Silver Mine in Lexville.—Strange as it may appear it is no less strange than true, that there has lately been discovered about half a mile west of this village, a silver mine, containing some very rich specimens of the ore which have been exhibited in the village to the wonder and astonishment of many of our good citizens, to gother with a small bar of the pure rhino which had been separated from the ore.—Not having visited this bed of riches ourselves, we are unable to give any particular account of it. A company has been formed for the purpose of working the mine under the name and style (without doubt for we printer are entirely in the dark upon the subject) of the Lexville Silver Mining Company, who have erected a Forge near the spot, and we understand will in a few weeks commence operations, when our readers expect to hear more upon the subject.
Another Mine.—A lead mine has been discovered near the village of Martinsburg, which is represented to be very valuable.
Portland, (Jam) Nov. 8.
At a numerous and respectable meeting of the inhabitants of this Parish, convened by His Honor the Custos, Maurice Jones, Esq. in the Chair, the Requisition for calling the Meeting having been read, it was unanimously agreed, that an Address be presented to His Honor Sir John Keane, expressive of deep regret at his approaching retirement from the Civil Government of this Colony; That the Address now read, be adopted, and that our worthy Members be requested to take an early opportunity of presenting the same.
Resolved, That the Members of this Parish be requested to support any motion that may be brought forward in the House of Assembly, for the purpose of presenting His Honor Sir John Keane with some token of our esteem.
That our thanks are justly due to the Custos for calling this Meeting, and we regret that indisposition and inclemency of the weather have prevented his attendance.
Maurice Jones, Esq. having left the Chair, and Henry James Passley, Esq. being called thereto.
It was Resolved, That the Thanks of this Meeting be given to Mr. Jones for his impartial conduct in the Chair.
To His Honor Major-General Sir J. KEANE, K.C.B. Lieut.-Governor and Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Island of Jamaica.
May it please your Honor,
We, the Magistrates, Freeholders, and other Inhabitants of the Parish of Portland, beg leave to approach your Honor with unfeigned regret at your expected retirement from the Government of this Island, over which you have presided with universal satisfaction to every class of its inhabitants.
It has been your constant study to acquire every necessary information of the population and capabilities of this Colony by your own indefatigable exertions, in confirmation of which among many other instances, we need only mention your laborious tour to inspect the whole Militia force of the Island.
As Chancellor, your conduct has been constantly marked by justice and integrity; under your disinterested rule, unnecessary delay and expense have been banished from that Court, which has now become what it was originally intended to be, by the wisdom of past ages—a Court of Equity.
We cannot refrain from expressing our marked sense of the decision, and upright, and conscientious motives which have distinguished your whole conduct in this Island; and deeply to regret your retirement from the Government at this eventful period, we find some consolation in reflecting, that services and talents like yours will not remain unrewarded by your most gracious Sovereign.

Wherever you go, you will carry with you our warmest wishes for your health, prosperity, and happiness.
MURICE JONES,
Chairman.
SIR John's answer:
I feel highly honored by the Address of the Magistrates, Freeholders, and other Inhabitants of the Parish of Portland.
That my conduct in the performance of my duties, as Lieutenant-Governor of Jamaica, has called forth the approbation of so respectable a portion of its inhabitants, and that my motives have been justly appreciated by them, cannot fail to give me very sincere pleasure, and I am truly grateful for their warm expressions of regret on my retiring from this Government.

A friend thus notices a newly published work, entitled "Tabular Statistical Views of the United States, by Watterston and Van Zandt."—Dec. 1828.
This useful work has just been published, and contains all the official accounts that have appeared since the formation of the government, concerning the population, revenue, commerce, public debt, public lands, post-office establishment, and the army and navy of the United States. It is unnecessary to enlarge upon the utility of this condensed account of the statistics of the country. The statesman and legislator will perceive the advantages of having all these essential materials of legislation comprehended in one volume; and the merchant and lawyer will be sensible of the economy, both of time and money, in being able to find the subjects of daily reference, in one, instead of twenty volumes. The value of the topics contained in this work, form a better recommendation than any we can give, and we make these remarks rather with the view of calling the attention of the public to the work, than of commenting upon its obvious utility.
[From the N. Y. Statesman.]
Savannah Canal.—Extract of a letter dated at Savannah.—"I am happy to inform you, that a bill authorizing the Governor to subscribe forty-four thousand dollars of stock to the canal, uniting the Savannah and Ogeechee rivers, has passed both houses of the Legislature. This sum will be sufficient to finish the canal to the Ogeechee, and there is but little doubt that it will now go to the Alatomaha."
The above mentioned Canal of about 15 miles, beginning at the city of Savannah, will be finished for use in the course of the year 1829. It is the first link in the chain of Canal already projected, to unite the waters of the Tennessee and Flint. (the latter emptying into the Gulf of Mexico,) with the waters of the Savannah, and will complete an inland navigation from N. Orleans to Savannah.
Singular effect of Beauty on a young man.—Sishop Dupuy invited one day to dinner, two clergymen and three ladies he noticed that during the whole repast, the youngest of the two clergymen had his eyes steadily fixed on one of the ladies who was very handsome. The Bishop, after dinner, when the ladies had retired, asked him what he thought of the beauty he had just been looking at. The clergyman answered, "My lord, in looking at the lady, I was reflecting that her beautiful forehead will one day be covered with wrinkles; that the coral on her lips will pass on her eyes, the vivacity of which will be extinguished; that the ivory of her teeth will be changed to ebony; that to the lilies and roses of her complexion the withered appearance of care will become a dreary parchment; that her agreeable smiles will be converted into grimaces; and that at length, she will become the anti-dote of love." I never should have supposed, said the Bishop, that the sight of a fine woman would have inspired a young man with such profound meditations.

Borrowing Newspapers.—The editorial address of a new paper, called the Times, published at Petersburg, Va. concludes with a request, which subscribers to all papers ought to comply with. It is "that no one will lend his papers; and that if he values by own convenience, or cares any thing for our interest he will not fail to comply with. Should any neighbor prefer so unreasonable a request. Send him, in return for the empty compliment, the sole recommendation to go and subscribe."
The borrowing of newspapers is a very unfair and hardly honorable practice. Suppose the principle should be extended, and that people should take it into their heads to borrow the goods and wares of tradesmen, instead of purchasing them—what a pretty passage would stare if one should see a for the loan of a pair of boots, saying, that "he only wanted to wear them?" Yet people borrow a newspaper: they only want to read it." For what other purpose is a newspaper published!

[N. Y. Gaz.]
The bitter bit.—In the reign of Charles II. a physician to the court was walking with the king in the gallery of Windsor Castle, when they saw a man repairing a clock fixed there. The physician knowing the king's relish for a joke, accosted the man with "My good friend, you are continually doctering that clock, and yet it never goes well. Now if I were to treat my patients in such a way, I should lose all my credit. What can the reason be that you mistake so egregiously?" The man dryly replied. "The reason why you and I, Sir, are not upon a par is plain enough; the sun disobeys all my blunders, but the earth covers yours." [Mirror.]
