any reasonable objection to it. This is not very explicit, nor very satisfactory, and leads irresistibly to the belief that the charges preferred against the administration by the ultra Free Trade organs, of a disposition to compromise with the manufacturers by retaining in the act of '42, the principle of incidental protection, are well founded.

As to the distinction between revenue and protection it is one existing no where save in the heated imagination of the neophytes of the political school, of which the Union is an adept. The primary object of every Tariff is revenue—the Tariff of 1842, was an act to secure and increase the revenue by customs, at a period when the General Government was greatly embarrassed. Revenue was the object; protection the incident. If the fundamental principle be once admitted that discrimination may be exercised within the revenue limit, it is all that the most strenuous supporters of the Tariff demand. This indeed, constitutes the essential difference between the Free Trade and Tariff politicians. The former, headed by Mr. CALHOUN contend that Tariffs must be levied purely for revenue—in other words, that no discrimination must be made—a doctrine which if carried out, would necessarily cause the heaviest duties to be imposed precisely upon those articles with which our home industry does not come into competion. The latter argue that the government in framing the details of a Tariff, may properly and beneficially discriminate, within the revenue limit, for Home protection. But we are not aware of any party that claims protection exclusively for protection.

Be this, however, as it may, the somewhat mystical exposé of the Union does not go half far enough to content the Carolina politicians. If we understand the "Official" aright, it is in favor of a sort of moderate Tariff (McKAY's bill for instance) from which indirect protection may blow. Against such a principle the champions of Free Trade strenuously protest. They will never admit it, but will oppose it inch by inch.—Between their hostility to half-way measures, northern democratic attachment to the American system, and the open and avowed opposition of the whigs to all attempts radically to modify the present Tariff, we begin to infer that the solitary whig measure of the Congress of '42 will remain unscathed. So mote it be!

NEW WORKS.—We are indebted to J. C. MORGAN, of the Literary Depot, Exchange Place, for the following new publications:—

Harper's Illuminated and new Pictorial Bible, No. 35. The illustration, typography and general execution of this magnificent work still continues unexceptionable.

The Wandering Jew, No. 16. Harpers' cheap edition.

Harper's Illuminated and Illustrated Shakespeare, Nos. 61—62, containing Measure for measure.

The Family Library, No. 173. Travels of Marco Polo. This is a very interesting account of the earliest, most distinguished and most enterprising of European travellers. Doubts were long cast upon the accuracy of his statements, but they are now fully proved to have arisen solely from the fact that his discoveries far transcended the knowledge of his age.

Essays of John Abercrombie, from the 19th Edinburg edition. These are a series of didactic, philosophical and religious disquisitions by a profound thinker and eminent philanthropist. They are a blessed to the industrious classes.

The Duty of American Women to their Country. This is an anonymous publication, designed, as we should imagine, from a hasty examination, to urge the employment of female talent and benevolence in educating ignorant and neglected American children.

DEATH OF GEN. SEWALL.—The Gospel Banner published at Augusta, Ga., says:—"Major General HENRY SEWALL, a veteran patriot of the Revolution, and a patriarch in the social state, departed this life, at his residence in this town, on Thursday of last week, aged 93 years. Few men have been more useful or more deservedly honored through a long life than he. General S. was in the whole revolutionary struggle, having entered the army in 1775, and continued in it till the peace of 1783. He was personally acquainted with Washington, to whose staff he was for a time attached. There are letters now in his house written to him by Washington in friendly correspondence after the war was over."

THE DELTA.—Messrs. Davis, Corcoran & Co. have issued the prospectus of a new journal bearing the above title, of which the first number will appear about the 15th of October next. It is to be neutral in politics, and will endeavor to be worthy of public patronage in all the other attributes of a valuable interesting journal. We wish the Delta all possible success. Mr. Corcoran, one of the proprietors, is favorably known as having been connected for several years with that spirited and well conducted paper, the Picayune. He is a gentleman of talent and enterprise—in every respect qualified for the editorial supervision of a public journal.

PATRONAGE OF THE GENERAL GOVERNMENT.—The New York Evening Post says that the General Government controls the appointment of 14,000 Postmasters, 14,000 Deputies, 1,000 Mail Contractors and Agents, 2,000 Revenue and Lighthouse officers—making in all 33,000 public dependents. Every State controls 2,000 appointments, and all of them 54,000. The General and State Governments together, control 87,000. This is exclusive of the Army, Navy, and the troop of persons employed by the Executive officers of the National and State Governments.

PRETTY GOOD.—A correspondent of the Independent Monitor, (Tuscaloosa,) who lately visited Washington city, objects to the nudity of the Indian girl in Persico's group, representing the landing of Columbus.

This reminds us (says the State Journal and Flag,) of the old maid, who, after reading the account of the gallant rescue of Miss Onslow, from the wreck of the Pulaski, by a Mr. Ridge, to whom she was afterwards married, and brought a fortune of $200,000, remarked that Miss Onslow might be very pretty and a great heiress, but for her own part, she had rather be drowned any time than be saved by sitting alone on a piece of a wreck, with a young man, in her night gown! Very much like the Monitor's critic was the bashful young man who lately took some ladies to see Power's beautiful statue of our first mother. Seeing her standing before them as large as life, and twice as natural, he blushed immediately, and turning to the ladies, said hastily, "We've called too early. She is not dressed yet. Let's evacuate!"

The products of the Russian mines last year were 9,000 pounds of fine gold, valued at 600,000,000 francs, or about $120,000,00; also, 2,000 pounds of platina, valued at $28,000,000 francs, or about $6,000,000.—The thirds of the mines belong to the Government.

MONTE VIDEO.—The Commercial Advertiser contains a letter from Monte Video mentioning the tyranny practised by Gen. Rosas, and recapitulating the horrors of war. The intervention of the English and French will, the writer says, restore peace in ninety days. The noble rivers which enter into the La Plata will then be open. These have been closed by Gen. Rosas, and we know nothing of the people who, for thousands of miles inhabit their banks, but I trust the present generation will become acquainted with their history, and the flag of the United States float along the shores of Paraguay, a nation which has maintained its independence for forty years, and still is shut up from all intercourse with the civilized world.

It was reported at Monte Video that Gen. Rosas has employed Mr. Edwards, formerly United States Consul at Buenos Ayres, to proceed to the United States and get up a national sympathy in his favor. But it won't go down.

CAPTAIN [illegible] of the steamer St. Landry, requests us to state in reference to the melancholy death of Mr. Hemaker, mentioned in yesterday's paper, that every possible exertion was made, though in vain, to save the unfortunate man; but that the guards of the boat being at the time loaded with cattle, and the steamer at the same time going very rapidly astern, it was found impossible to reach him with the yawl, before he sunk.

In confirmation of the remarks we yesterday made upon the reply of the Bayou Sara Ledger to the Chronicle, in respect to Mr. HARMANSON's agency in the Copeland affair, we find the following paragraph in the Chronicle of last Saturday. After quoting the assertion of the Ledger that the record of the Court had been falsified in an essential particular, the Chronicle says:

"Now, all we have to say in reply to the above is, that if we have falsified the records of the Court, it will require more than the bare assertion of that gentleman to prove it. We repeat that so much of the record as was published by us, is a perfect transcript of the original on file in the Clerk's office. It is certified to by the Clerk, CHARLES B. COLLINS, and we challenge any man to prove its falsity in any essential particular.—Nous verrons."

The subjoined communication treats of a subject which has created much excitement, and called forth much comment. It is from the pen of a respectable and responsible gentleman. We give it in compliance with his wishes, without undertaking to endorse many of his opinions and conclusions:

THE CASE OF SALOME MULLER.

The wonderful details of the case of Salome Muller, as stated in the testimony of several of the witnesses in the suit for freedom which she instituted against her former owner, and which resulted in her favor, are familiar to our community. As might have been expected, the case has been much commented on by the press—particularly that of the northern cities. Special pains too appear to have been taken by the lawyers engaged in the case, to give its details all possible publicity.—Shortly after the termination of the suit in our Supreme Court, a pamphlet was published containing what purported to be a true history of the case; to any one at all acquainted with the testimony on the record, this statement was known to be unfair and one sided. In the September number of the Boston Law Journal, appeared also, another article on the case, which bears upon its face sufficient evidence of being the production, directly or indirectly, of one of the Counsel of the plaintiff. This article can be only properly qualified by the terms insidious, garbled and deceptive. Facts are stated as having been proved, which were not proved; and others which were proved, and were against the pretensions of the soi disant Sally Miller, are studiously concealed. As might have been expected, the matter has been nuts to the abolitionists, and those opposed to the institution of slavery.

It will perhaps astonish the public, when it is told that after all the noise made about her,—after all the positive testimony of some of her witnesses, who pretend to have recognized immediately upon seeing her, after a lapse of twenty six years, not only by her exact resemblance to her German mother, but also by the presence of certain congenital marks upon her person, which had been known to them since her earliest infancy; that the woman who has been declared free by our Supreme Court, is nevertheless, without doubt, a mulatto, the child of a slave mother, and was, while held in slavery by Mr. Miller, justly and lawfully his property; and that the case made out for her by her witnesses is a pure fiction!

Since the termination of the suit before the Supreme Court, Mr. Miller has received information from most respectable sources, leading him to believe that the person really entitled to the name of Salome Muller, was now alive, and residing in the State of Louisiana. Acting under the information thus derived, he succeeded in finding one—the elder of the two girls, the daughter of Daniel Miller, who came to this country in the year 1818, whose time as a redemptioner was purchased by a Mr. Thomas Grayson, then residing at Prairie Bœuf. Daniel Miller died suddenly upon the boat while going there. It can be established also, by numbers of credible and respectable persons that the two daughters whom he left, bore the names of Salome and Dorothea; that they called each other by those names in their native language, and that in all respects they answer to the true description of those girls, as given by respectable persons who knew their parents, and who came to this country about the same time.

These girls were visited more than twelve years since at their homes on the Wachita river, by a cousin, named Daniel Kirchner, a nephew of their mother, and who remained with them some days. Neither of them ever had any such marks as those described to have been upon the person of the child Salome Miller, by the witnesses in the suit; and the elder, who alone survives, and who was told by Kirchner, that she bore a striking resemblance to her mother, is not in the least like the women who claimed her name in our courts. Proof the most conclusive can be produced, shewing that this survivor is the only person legally entitled to the name of Salome Muller, and establishing her identity; as numbers of persons are known who are acquainted with the history of the children since they were carried to Prairie Bœuf, to the present day; and who state such facts as place their identity beyond doubt. Nor is this all the evidence against the claim of the plaintiff in the late suit. Inquiries have been instituted in Alabama, whence the slave owned by Mr. Miller was brought about the year 1822, by one Anthony Williams, and by him sold to Miller. The result of these inquiries has been the discovery of a woman, the daughter of a former owner of the plaintiff, whose name was Wilson. This person states, that the girl Bridget, (Sally Miller,) sold to Mr. Miller, was the daughter of a slave woman belonging to her father; that she was brought to Alabama about the year 1816, from Georgia, being at that period about a year old; that she was given by Wilson to one of his daughters, who had married, and that some time afterwards she was seized under an execution against the daughter's husband, and sold by the Sheriff to one Jonathan Thomas, who placed her in the hands of Anthony Williams, his son in law, to be sold by him: this sale in Alabama took place more than twenty years since, and respectable witnesses can be produced to prove it. Stranger still, the daughter of Wilson, now living at Mobile, and who is near fifty years of age, states that she frequently nursed the child Bridget, and often noticed the marks upon her body.

The suit which has been brought in the Circuit Court of the United States for $75,000 damages, will afford an occasion to establish the facts above stated, in a manner to defy refutation, and an end will be thus put to the claims of the girl Bridget, to the name of Salome Muller; claims which have been supported by an organized system of fraud and collusion—claims properly and reasonably rejected by Judge Buchanan, of the District Court, and sustained by the Supreme Court, in an opinion, which, touching lightly upon the testimony of many highly respectable witnesses, gives credence only to that of a few Dutch people, the pretended friends of the true Salome Muller. Their testimony, as taken down in the record, shews discrepancies which should have attracted the attention of the most superficial Judge: yet, the opinion, adopting this testimony, enunciates boldly and unqualifiedly principles of law and practice in suits for freedom, which, in the opinion of some of our soundest lawyers, are destined to affect very injuriously the interests of many of our slaveholders, and to subject them to much annoyance.

Yours, C.

William R. Boswell was brought before Recorder Baldwin yesterday morning charged with endeavoring to sell a free colored boy as a slave. He brought the boy, whose name is Hillard Evans, from Danville, N. C., as his servant, and offered him for sale to several citizens in the city. One gentleman had almost closed a bargain for the boy, when he "let the cat out of the bag" and said he was free. Being unprepared for his examination; until he could write to his friends, Boswell was remanded to jail to answer the charge at some future day.

The Baltimore American, of the 18th, says:—Musquitoes have been troublesome in this city for some weeks past. Those who do not think it worth while to protect themselves against their nightly attacks by providing suitable bars or curtains, may adopt, if they think well of it, the process which is gravely recommended in the Richmond Whig, as follows:

Just before you go to bed, close all the doors and windows, if this was not done previously; spread upon the floor or hearth a quantity of gunpowder, according to the dimensions of the room, and explode it. The musquitoes are either killed or paralyzed for that night by the effect of the smoke.

MAINE.—Returns from 264 towns exhibit the following vote: Anderson (l. f.) 27,515; Morse, (w.) 22,638; scattering, 5,373. Anderson is in a minority of 497 thus far.

The Whigs of Philadelphia have nominated Wm. A. Crabb, Esq., for the Senate, John Swift for Mayor, and a full ticket for State and local officers.

AWFUL DEATH.—A young man belonging to Lenox, Madison county, N. Y., met an awful death on Thursday of last week. He, with his father and others, was threshing grain with a threshing machine, when by some mistep the iron cogs of the machine caught one foot, drew him into the machine, tearing off his leg at the hip joint, drawing out all the cords from his body on one side, and otherwise shockingly mangling him.—He lingered for two hours in excruciating pain, when death relieved him from his sufferings.

ACCIDENT AND SYMPATHY.—Some days ago, say the New York papers, while a gang of laborers were pulling down a building in New York, known as Tammany Hall, Jr., it prematurely fell, burying five of the poor fellows in the ruins. Two were killed, two much injured, and another remained under the ruins. A large crowd collected, and an incident occurred, which the American Patriot thus notices—

A fop stepped up and asked, "What is the matter?" The accident was told, when he exclaimed, "Ah! Oh! It's only a laborer." Mike Walsh, who was standing within hearing, raised his foot, (the impulse may be excused,) and sent the fellow among the rubbish. We do not exactly approve of the act, but the heartlessness of the remark must be an excuse.

LIFE BOATS.—A new life boat has been invented in England, made of ground cork and India rubber. These substances are first compounded and then cut into sheets which are applied to a frame work, in three different courses. It is the invention of Lieut. Walter, of the Royal Marines. The first which was built, was capable of carrying twenty five persons, and yet, at the same time, drew only fifteen inches of water. It is said to be a perfect thing, to be light, incapable of sinking, and to be tough and elastic. [illegible]—Boston Transcript.

A SPLENDID PRESENT.—We saw yesterday a magnificent gold snuff box, splendidly adorned with brilliants, presented by the Bey of Tunis to Mr. H. H. Day, of this city, in return for some of his splendid fabrics of India Rubber. Both the India Rubber and the snuff box were transmitted through Mr. J. H. Payne, U. S. Consul at Tunis.

Accompanying the box was also a letter from the Pacha, acknowledging the receipt of the articles from Mr. Day, expressing his admiration of them, and desiring him to accept the gold box, "that he may have a remembrance of us, as we have of him in the production which he has placed in our possession."

This is certainly a most substantial and gratifying compliment; and the best feature of the transaction is that it was well deserved.—N. Y. Courier.

AN INTERESTING RELIC.—Dr. F., of this city, owns a watch bequeathed by Dr. Franklin, at his death, to his only surviving daughter, Sarah Bache, who gave it to her second daughter, Elizabeth Harwood, from whom it passed to Richard C. Porter, and through the hands of his daughter, a resident of Mobile, to Dr. F. There is conclusive evidence to establish the identity of the watch in the possession of Dr. F. as the one given by Dr. Franklin to his daughter Sarah. Sufficient remains of the flower originally wrought upon the casing in blue enamel to give an idea of its antique style and beautiful workmanship. Every thing is interesting that comes as a relic from Dr. Franklin, who has passed into the history of his country as a pure and enlightened patriot, and into the history of science as a profound philosopher.—Mobile Register.

THE LINE OF TELEGRAPH.—The work on the line of telegraph between Philadelphia and New York, is rapidly progressing; and it is stated, on the authority of Mr. Gaull, the superintendent, that it will be completed by the 1st of November. The work is also in progress between this city and Philadelphia. The line from New York crosses the Delaware at New Hope, and taking a direct line from thence through the boroughs of Doylestown and Norristown, strikes the Philadelphia and Columbia Railroad at Morgan's Corners, in Delaware county. From this point a branch will be constructed along the railroad to Philadelphia. It is said the line to Baltimore will be extended along the railroad route, via Lancaster, Columbia and York.—Baltimore Sun

COMMERCIAL.

NEW-ORLEANS, FRIDAY NIGHT.
SEPTEMBER 26 h, 1845.

REMARKS—Our market, during the past week, has not exhibited much animation, as the difficulty before noticed, viz: the scarcity of shipping, has continued its influence upon several articles usually taken for export. This obstacle, however, seems in the way of being speedily removed, as we have been favored with several arrivals this week, and we hope soon to have occasion to notice a more animated market.

The weather continues highly favorable for business and the crops, and we are happy to repeat the assurance that our city is perfectly healthy.

COTTON—Arrived since the 19th instant, 15,931 bales. Cleared in the same time, 7,814 bales—viz: for Liverpool 3,377; Havre 2,429; New York 1,619; Boston 389. Stock in Presses and on shipboard 19th instant, 49,174 bales.

We left the market on Friday week in a very inactive state, as the difficulty in effecting shipments, in consequence of the scarcity of vessels, seemed to incline buyers to await a more favorable point of the market in this particular. The obstacle here alluded to has been in some degree removed by several arrivals from sea, and factors' markets, consequently, has exhibited rather more animation within the past few days enabling holders to transact business to a fair extent, and generally at previous prices. The sales of the week sum up between 11,000 and 12,000 bales, and as regards prices the change, if any, is so unimportant that our previous quotations are again continued. The leading sales of the week [illegible] [illegible]

TOBACCO—The Tobacco market has been quiet during the past week, the sales having scarcely amounted to 75 hhds, but holders are firm at very full rates, and the stock on sale is light, to which circumstance, and the difficulty of effecting shipments, is to be attributed the limited extent of the transactions. We quote as before—say for Inferior 2@2¼; Common 3¼@3½; Fair 3½@4¼; Fine [illegible] Choice [illegible] cents ⅌ lb.

Arrived since the 19th instant, 4?6 hhds. Cleared for New York 1?3 hhds. Stock in warehouses and on shipboard 26th instant, 7,6 7 hhds.

SUGAR.—LOUISIANA—The business has continued of a limited character during the past week, but the transactions have generally been at our previous range of from 6 cents ⅌ lb. for inferior to 7¾ for strictly prime.

MOLASSES—The stock is reduced to a few hundred barrels, for which there is but a mere retail demand at 30 cents ⅌ gallon in barrels from the Levee.

FLOUR—We have had occasion to notice a very heavy market for some time past, but within the last day or two a little firmer feeling seems to be manifested in the article, with some considerable sales both on speculation and for shipment. The range of prices, however, remains about the same as before, and we continue to quote for Ohio and the common country brands of Illinois and Missouri at $4 50@$ 4⅛; favorite bakers' brands $3 75@$ 50 ⅌ barrel.

WHISKEY—The market has remained very dull, with unnecessary supplies, sales have been made at 19¼ @ 20 cents ⅌ gallon for Rectified. Common 22@23 cents ⅌ gallon, in small lots.

WESTERN PRODUCE—All descriptions of Provisions have remained dull since our last report, though without any very material change in prices. Pork is very dull, at declining rates, and we now quote for Mess $16 00@17 00; M O $16 00; Prime $12 25@12 50 ⅌ barrel. Beef—Western Mess $12 00 ⅌ barrel—do. in half barrels $6 50@6 00; Prime $8 25@8 50 ⅌ barrel. Bacon Hams uncanvassed, 6@9c; sides 6¼@6½c; Shoulders 7@7¼ cents ⅌ lb. Lard, 7@8¼ cents ⅌ lb for extreme quantities, the principal sales being at 5@7¼ cents, at which rates some 300 to 400 barrels have been taken for shipment to the Havana market.

BAGGING AND BALE ROPE—Heavy stocks, without any adequate demand, continue to depress these articles, and prices are not fully sustained. We now quote for Bagging 10@11¼ cents for ordinary to extra heavy, and for Rope 5@6¼ cents ⅌ lb. according to quality, terms, &c.

GRAIN—Supplies of Corn are gain on the increase, and prices rather giving way. We now quote 40@41 cents ⅌ bushel for common lots from the Levee, with a few sales of very prime parcels at 43@45 cents ⅌ bushel, in sacks. Oats 3?@31 cents ⅌ bushel, in sacks. Some sales of Wheat at 84@85 cents ⅌ bushel, according to quality.

COFFEE—We notice sales of Rio to a moderate extent, generally at 7@7¼ cents, with some small lots of prime at 7¼ cents, while one or two lots of very interior may be bought at 6¾ cents ⅌ lb. Nothing of importance doing in other descriptions.

CANDLES—SPERM.—The sales are confined to very small parcels, at 25 cents ⅌ lb for New Bedford, and 27 cents ⅌ lb for Nantucket, &c.

SALT—The market remains in a very dull state, but the occasional sales that take place are at $1 00@1 05 ⅌ sack Liverpool coarse, and $1 10@1 15 for fine.

RICE—Since the transactions for export noticed in our last the market has been in a very inactive state, and only very limited sales have been effected at $4 75@5 25 ⅌ 100 lbs.

FREIGHTS—There have been several arrivals of ships, barques &c. from sea since our last, nearly all of which have readily been taken up at 9-16d for Liverpool, and the same for Havre, and for Coastwise ports at rates quoted in the following table:
