TEMPLE OF THE MAGI,

Fitted up at very considerable expense, at no 140 Chartres st. between Conti and St. Louis st.

RAHABEN-ABEL MARCHAEL, the far famed Chaldean Magi, and his Circassian lady, Zilah the Sybil, being the only two persons who have ever been permitted by the initiated Magi to visit a foreign country, will open every evening thereafter.

The very flattering reception they have met with in the Northern States, having been visited by upwards of 73,000 persons, has induced them to visit New Orleans and to hope to receive a portion of public patronage.

The apparatus and furniture are of a splendid description, and the hall is fitted up to represent the Temple of the Magii at Ispahan. The exhibition consists of the

Magic Feast,

In two parts, being a series of beautiful illusions in mechanical philosophy and natural magic, illustrative of the miraculous feats performed by the Ancient Magicians, Sorcerers and Indian Brahmins, as originally exhibited at the Court of Ispahan, before his Mightiness Mahmoud Schah, and also before the court of England, to the astonishment and approbation of their majesties and suite.

The illusions are of the first order, truly magnificent, instructive and amusing, and of such a nature, that persons of the most rigid religious principles can feel no repugnance in witnessing.

Amongst many others he Brahmin illusion of the Indian Taper.

This deception of the Brahmins has puzzled and bewildered the learned of the old and new world. Also

THE TRANSFORMATION OF ZILLAH,

Will take place in the presence of the audience,

Change to a Bird or Quadruped.

For particulars and excerpts recommendatory of the exhibition, see small bills at all the principal hotels, boarding houses and stores in the city.

HEAD QUARTERS,
New-Orleans, Jan. 17th 1836
ORDERS:

IN Conformity with the request of Major General Gaines of the United States Army, commanding the western department, a Regiment of Eight Companies, composed of Riflemen or Infantry or both, will be held in readiness to assemble at a moments warning and march to the assistance of the troops now engaged in Florida in subduing the Seminole Indians.

The commander-in-chief confidently relies upon the zeal and patriotism of the citizens of Louisiana, for the voluntary enrolment of the requisite number. In Baton Rouge a company of gallant men have anticipated the call, and offered their services and their example will now, no doub, be followed in different parts of the state.

The citizens are therefore invited to organize themselves in companies and report in writing immediately to the general of their Brigade and to the adjutant general's office at New Orleans, in order that measures may be taken to supply any deficiency by a draft under the provisions of our law.

If more volunteers offer than are required, the services of those who are soonest organized will be accepted in preference. If, on the contrary it should be necessary to draft men to make up the deficiency, the draft will be made by entire companies, each of the seven Brigades of militia and the Legion of Louisiana being obliged to furnish one company.

Each company whether of volunteers or drafted Militia will consist of one Captain, one first Lieutenant, one second Lieutenant, four Sergeants, four Corporals, two Musicians, and if possible of fifty privates.

The eight companies will form a regiment to which will be attached a Colonel, a Lieutenant-Colonel, a Major, an Adjutant, a Sergeant-Major, and a Quartermaster Sergeant.

If volunteers do not offer as field officers and adjutants, their places will be filled by draft from Officers of the proper rank in the different corps of the states.

The men are required to provide themselves with all the necessary clothing, but arms, accoutrements, provisions, medicines, and camp equipage will be provided for them.

As soon as the requisite number is completed, their organization will be announced, and all will be held in readiness to assemble at New Orleans at a moment's warning, to be mustered and embarked for Florida.

Orders to ensure the prompt compliance with this call, every Officer of the Militia is required to complete immediately the organization of the corps he commands, to order musters, whether of company or battalion at the earliest period allowed by law, and to transmit this order to those under him with all possible despatch.

The officers commanding the several brigades of militia will report, from time to time, to Head Quarters, at N Orleans, the progress made within the bounds of their command, in the execution of this order; but this will not dispense with their reports to their respective Generals of Division By order of the commander-in-chief.
