E. JOHNS & Co.'S NEW EDITION of the CIVIL CODE of LOUISIANA.—This long expected and much wanted work, is now received and for sale at the store of the subscribers.

The subscription list is closed from this day. Subscribers in this city will be duly furnished on call for their copies, and to pay the usually subscribed price.

The first request is made on account of the number of subscribers, which would make it impossible to deliver them all for some time to come; the second may be easily conceived—the enormous expense the publishers have undergone in getting up this book in the splendid manner it has been executed, will be a sufficient apology for the same.

SCHOOLS.

MARION COLLEGE—The faculty of this [illegible] of whom the instruction and government of the College and Grammar are assigned, are as follows, viz:

Rev. Wm. S. Potts, President and Professor of Moral and Mental Philosophy, and Belles Lettres.

Rev. Hiram R. Campbell, Vice President and Professor of Ancient and Modern Languages.

John Thompson, A. M. Professor of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy, and Lecturer on Chemistry.

James F. Rosalie, Tutor.

As Civil Engineering has become a separate and distinct profession, and as the increasing importance of the country requires an increased number of Civil Engineers, a separate Mathematical class, for the benefit of education will be established in the College, as soon as circumstances will permit. For the Collegiate instruction in Civil Engineering will be committed to Professor Thompson, who has been engaged for upwards of years in the practice of this profession.

The Preparatory School is under the direction of Rev. Harvey H. Hayes, Principal; William H. Hayes, Assistant.

The expense amounts to about $[illegible] per annum, board in the college, at the rate of $[illegible] per week, [illegible] Those who use to board with [illegible] Fuel is two dollars per cord.

Boarding students are received into any of the above stations, under the tuition, [illegible] of a competent and useful character is required, and [illegible] good standing. A good common school education qualifies for admission into the Preparatory School; and an examination in the studies pursued in the Preparatory School qualifies for admission to the Freshman Class in College.

Students who prefer defraying a part of their expenses by manual labor, are allowed to cultivate the acres of College land, each nine of which may be Timothy meadow, by giving, each third of the time to the cultivation.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

From the experience of the want of good schools to prepare students for College, the Trustees have made arrangements for opening in the College buildings, a Grammar School, to be under the government and instruction of the Faculty, in which Boys may have the advantages to young men fitting for College. The school was opened on the 20th August last, and is therefore the usual vacation, and commences on its age or public.

The terms of the Grammar School are for entrance, $5, tuition $10 per quarter of 11 weeks, board, and washing, the same as in the college. Students under fourteen years of age will board in the Professor's family. Any number will be received into the family of the Steward, Mr. H. B. Dunn, and board, lodging, washing, fuel and lights, with the use of a common room, can be had for $[illegible] per week, or $[illegible] per week.

W. S. POTTS, President.

Marion College, Mo., Aug. 31, 1838.

METHOD OF LEARNING TO READ IN 30 LESSONS.—MR. VERNIER, surveyor, formerly of Belgium, has the honor to inform the citizens of this city, that he has adopted a method of teaching to read in 30 lessons, proportionate to the adequate method taught practice, either by private lessons, or in the public schools, at the rate of two lessons every day, from 6 o'clock in the morning to 10 at night, at 132 Chartres street, or 148 St Ann.

The professor will apply the same invariable method of teaching, according to the intelligence of pupils, to writing, orthography, arithmetic, geometry, algebra, linear drawing, geometrical construction, book-keeping, and accounts of all kinds.

DENMANSHIP, PRACTICAL & ORNAMENTAL, taught at Delbarre's writing academy, at the corner of Canal street and Exchange place. The extensive patronage which the method of teaching writing has received in various parts of the United States, and the increasing application for instructors in the science, as well as the practice of writing, has induced them to establish permanent schools in New York, New Orleans and Mobile; but it is their intention to afford greater facilities for the acquisition of penmanship, than are afforded by any other institution in the country. Persons entering one of them, have the privilege of attending either of the others, without extra charge. The ladies and gentlemen are respectfully invited to call. Specimens of the rapid improvement, given by persons from 8 to 50 years of age, who have received lessons in this city, may be seen in a portfolio at the desk.

Ladies can taught a delicate and rapidly expeditious style, also, various styles of Ornamental Writing, such as Albums, Notes of Compliment, &c.

Gentlemen are taught a free and expeditious business writing, adapted to facilitate business transactions, by dispensing with the delay incident to deciphering the illegible hieroglyphics of most men of business, and substituting in the place a style so concise and legible.

The terms of attendance are so arranged as to suit the convenience of each pupil, and the opportunities of place without hindrance to those adult or other pupils who may be engaged in business, at the rate of 7½ cents.

The number of lessons is not limited to any number, but continued until the pupil is perfectly qualified, or, if preferred, by the hour, at the rate of $[illegible] per hour.

A liberal deduction is charged unto families and to classes formed in any part of the city.

Ladies who prefer it, can receive lessons at their residences. Ornamental writing executed with neatness and dispatch.

Ladies' and gents' cards and compliment cards neatly executed.

Lessons given in the Spanish, French, Italian, and Latin languages, by a native of Spain, who has been employed for upwards of 40 years, in the service and freedom not hitherto by any other teacher, the
