INSECT TENT. A NEWLY invented article called an insect tent is now offered to the public at No 46 St. Charles street opposite the Exchange Hotel, of such entire and novel form and construction, and so light portable and comfortable, that it must meet with universal approbation.

As a complete protection against annoyance from all winged insects, without causing the least incumbrance in a room, this tent is all that the most fastidious could possibly desire. It will give to the inhabitants of warm climates a comfort and luxury never before approached by any other musquito bar. The tent is suspended from the ceiling of the room from a hook, or any other thing to which it may be desirable to fix it and may be raised or lowered at pleasure. It is so constructed that it may be instantly folded up into a bulk not larger than an umbrella and run up to the ceiling and be as much out of the way as a suspended lamp or chandelier would be and it may be as quickly unfolded and prepared for use. The time required to form the tent or to fold it up out of the way will not require more than one minute. It will be an ornament to a room instead of an unsightly incumbrance and is so simple in its construction that it cannot get out of order. It is intended to be used for sitting, reading, writing, dining and sleeping under, and to be used in dwellings, counting houses and offices, and may be used by travellers, sportsmen or parties of pleasure, when in the woods. People will never know the comforts that may be had in sleeping in this warm musquito country until they try one of these newly invented tents. They may be made of any required dimensions and of any desired richness in ornament.—Those we now make are hexagonal, or 6 square and 8 feet 6 inches in diameter, 10 feet 6 inches high, and when folded up will make a bulk of 4 feet 6 inches long and 9 or 10 inches in diameter. The cost of one is only $20.

Those who should examine this new tent, especially as it will afford them many comforts heretofore denied them on account of the inconveniences of the ordinary mode of protection against insects. The new insect tent is really one of the most useful and comfortable contrivances of the day and must soon be used by every family either in the cities or in the country.

The above description of the insect tent may appear extravagant and calculated to give a false estimate and coloring to the matter as is too often the case with notices and advertisements of new things, but the public may be assured that no such attempt has been made in this article, of which people will be convinced by calling at 46 St Charles street. jy12 3m

A CARD.—The subscriber begs to express his grateful thanks to the public for the very liberal support he has received since he commenced business in this city. And he assures the public that his connections in every department of the seed business in the different countries of Europe are equal to that of any house in the United States. He imports seeds, plants, &c. direct from the most extensive and respectable nurseries and seedsmen in France, England, Scotland, Holland and the northern states, and it will at all times be his study as it is his interest, to import articles of the very best description. Having made arrangements with some of the most eminent seed growers in the north for full supply of seeds of this year's growth, his customers may rely with confidence that a large quantity of fresh seeds will be ready for them by the first of September next.

LIFE INSURANCE. OCEAN INSURANCE COMPANY.—The absence of any institution in this city for insuring lives, and the extravagant rates of premium demanded by the northern and European companies for granting life policies to persons residing in Louisiana, have determined the Board of Directors of this Company to put into operation that clause in their charter which authorises insurance upon lives, on a scale of premiums which will enable every one who is in receipt of a moderate annual income to secure for those who are dependent on them a comfortable provision in case of their death.

The scale determined on is, as nearly as possible, the average of those adopted by the London offices for insuring lives in England, an addition, whatever being made for difference of climate, and by this scale an annual premium of twenty dollars paid by a person 35 years old will secure the payment of one thousand dollars to his heirs should he die within the year—an annual premium of one hundred dollars will secure five thousand dollars—and so on in proportion for any larger amount.

The Company will issue policies for any term from one to seven years and the premium can be paid quarterly, half yearly or yearly.

Any further information that may be required will be furnished on application to the office No. 33 Camp street, corner of Gravier street. By order of the Board. m3 CHS BRIGGS, Secretary

THE location of this house being central, half-way between the river and canal, and upon the highest level upon Main street, and convenient to all kinds of business, together with the late addition, and improvements makes it now the most desirable hotel in the city for merchants and travellers in general. Fare not surpassed by any hotel in the city—bills moderate, suitable to the times. Feeling grateful for past favors, I hope by strict attention to the comfort of all who may call to merit a continuance of public favor so liberally bestowed.

For the information of persons in other parts of the United States who might feel inclined to take advantage of this opportunity of entering the use of the splendid establishment, it is thought proper to give the following description.

The Hotel forms part of the handsome block of buildings known as the City Exchange and St. Louis Hotel. Previous to its destruction by fire in February, 1840, [illegible] it has rather been improved in style and convenience.

There is an entrance in St. Louis street, near the vestibule of the Exchange and Rotunda, and the main entrance is in Royal street, through a handsome vestibule with a large winding stair way leading to the upper part of the building.

The ground floor is composed of one large dining room or ordinary 90 feet in length, 40 feet wide and 19 feet high. One ladies dining room or ordinary, and one parlor, each 42 feet by 21, connected by large sliding doors 22 feet wide; [illegible]

The third floor comprises [illegible]

The fourth floor besides a front of 100 feet and upwards, in Royal street, [illegible]

The kitchens and cellars are, in the first floor [illegible]

CARROLLTON ACADEMY—The subscribers have the honor of announcing to the inhabitants of Orleans and Jefferson as well as the adjoining parishes, that on the 1st of November next, the above institution will be opened, under their superintendence, for the reception of boys, both as boarding and day scholars. They pledge themselves that the utmost attention shall be devoted to their moral and intellectual improvement.

The local advantages of Carrollton are well known.—They have secured the spacious house owned by Mr. Kohn—the garden and premises are extensive, and the situation most salubrious and admirably adapted for the school. [illegible]

As the institution will be strictly preparatory, they propose limiting the age of pupils to twelve years. [illegible]

Preparations will be made, as early as possible, for receiving girls, both as boarding and day scholars. The same attention in point of age will apply to both departments.

The scholastic year will be divided into two sessions, the winter term commencing on the 1st of January and ending on the 30th of June; the summer term commencing on the 15th of July and ending on the 20th of December.
