WASHINGTON COLLEGE,

(Three miles from the Public Square)

DIRECTED BY MR. J. CHANUT,

Graduate in Letters of the University of France, FORMERLY PROFESSOR OF HISTORY IN THE COLLEGE OF HENRY IV AT PARIS,

EX VICE PRESIDENT AND EX PROFESSOR OF LITERATURE, GREEK, LATIN, AND PHILOSOPHY, AT THE COLLEGE OF JEFFERSON (LA.)

MR. CHANUT has lately purchased, with the intention of establishing a College for Classical and Special studies, the handsome and spacious house, with a large garden, lately appertaining to the plantation of Pandely—Being situated only one mile below the Ursuline Convent, and entirely exempt from the yellow fever, it unites all the advantages of city and country. The various arrangements required for the completion of the establishment are finished, and it will be opened on the 15th instant.

The course of studies, destined for pupils who desire to complete a thorough system of instruction, will embrace the following branches:

Greek,	*History,
Latin,	*Geography,
*English,	*Mathematics,
*French,	*Logic,
*Spanish,	Moral Philosophy,
Italian,	*Book Keeping,
*Rhetoric,	Natural Philosophy,
General Literature,	Chemistry.

The special course, intended for those who are destined to business and commercial pursuits, and who consequently will have fewer years to devote to their studies, will embrace only those branches which are marked with an asterisk [*]

Mr. Chanut has explained in his prospectus, which may be found at the several book-stores, his views of tuition, and the method which he deems most favorable to a rapid and solid progress. He believes that in addressing himself to the cherished interest and enlightened solicitude of families, there is no necessity for the parade of pompous promises. His residence has been fixed in Louisiana for five years. He is ardently desirous of establishing an institution that will be useful to the country, and thinks he may appeal with some confidence to an experience of twenty years in the business of tuition, as well as to the testimony of families and a long list of pupils, with whom he has been connected.
