ST. LOUIS INSTITUTION.
Boarding and Day School for Young Ladies.
Established and directed by Madame Arpin, and directed by Madame DERON
No. 145 St. Louis street, between Dauphine and Burgundy streets.

MADAME DERON (late Miss Huet) has the honor to inform families that this Institution, directed by her and founded by Madame Arpin, being inadequately situated in the two houses in Burgundy street, where it had been established—has been removed to No. 145 St. Louis street, between Dauphine and Burgundy streets.

The site chosen for the Institution is well known and remarkable for one of the most beautiful, convenient, spacious and salubrious dwellings in the city of New Orleans. The house is vast and commodious in a central and extremely healthy situation, and comprises an ample and extensive building, including seven elegant gardens, large and superb apartments, lofty and spacious dormitories, airy studies and class-rooms opening on an interior balcony, and for the recreation of the pupils a large flagged yard, a hall sheltered from the rain and sun, and a magnificent terrace.

To these [illegible] advantages, Madame Deron has added several intellectual ameliorations, which place the Institution St. Louis in the first class of educational establishments.

All the improvements calculated to physical and moral culture, as practiced in the best Institutions of the nature, have received the most ample development in that of Madame Deron.

The permanents formed by the Directress and M. Deron, with M. Deron's, and Mdlle. Deron, both devoted to the career of instruction, have placed the Institution on a basis of [illegible] and [illegible].

Madame and Messrs. Deron will devote their attention to the French language, a thorough Governesses of superior attainments, and a distinguished Professor, Mr. Orton, will be entrusted with the various branches of the English language and literature.

The general system of instruction at the Institution St. Louis is the most profound, brilliant, complete [illegible] that can be applied to young ladies. It comprises four divisions, viz:

1st division, two Elementary Classes.
2d " two Classes of Belles Letters.
3d " two Preparatory Classes.
4th " two Classes of Superior Studies.

The system embraces all the various branches which constitute a really finished education, viz:—Reading, Grammar, Rhetoric, Composition, Prosody, Elocution; Ancient, Medieval, Contemporaneous and Modern History; Geography and Cosmography, Arithmetic, the higher Mathematics, Astronomy, Experimental Philosophy, Zoology, Botany, (Flora Americana,) the Elements of Physics, the Principles of Logic, and the study of the Etymological relations between the Ancient and Modern Languages.

Lessons in Embroidery, and Lineal Drawing form an essential part of the general system, and are not considered as extra charges.

Madame Deron has added a section superior to the first of seven classes, organised by Madame Arpin, and for which she has borrowed the title "Class of Distinction," from the Institution of the Legion of Honor, "Maison St. Denis," to which [illegible] [illegible] educated, and where she [illegible]. For the pupils of this class there is [illegible] apartment [illegible] for the [illegible] of complementary studies, comprising [illegible] lessons, by M. E. Deron, and conferences by the Madame Deron per week. This course may be attended by persons who are not pupils of the Institute.

A Music [illegible], producing an excellent method of teaching and [illegible], is specially attached to the Institution for the Piano and Singing.

Mesdames Boyer and Lagicheuvre will continue to give lessons on the Piano and Harp.

WASHINGTON NATIONAL MONUMENT.

THE undersigned having been appointed by the Board of Managers, and General Agent of the Washington National Monument Society to solicit subscriptions for the erection of a NATIONAL MONUMENT to the memory of the FATHER OF OUR COUNTRY at the seat of the general Government, takes this method of informing those who may be desirous of contributing towards this patriotic object, that his subscription book is now open and will remain open for a few weeks at the office of the New Orleans Bee, 13 Camp street and 81 Chartres street.

Congress having passed a joint resolution authorizing the President of the United States and the Board of Managers to select a site for the Monument, they have chosen a place of ground, about thirty acres, West of [illegible], directly West of the Capitol, near the Potomac, and South of the President's house—the corner stone of which will be laid on the 4th of July next.

As a further inducement to subscribers, the Society have gone to considerable expense in procuring lithographs of WASHINGTON and the MONUMENT, which will be delivered as follows:
