YOUR COUNTRY.

It was Elbridge Gerry who said, "It is the duty of every man, though he may have but one day to live, to devote that day to the good of his country."

Two of a Kind.

"You fondle that pug puppy," complained the lover, "until I am actually jealous of him."

"You're all alike," answered the girl. "This puppy is jealous of you."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"I suppose your wife always has the last word in the argument."

"I dunno," replied Mr. Meekton gloomily. "We haven't yet got near enough to the end of it to figure on the last word."—Washington Star.

CITY AND STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

Elaborate preparations are being made for the proper observance of the one hundred and seventh anniversary of the proclamation of Mexican independence, to be celebrated with a banquet at the St. Charles Hotel Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock and the occasion will be significant in the fact that for the first time since the revolution in that country, Mexicans of all creeds will be in attendance. Responses to invitations indicate that at least 150 will participate. The independence of Mexico was proclaimed at 11 p. m., September 15, 1810, by Hidalgo in the town of Dolores and though it required ten years of war to bring the battle for a free republic to a successful conclusion.

John M. Parker's first attempt to unite a Louisiana industry as food administrator for the state Tuesday was not a complete success. The experiment was tried on the rice men. They united in praising Mr. Parker and in tendering all sorts of cooperation, but when it came to getting together on price to suggest to the government, the majority balked.

Senator Broussard was sent a telegram of thanks by the convention of Louisiana sugar planters Tuesday night for his efforts in defeating the excise tax bill.

Announcement was made Tuesday that the steamer Homer Smith, one of the most complete and finest-appointed passenger steamers afloat, was getting ready to leave Pittsburg for New Orleans and would arrive here about the end of the month. The Homer Smith, it was said, will operate out of this port during the season 1917-18 as an excursion boat.

Arthur Massé, 824 Napoleon avenue and Arechabeleta Fermil, 816 St. Charles street, were arrested by Sergeant Casey at Canal and North Rampart streets, and charged with the theft of $160 early Tuesday. John Rivas of Bay St. Louis, Miss., complained to Sergeant Casey that he had been robbed by Massé and Fermil, while they were automobile riding in the West End road.

Sergeant George Bengert, commander of the Algiers Police Precinct, was the guest of honor Tuesday night, at a banquet given by his friends in Algiers, where he was presented with a diamond studded gold badge. The banquet was held in John Strada's Cafe in Algiers.

To save his baby brother, aged 2, from an approaching Houston and Shreveport freight train, Roy Gann, aged 11, endangered his own life and made a hero of himself at Shreveport by rushing in front of the engine and bearing the infant to safety.

Because about two-thirds of Louisiana's qualified drafted soldiers are negroes, it will hardy be possible to comply with Provost Marshal General Crowder's recent order, that the 40 per cent of the men which moves to Camp Pike September 19, shall be whites, says Adjutant General McCrory. How the problem is to be solved is yet to be determined. Some parishes can send more than their 40 per cent in white men, thereby bringing the entire state nearer to the total 40 per cent of all the parishes, but there are not enough parishes with a surplus of qualified white soldiers to meet the emergency.

Governor Pleasant, Harry Gamble, assistant attorney general; Nicholas Sims, state bank examiner; Dr. C. H. Moseley and M. L. Alexander, conservation commissioner, have returned from an inspection of the oyster, fish and shrimp industry of the Louisiana marshes.

Superintendent Mooney asked the police board at its semi-annual meeting Tuesday to create six more captains, so as to give every precinct a captain. In six stations the work is done by sergeants. The places of the six sergeants will not be filled. His recommendations were adopted, to go into effect October 1. In conjunction with the promotion of sergeants it was decided to make six patrolmen corporals. The places of the patrolmen will not be filled.

The sugar industry of Louisiana is united for the first time in its history, and represented by a committee with full power to act. The outcome is the first big victory achieved by John M. Parker, as food administrator of Louisiana. The committee will work with him in seeking a square deal for all concerned, and in carrying out the rulings of the National Food Administration.

The Ouachita parish police jury Wednesday ordered that a prohibition election be held November 20, prohibition, if carried, to become effective January 1, 1920.

The Terrebonne Sugar Company has closed a contract with the Terrebonne Gas Company by which the latter will furnish natural gas from its wells at Montegut for fuel for the former during the grinding season.

Mrs. Augusta Dubuisson, widow of Charles Hopkins, Weduesday began action against the New Orleans Railway and Light Company for $50,000 damages for personal injuries. She says she was a passenger on a Spanish Fort train and wished to alight at Adams avenue. When she left the car she found a man standing on the platform who had deposited a fishing basket near the step. She had to be careful in getting around the basket, and as she stepped off her skirt caught on the basket and she was thrown heavily to the shelled walk, injuring the right side of her neck, shoulder, chest and hip.

The contracts with the longshoremen and screwmen on the docks will expire September 15, and while the unions have submitted new scales they have received no reply from the employers. It is said agents and stevedores are willing to pay the increased amounts demanded, but are unwilling to submit to some of the working rules, which have been written in the contract. It is not believed there will be a strike, but officials of the longshoremen's organization say that if their wage scale is not signed by Saturday the 400 or 500 negroes engaged in unloading cars on the river front will strike Monday.

John T. Pender has been named as the president of the Business Men's Racing Association, it was announced on Wednesday. He is one of the best known business men in the city, being the head of a large painting and decorating business.

Women teachers in New Orleans are taking men's jobs made vacant by war's demands, according to School Board reports on resignations or requests for long leaves of absence. There will be more vacancies this year in the city schools than ever, Superintendent Gwinn said Wednesday. Marriages in the usual proportion add to the need.

The fire department experienced much trouble in getting water to the top of the thirteen-story building of the Hibernia Bank and Trust Company at Gravier and Carondelet streets Wednesday night when fire started in the elevator motor room. The cables of the elevators were burned out and the firemen were compelled to carry the hose up the stairs. The flames attracted the attention of hundreds of persons going home from the theaters.
