TO DE MAGNIN, inventor of the "Lucina cordial or Elixir of Life."

"Respected and beloved sir,—We have all, in a variety of cases, tested the remarkable effect of your great discovery, and have assembled for the purpose of bearing evidence to the facts, and tendering you the hopes which is your due. The "Lucina cordial" is, in our opinion, an infallible remedy for the prostration of the procreative functions, and artificial barrenness, and therefore must proves a blessing to the human race. We can also bear evidence that there is nothing in it of a mercurial or deleterious nature, and, in short, that it is one of the most medicinal discoveries of any age.

"With feelings of admiration and respect, we remain, dear sir, your obedient servants,

JOSSELIN BOSSUT,
SIGISMOND DE LA MARTINE,
ADRIEN DECRAND,
OCTAVE NICOLS,
JEAN BLANC,
ROBERT STEVENSON
LOUIS CUISEAU
PIERRE BUFFON."

"LE CORDIAL DE LUCINE," or, in English, "the Lucina cordial" is a general invigorator of the human frame. In all the various cases of languor, lassitude, and debilitation, it is an unfailing remedy, as it is equally its province to impart chastity and self-desolation to the sheriff, as health and vigor to the body. But the peculiar virtue on which its celebrity is based, is the facility and certainty with which it restores the virile powers, when they have been destroyed by disease, fatigue, premature, or any of the numerous causes which terminate in the prostration of those functions.

It is common with the generality of self-good pretends that this cordial contains nothing of a mercurial or deleterious nature, among the many ingredients which compose it, but it, as the same time, so simple, yet so efficacious, that while it can remove the prostrated energies of a giant, an infant may use it, not only with impunity, but with advantage.

The usages of society are unfortunately such, that, notwithstanding the benefits which would be sure to result from it, we cannot enter into an analysis of this inestimable cordial here, or publish many of the documents which have been received as vouchers of the blessings it has conferred on numbers of despairing individuals. But this we cannot forbear remarking—that it has been demonstrated that there is scarcely ever, if any such thing at all, as natural barrenness, or as natural imbecility of the procreant functions, in either sex; and therefore, that those evils are the effects of artificial causes, and may be speedily subdued and entirely removed by the use of "Le Cordial de Lucine."

The Lucina cordial is also an indubitable cure for the gleet, and for the flour albus, obstructed, difficult, or painful menstruation; also for the incontinence of urine, or the inability to retain the same when it has once been discharged therefrom. It is likewise an invaluable and unrivalled medicine in cases of chronic eruptions of the skin, and in the dropsical affections of the aged.

For sale wholesale or retail, at 65 Poydras street. Price $4 per bottle. m14 6m

COUNTERFEIT.—The public is respectfully informed that one of the basest and most dangerous counterfeits ever attempted has lately been brought to light in the city of New York, we mean an imitation of that celebrated and really popular medicine known as "Howard's Tonic Mixture," for fever and ague.

We had but just put down an imitation called "Howard's Tonic Mixture," by L. S. Comstock & Co., when another, still more dangerous, makes its appearance from the house of "Seaman & Brothers," No. 105 Water street, N. Y., in which the fac simile of the proprietor has been counterfeited; his copy right is the best that we have yet seen, and, in fact, imitated in such a manner, that from its outward appearance, it can scarcely be detected. We would also say, that we have commenced a suit, in the United States courts, against the above "pirate," upon our rights, and request dealers to be very careful of whom they purchase the article, unless its source can be directly traced to the proprietor, or some one of his general agents, who are notified to select a class of men enjoying the utmost respect and confidence of the communities in which they reside, and who, we trust, would blush to offer any other than the true and original "Howard's Tonic Mixture," for the paltry gain of a few dollars, thereby endangering the lives of their fellow citizens.

HUMAN HAIR.—"Its certainly true, although it not generally understood, that the hair of the head always remains in the most abundant profusion, and that there not only exist more roots in the skin of every individual than hairs growing from them, but in the worst cases of baldness, that they neither perish nor are destroyed, and unless by accident or disease there should be complete derangement, or destruction of the parts which nourish and sustain them, we maintain that they (the roots) continue vigorous, and are not destroyed, or even injured, when the hair has fallen, from fevers, or from constitutional causes, either in the old or young"—[Extract from S. I. Beale & Co's treatise accompanying Beale's hair restorative.

MESSRS. L. I. BEALS & Co. invite those who are bald (in any degree) or who are losing their hair, to come to their office, 164 Broadway, up stairs, and have their Hair Restorative applied without charge until the hair is restored.

They further offer to enter into a contract with any party to restore the hair under the penalty of a forfeit of from two to five hundred dollars, said party being bound in a like sum, to be paid when the hair shall have been restored.

The original certificates of genuineness of the high standing in the city of New-York, of the Beals, 164 Broadway, showing conclusively that Beals' Hair Restorative is a very few years ago introduced into the United States, and that the extraordinary demand for it, and the numerous imitations that have been impudently palmed off on the public, are the best demonstration will be given to those who may call there.

The Hair are respectfully recommended to the public Hair Restorative, as it is certainly infallible in the cure of baldness, whether it be the result of hereditary settlement, from sickness and fashing, or from any other cause, and is recommended by most distinguished medical men, among which are Gov. Cleveland, of Rhode Island, Prof. Hand, and Chemistry.

Also—Beals' Hair Restorative will keep hair in excellent condition. And preserves a full head of hair in English, and beauty to the hair, and signed of life. Price $1 per jar. A liberal discount to those who may to sell.
