THE MARKETS.

NEW-ORLEANS, June 10, 1840.

Trade has continued since our report of Saturday last the same as it has been, fully quiet in every department. This inactivity is particularly observable in our great staples, cotton and tobacco, the causes of which are fully explained below, in our special notices of those commodities. The receipts of western produce, with the exception of one or two articles, have been very moderate, but the demand for most descriptions is extremely limited, and prices, in most instances have a downward tendency.

The river, opposite the city, is now higher than we have noticed it any time this season, but no damage has occurred to the Levee, and we believe none is apprehended.

The weather, since Friday, has been cool and pleasant with occasional showers.

COTTON.—Arrived since the 5th instant, of Louisiana and Mississippi, 2740 bales—Tennessee and North Alabama, 3321; Arkansas, 94—Mobile, 493—Florida, 93—Texas, 78; together, 6819 bales. Cleared in the same time, for Liverpool, 1202 bales—Gloucester, 2178—Marseilles, 90—Amsterdam, 632—Gottenburg, 205—Trieste, 2213—New-York, 60—Philadelphia, 12; together, 10687 bales; making a reduction in stock of 4180 bales; and leaving at this port, inclusive of the ship-board not cleared on the 9th instant, a stock of 182,451 bales.

Since our review of Saturday morning last, the cotton market has been in a more dull and inactive state than we have known it to be during the present season, the sales for the three days having only averaged about 200 bales per day. This want of animation in the market may be attributed in some degree to the limited stock on sale, particularly of Louisiana and Mississippi cottons, for which descriptions there is still the greatest inquiry, but the scarcity of vessels and continued high rates of freight, and the unwillingness of holders to yield any material concessions, may be mentioned as the most prominent causes, as buyers no longer seem disposed to operate extensively at such full prices as have lately prevailed. Some of the sales made yesterday showed a slight downward tendency in the market, but former quotations have on the whole been fully sustained, and we therefore continue them unaltered. We notice the sales particularly as follows, viz.—156 bales Louisiana and Mississippi at 6 5-16@7 2d at 8½—236 at 6½—20 at 11—251 at 7—82 at 7½—30 at 8½—69 at 9½—21 at 7½—31 at 7½—77 at 7½—25 at 8½—45 at 8½—23 at 8½—30 at 7½—600 at 7½—43 at 8½—143 at 7½—35 at 8½—61 at 7½—27 at 8½—219 at 7½—266 Western Distrigs at 7; and 23 Arkansas at 6½ 6¾ cents.

TOBACCO.—There has been very little business doing in this article since our report of Saturday morning last; the great difficulty of procuring vessels, together with the extreme ideas of holders, some of whom are asking rather higher rates for strictly fine parcels, having deterred buyers from operating freely. The stock, actually on sale at this market, is fully very high, and chiefly composed of common lots, while the demand continues to be principally for fine qualities. Prices remain without change, for the latter, viz.—5½ and 7½c for X, seconds and firsts; common lots 3½, fair 5, good 6½ and 8; and fine lots, 11@5, 7 and 9; selections, 5, 7½ and 9½c. We have to note the sales to-day, viz.—10 hds at 3½ for X, 6½ for seconds, and 8½c for firsts: 15 hds at 4@5c. Arrived since the 5th instant, 125 hds. Cleared in the same time, for Marseilles, 216 hds—Leghorn, 325—Bordeaux, 125—New-York, 18—Philadelphia, 30; together 723 hds.

SUGAR—Louisiana.—A rather better demand has existed within the last few days, particularly for prime sugars, which have advanced fully a quarter of a cent, and we now quote the general range of the market at 5@6c. The stock on hand is moderate, and is almost entirely in the hands of those who hold firmly at the improvement above noticed, and in most instances claim a further slight advance on strictly prime qualities; indeed, we are informed of one sale of fully very choice at a fraction above our highest figure. Inferior and middling qualities are in but little request, and remain about our former figures. There is some inquiry for Havana plantation, and we understand offers have been made for several crops, but we cannot learn that any transactions have been closed since our last.

MOLASSES.—The Levee has a rather better supply, but no improvement has taken place in the demand, which is confined to limited transactions. Prices, however, remain the same as last quoted—say 13@13c ⅌ gallon, in barrels. We have heard of no sales on plantation to some day past.

FLOUR—During the few days which have succeeded our report of Saturday last, the market has been almost without demand,—there are some parcels of which there is little or none at present,—there having, so far as we can learn, been only a few limited sales for consumption. These small transactions have ranged from $3 62½@3 75, but the former figure has been the only rate we have heard of for some time, and we now place our quotations at $3 62½ for superfine. The receipts, though larger than last noticed, are still light, and the stock on sale is moderate, and we do not anticipate any inquiry for export renders the market exceedingly dull, but prices seem to have a decided tendency to a further decline.

COFFEE.—Several arrivals from Cuba within the last few days have given the market a better supply and prices have slightly yielded; thought there is a good demand and our highest figures are still obtained for some fine parcels. We quote Havana prime green at 10½@11c, remarking that most of the transactions are at 10@10½c. Rio remains at 11@12c, with only a small quantity in market for sale.

BEEF—All descriptions are in but limited demand, and prices have slightly given way. We now quote western mess at $13 25@13 50 ⅌ bbl, do in half bbls $7 50@8 00, Prime in barrels, to which description the enquiry is principally confined, $12@12 50.

PORK—The demand, during the last few days, has been more limited than for some time past, but prices have maintained with firmness on the part of holders, and we now quote mess at $16, M O $14 25@14 50, prime $12 50, P O $11 50@11 62½.

BACON.—We have no transactions to take in this article beyond a very limited demand for consumption. These small transactions have at our former range of quotations, for canvassed hams 10 cents, green sides 6 ½@7, sides 7½@8, shoulders 6½@5 cents.

LARD.—The market continues extremely dull, there being no demand for export, and there are only transactions we have to notice are very limited sales for consumption, which range at 10@10½ cents. The greater part of the stock still held under limits.

GRAIN.—Shelled corn, in sacks, is now selling at 35@38 cents per bushel, but meets with only a limited demand. Oats 37@38 cents per bushel. There is very little doing in wheat. The only sale we have heard of for several days, is a few hundred bushels prime at 90 cents.

SALT.—The import of Liverpool sacks salt, since our last report, is about 2700 sacks, the greater part of which has been sold at 62½c for coarse and fine. Our quotations are for parcels from store.

LEAD.—None has been received during the last few days, and we have heard of no sales.

RICE—The market has received no further supplies for some days, and is extremely bare of strictly prime qualities. The stock of ordinary to fair qualities is fully adequate to the demand, which is only for limited parcels from store at $3 50@3 ⅌ per 100 lbs.

CANDLES.—There are no sperm in first hands, so our quotations, therefore, are merely nominal. The first price is will probably command a considerable advance on our figures.

LIME.—We have no change to note in this article. Limeburns are still made at $2 25@2 50 ⅌ cask.

HAY.—Prices remain the same—say $7@8 ⅌ 100 lb. No further parcels of Northern have come to our notice.

WHISKEY.—The receipts since our last report have been unusually large, while only a moderate demand has existed, and the consequence has been a considerable decline in the prices then current. We now quote rectified at 22c. per gallon.

EXCHANGE—Both English and French lies been in a little more request during the last few days, but the rates remain the same as before quoted—say for sterling 9@9½ per cent, and for bills on Paris 5f. The sales for Northern exchange have remain unstirred, and the supply and demand are both limited.

FREIGHTS.—The arrival of some five or six ships within the last few days, has caused a little more activity in Foreign freights, though no alteration has taken place in the rates. We notice the engagement of three ships for Liverpool at 7d per cotton, and the filling up of two ships that were previously on the berth for the same port, with only small portions of their cargoes engaged, at the same rate. Also a ship for Havre at 5c. per cotton. There is a fair amount of freight offering coastwise, and the rates are without material change.
