NEW-ORLEANS, FRIDAY EVENING, JANUARY 22, 1841.

We have nothing of any particular interest to advert to in relation to the transactions of the last few days; our special remarks below contain such information as we are able to give—The weather has at length cleared up, and business, no doubt will be more animated during the ensuing week.

COTTON.—Arrived since the 19th inst. of Louisiana and Mississippi, 4,869 bales—Tennessee and North Alabama, 298—Ark. ansas, 363—Mobile, 60; together, 5,589 bales; making the total receipts since 1st October, 367,187 bales, against 309,491 this season previous. Cleared in the same time, for Liverpool, 272 bales—Havana, 597—N. York, 475—Boston, 28—Norfolk, 92; together, 1,264 bales; making an addition to stock of 1,861 bales; and leaving on hand inclusive of all on shipboard not cleared this day, a stock of 147,137 bales, against 106,127 bales at the same time last year.

We have again a very limited business to report in cotton since our review of Tuesday evening last. The cause of this inactivity may be principally traced to the fact, that buyers have been engaged in receiving their prior heavy purchases, which have been accumulating for nearly three weeks past, in consequence of the inclemency of the weather.—Large dates from Liverpool and Havre were received the day before yest. r day to the 8th and 9th ult., representing the former market as having closed firm at old prices; and in Havre, owing to an active demand, he rates had undergone a trifling improvement. These accounts have exercised no influence on our own market; prices are the same as last quoted, although some lots may have been bought on rather easier terms. The sales for the week ending this evening amount to 13,000 bales, and during the last three days ending at 6 P O 8 bales; among which we notice 1,000 bales Louisiana and Mississippi, at 8½ @ 9 @ 10 bales Mobile, at 9 @ 9½—150 do do, 9½—150 do do, 9¾—150 do do 9—78 at 10—300 at 8, —707 at 9; 165 at 9; and 100 at 9 o. ata.

TOBACCO.—The article is coming in unusually fast for this early period of the year, and the stock on hand is now considerable to about 1,000 hhds. the greater part of which is not yet inspected. We have not heard of any transactions since our last, with the exception of 14 hhds at 2½ and 1 Fair at 3 cents. Our previous quotations rem in unaltered, say for inferior lots, 3½@4, 4; and 7½; common lots, 5, 5½, and 6 cents. Fair lots, 6½, 7, and 8½—Fine lots, 8 and 10—Selections, 9½, 10 and 10½ @ 11 cts.

SUGAR.—Although the market still continues unsettled, we have had a succession of two dry days, which has imparted a greater degree of activity to the market than we had previously seen since the commencement of the season; the transactions embrace about 700 hhds at the rates generally prevailing, from 4½@5½, as to more quality as continues to run, and a few parcels of superior quality at 5½@5¾—Quotations on plantation are for such as have ascertained, have been very limited amounting in all to 200 hhds, partly at 5½@5¾—Sales in bulk range from 4½@5 cents.

MOLASSES.—We have nothing of moment to notice in regard to this article—The demand has of late been very slight, and the stock, now in the hands of the merchants, is not yet in a condition to be forced into market, so as to accommodate any extent. Sales of good shipping lots are readily effected at 31¢, and the market is firm. We notice a sale of 5,000 gallons on plantation at 27¢.

FLOUR.—The transactions in the flour market since our review of Tuesday evening last, have been on not exceedingly limited scale, which may be attributed to the gloomy state of the weather, influencing as it always does in a very natural degree the operations in this article. During the last two days, however, we have been generally engaged in receiving and shipping their prior purchases, and we cannot look for much activity until the weather effectually clears up. We do not alter our previous quotations, which were $4 12½ to $4 25 for superfine, although we would observe, that the only sale of any note, have been effected at the former rate, and that we offer slowly at $4 25, and the market closes heavily, with a tendency to decline. The receipts continue very large, and the letters from the Ohio will be the means of pouring immense quantities into our city.

PORK.—The market remains in precisely the same state noticed in our preceding review, and nothing offers to induce us to render any additional remarks necessary. The transactions are extremely limited, and have chiefly been effected in the broadest qualities, at $6 50 @ $6 75, and $9 50 for prime. We would observe, that fine new hogets are disposed to get rid of their stocks of mess at our quotations but are generally asking $9 12½ for prime, and $10 for mess. P O 500—P O, 500 @ $6 50 @ $6 75. We have not heard of any sales of silk port, and continue it at $9.

BEEF.—The market continues to maintain the same state of inactivity alluded to previously, and sales have been extremely limited at our quotations—Mess, in barrels, $15; half barrels, $8 50 @ $9—Prime, in barrels, $12; stock on sale has been considerably reduced by the late heavy operations for export.

LARD.—We have nothing to add to our former review. The market continues depressed, and transactions very limited. We quote canvassed Hams Cincinnati cured, 10 @ 11½; ditto ditto city smoked, 9 @ 10½—Sides, 7½@7¾—Shoulders, 4 @ 5 cts.

WHISKEY.—The inquiry for this article throughout the week has been somewhat improved, and a very highest price which rectified will command at this, recent moment, 19 @ 20 cents is common in market.

BAGGING AND BALE ROPE.—The fall rise that has taken place on our last date of the market has not been received by any inquiry whatever, nor is such likely to be the case for some time to come. Our prices stand as follows, viz: Kentucky, 10½@11—India, 30@33—Scotch, 16 @ 17¢—German, 14 @ 15—Russia, 20 @ 22—Dundee, 14 @ 15—Kentucky Rope, 9 @ 9½—Northern, 4 @ 7½ cts.

KENTUCKY COTTON GOODS.—This branch of trade does not afford the least change to note, and our quotations are precisely the same as previously noted—Linseys, 14 twilled, 30¢; Negro Jeans, do do 30¢; Kentucky Jeans, 4-4 wide, 18¢.

COFFEE.—There is a very steady demand; the market is firmly maintained at our quotations, viz: Havana, prime green ws quotes at 11½@11¾; interior dest ripe, 10½@11¢. We notice some large sales Rio, at 11½¢, on time.

OIL.—We have no change to report in this article; the demand is fair. Fall sperm, $1 18@$1 20—Winter-strained $1 25 @ $1 30; Whale Oil, 30 @ 32¢.

CANDLES.—The market is very heavy, and considerable stock on sale, part of which continues to be sold at lists shown our figures. We quote New Bedford, 4¾; Nantucket 4¾ cts.

LEAD.—None in market, and prices are nominal, at $4 50. Small lots continue to arrive, which are immediately transhipped to northern ports.

EXCHANGE.—We have no particular alteration to notice in the rates; Exchange on the north has slightly improved. Sterling 8½@9 per cent—Francs, 5 @ 5½ cts—New York, ½ @ ¾ per cent. dis.—Sight Checks, 1½ @ 1¾ per cent. prem.

FOR GOVERNOR,

HENRY JOHNSON,

Subject to the decision of the Whig State Convention

NEW-ORLEANS:
SATURDAY MORNING, JAN 23, 1841.

PENNSYLVANIA.

The message of Governor PORTER contains many judicious passages, and is upon the whole a very fair document for a Locofoco executive. His excellency speaks of the resumption of specie payments as about to take place; and recommends that the future suspension of any bank operate ipso facto a forfeiture of its charter. A recommendation too unqualified, we think, for the times. The banks of Pennsylvania go into resumption upon compulsion of law, under circumstances which diminish the confidence of many of their being able to maintain specie payments for any great length of time. These institutions are so intimately connected with the business of the people, that the embarrassments of the public are equally felt by them, and vice versa; and the frequent accommodations afforded to the state, in exigencies when no other resource was available, might have elicited a more lenient policy towards them. Extreme measures are hardly proper whilst the financial affairs of the country are in such confusion.

The public debt of Pennsylvania is stated at $36,790,773.

The public property of the state, including bank and other stocks, moneys due on land, the value of public works, is estimated at $36,498,370.

These resources are not, however, available, for the payment of principal or interest on the public debt, and a temporary loan is recommended to meet the interest falling due the 1st February.

The following passage evinces a just sense of the obligations of national honor, and shows Gov. McNUTT, of Mississippi, "alone in his glory" [illegible] only executive who has [illegible] which he presides: long may he enjoy this unenviable notoriety.

"I can neter consent, by word or deed, to countenance the idea that the faith of the state can be violated by a failure to meet her engagements. If there be a single one in our country who would be willing, if they were able, to abrogate the contracts of the commonwealth, and be faithless to her creditors let their doctrine be distinctly avowed and the issue fairly made up before the people. The intelligence and integrity of our citizens would speedily convince the world that they feel the necessity in a republican government of maintaining, unsullied, public faith and national honor."

The above passage, like charity, would cover a multitude of defects.

The message recommends that no appropriations for internal improvements be made, except to complete certain works nearly finished.

The governor advises the passage of a law, authorizing the canal commissioners to treat with the authorities of New York, for such a correction of the improvements of both states as may be advantageous to each.

The message touches very lightly upon the causes of commercial embarrassment; ascribing it to the excess of importation of silk and other articles of luxury, and recommends economical habits to the citizens generally.

The message enlarges upon the advantages derived from geological surveys of the state—which are set in progress. The abundant mineral resources of the state are spoken of in the following terms:—

"Throughout the whole extent of her ample territory, there is scarcely a square mile, which does not abound in some or all the great staples of her mineral wealth. Anthracite coal, bituminous coal, iron, marble and limestone, have been scattered by nature with a most profuse hand, and have been hitherto worked barely enough to prove, with what prodigality they have been lavished upon us. The coal field of our commonwealth embraces more than one fifth of its area, and would, on three times, as much as belongs to entire Europe. Connected with the coal, which abounds in so large a portion of the commonwealth, we have large supplies of iron ore, almost in immediate contact with it. In addition thereto, we have, within convenient distances, almost all other varieties of iron ore found in every part of the world."

The adaptation of anthracite coal to the smelting of iron ore, has been followed by its successful and profitable application in the further stages of the manufacture of the metal, and that the same results will speedily follow from the application of bituminous coal, is by the leaders of iron, almost absolute certainty.

While the iron manufactured with charcoal, will always be wanted for the finer purposes, and the demand for it, increased by the natural increase of the population of the country, that that manufactured from mineral coal will be employed in the construction of rail roads, and for innumerable other purposes. This discovery must stand as a distinguished era in the annals of our commonwealth. It cannot fail to add millions of dollars to her active and available capital, and will ere long transfer to our own citizens most, if not all of the large sums that are now annually sent abroad for refined iron, and other iron manufactured articles. The manufacture of these numerous and valuable commodities will not only result in enriching Pennsylvania, but will cut off a large item in the imports of this country, tend to emancipate us from European dependence, enable our sister states to complete their rail roads at a cheaper and better rate, and strengthen the National Union, by the strongest of all ties, that of mutual interest.

ORPHANS.

The Rev. Mr. MULLEN will preach a charity sermon to morrow morning at St. Patrick's church, Camp street, at half past 10 o'clock. A collection will be made for the benefit of the Orphan Boys Asylum, at Lafayette, recently destroyed by fire. Give freely, and cheer the beating heart of the children of misfortune. The recording angel will not suffer the charity of the congregation to be forgotten on the great day of settlement.

CONVENTION BILL,

The convention bill of the house of representatives passed its second reading in the senate, yesterday, by a vote of 9 to 5. It will, in all probability, pass to day.

The contested election from St Bernard, is undergoing thorough investigation by the committee on elections. GEO AY BYRNS, esq, is the returned member, whose seat is contested by Mr. PIERRE JONES, on the score of illegal votes. This controversy will consume much of the time of the house.

FIRE.

A fire broke out yesterday, a few minutes after 12 o'clock, noon, in brick house, situated at the corner of Tchoupitoulas and St. Joseph streets. It was extinguished before the building had suffered material damage.

Governor SEWARD in his last message says, "Of one thousand and fifty eight children in the alms house of the city of New York, one-sixth part is of American parentage, one-sixth was born abroad, and the remainder are the children of foreigners."

The Maine papers announce the death of chief justice MELLEN. He was once a senator in congress, and filled a large space in the public eye. Though 76 years old when he died, his faculties had escaped the impairment of time.

ARREST OF MAIL ROBBERS.—A letter from Unionville, Pa., states that four of the villains concerned in the recent extensive mail robberies, were arrested on the 7th at that place. In the possession of one of them were found some mail pouches, trunks, &c, and about his premises $10,386, part of which the agent says, he "discovered, upon hasty examination, to be the money mailed in Louisville, by Tyler,"

☞ The latest philosophical discovery has been made in England. Certain illustrious individuals have found the heir (air) apparent—Picayune.

This reminds us of an old conundrum. Why is a man's breath, of a frosty morning, like the prince of Wales?

Because it is heir (air) apparent.

☞ The weather is in a state of great dubiety—whether to rain, clear off, warm or cold, or snow. Within the last 24 hours we have had premonitory symptoms of every sort of weather.

We concur, with the Picayune in wishing RESIDE to take the mail contract between this city and Louisville.

Mr. FRANCES HOMER of Templeton, near Montreal, is said to be the happy (?) mother of twenty-nine children.

☞ We are indebted, to the politeness of the officers of the steamboat Independence, for the late Cincinnati and Louisville papers.

By the steamer Gov. Morehead we have received Arkansas papers of a late date.

☞ We are requested to call the attention of the public to the positive sale of a valuable three story brick dwelling on Carondelet street, in the Building Company's Row, and valuable improved property situated in the first municipality on Bourbon and Bienville streets; and several fine building lots in the second municipality near the river.

The sale takes place this day at 12 o'clock, at the Arcade Exchange, by Hewlett & Cenas.

☞ The steamer Gov. Morehead, Capt. Wm. Cummins, commanding, left Louisville on the morning of the 13th, with the largest cargo of produce ever before shipped from that place. Her manifest shows the following articles, viz: 1,000 barrels of pork, 1,000 barrels of flour, 1,000 sacks of corn, 1,000 sacks of oats, 1,000 sacks of bran, 1,000 sacks of potatoes, 1,000 sacks of shorts, 1,000 sacks of middlings, 1,000 sacks of wheat, 1,000 sacks of rye, 1,000 sacks of buckwheat, 1,000 sacks of meal, 1,000 sacks of hominy, 1,000 sacks of feed, 1,000 sacks of bacon, 1,000 sacks of lard, 1,000 sacks of beans, 1,000 sacks of dried apples, 1,000 sacks of dried peaches, 1,000 sacks of dried pumpkins, 1,000 sacks of potatoes, 1,000 sacks of onions, 1,000 sacks of cabbages, 1,000 sacks of turnips, 1,000 sacks of beets, 1,000 sacks of parsnips, 1,000 sacks of carrots, 1,000 sacks of sweet potatoes, 1,000 sacks of pumpkins, 1,000 sacks of squashes, 1,000 sacks of cucumbers, 1,000 sacks of tomatoes, 1,000 sacks of beans, 1,000 sacks of peas, 1,000 sacks of corn meal, 1,000 sacks of rye meal, 1,000 sacks of buckwheat
