THE ELECTION.

The following is the result of the election held in this city for three representatives to the legislature:—

| | 1st Member. | 2d. | 3d. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| J. M. Duncan, | 287 | 317 | 125 | 729 |
| Geo. K. Rodgers, | 234 | 347 | 52 | 633 |
| E. A. Canon, | 315 | 120 | 157 | 592 |
| A. J. Lewis, | 280 | 109 | 187 | 576 |
| McCaleb, | 162 | 317 | 24 | 503 |
| E. Montegut, | 103 | 10 | 81 | 194 |
| T. D. McNeil, | 122 | 31 | 16 | 169 |
| J. H. Caldwell, | 16 | 87 | 4 | 107 |
| T. Sullivan, | 2 | 3 | — | 5 |

The three first are elected. The whigs lose one member—a loss of little consequence, as their majority in joint ballot is still five. But the result is fraught with admonition to the whigs. They ought to have elected an entire ticket, instead of frittering their votes on seven or eight candidates, and suffering their adversaries to run in one lot or two by pluralers. Had certain individuals calling themselves whigs acted as such, this unfavorable result would not have occurred. We are glad to see the candidates who ran on their own hook rebuked by insignificant votes. They have, however, one consolation—that of having secured the success of a hoaxer.

Much apathy was exhibited during the election and the number of votes polled not one fourth of that cast in November last.

PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS.

In the Senate on the 25th August, the morning hour was consumed by Mr. Benton in certain doleful attitudes at wit on the subject of the new bank bill. He declared it should be called a "contraceptive" or "the meal tub bark," or the "shakepoke," and diluted on each of these titles with his usual acumen, ingenuity, erudition and dignity.

The debate on the land bill was then resumed, the bill being on its third reading. Mr. Archer made an able argument on the constitutional power to distribute. He was followed by Messrs. Woodbury, Tappan, Walker, Sevier and Wright, when the senate adjourned with an understanding that the final vote should be taken the next day at 3 o'clock.

In the House the bill appropriating certain sums for the payment of the post office debt, contracted prior to the 1st March, 1841, was debated in committee of the whole.

After a diatribe against the post-master general by Cave Johnson, Mr. Arnold, of Tennessee, spoke for an hour in a tone of much severity against the president denouncing his course in very emphatic terms. Mr. Stanly replied condemning such unqualified reprobation, and declaring that Mr. Tyler had not yet forfeited his confidence—beseeching the whigs to judge the president by his acts, and not to condemn him too hastily. Mr. Stanly's speech was distinguished by good temper and good feeling, without forfeiting a jot of independence.

Mr Botts answered Mr. Stanley. He considered that the conduct of the president was the basest treachery to the party. He spoke only for himself: these were his opinions, as the sentiments in his letter were his only. He added that he believed that the president designed to cut off all union with the whig party and join the opposition. In the course of his remarks Mr Botts explained that the "letter," concerning which so much had been said, was a private missive, surreptitiously obtained and published to the world when known as a private letter.

The debate was further continued by Messrs. Proffit, Payne and Cushing, and was concluded by a passage at arms between Messrs. Marshall and Wise, of which unfortunately, no sketch is to be found in the Washington papers. After which the house adjourned.

HEALTH OF THE CITY. The number of interments reported to the Board of Health for the 24 hours ending yesterday at noon, is 27, of which 11 were yellow fever.

REPORT OF THE CHARITY HOSPITAL.—During the 24 hours ending yesterday evening at 6 o'clock.

Admissions 25, of which 16 yellow fever.
Deaths 6, " 5 do.
Discharges 16, " 9 do.
Number of patients remaining in the hospital, 359.

SUSPENSION. The Union Bank of Montreal suspended specie payments in New York on the 25th ult. There was a large collection of laborers around the door of H. Gray & Co., who had been the managers of the business. The individuals collected were several of them Irishmen, who said they received the money the night before, in payment for corporation work now going on in Wall street.

MEXICO.

We have received our Siete de Tampico papers to the 24 August. They contain but little news.

Some of the journals attempting to prove that the law imposing an additional duty of 15 per cent. on imported goods, is not as unjust and onerous as is pretended. The excitement on the subject is, however, so high, that in some of the towns in the interior, the people are preparing to resist it by force, if it be not repealed.

The Mexican press speaks in very harsh terms of Texas, and of the Indian people of that State in general.—It abuses Yucatan and Tabasco without mercy and represents those provinces as plunged in distress and oppressed by despotism. Our information on this subject leads us to doubt altogether the correctness of these assertions.

It is said that Santa Ana is making extensive preparations for attacking by sea and land, first Tabasco and Yucatan and then Texas. But so much has been already said on the matter, and so little done, that we feel tempted to place no faith whatever in these rumors, and to believe them the mere abolition of national arrogance.

It is stated in one of the accounts of the late horrid catastrophe at Syracuse, that twenty-five barrels of gunpowder had been deposited in the carpenter's house where the fire originated—yet no one knew of the fact. How came such a deposite in that place? very properly asks the National Intelligencer. We have had reports for a week or two past, of secret preparations for another invasion of the British frontier, and of depositions of munitions and means for these hostilities stealthily, and some by actual theft, as in the case of the State's cannon stolen. Was this quantity of gunpowder concealed in a carpenter's shop, one of those deposits? This is a point well worth looking into, and should it turn out to be as we suspect, it is hoped that every real patriot in part of the country—every man who values the peace and welfare of his own country, and abhors ruffianism in any form or guise, will be on the alert to detect and defeat the plans of the conspirators against their country's honor and against the peace of the frontier.

The Charleston Patriot is confident the President will veto the Bank Bill—the National Gazette has information from "a very direct source" that he will sanction it. We believe with the Patriot that the bill will be vetoed—but it has not yet passed the Senate.

FROM FLORIDA.—The latest advices mention that twenty-five or thirty of "Tigertail's band had come in. At Tampa there are now about 250 Indians ready to be sent West.

Two companies of U. S. troops have been ordered to the Aroostook, to relieve the civil posse maintained by Gov. Kent.

Some of the New York papers are endeavoring to prove by circumstantial evidence that the body of the murdered young woman found at Hoboken, was not that of Miss Rodgers. The Advertiser observes, that perhaps the strongest argument against such views, is the fact of the unaccountable disappearance of Miss Rodgers.

UNITED STATE OFFICER SUSPENDED.—It is stated, says the Newark Daily Advertiser, that Captain Latimer, late commander of the United States ship Cyane, had been sentenced by a General Court Martial to five years suspension, with loss of pay and rank, for cruelty to his crew.

The Hon. Gideon Lee, well known as a merchant and politician in New York, died lately at his residence in the vicinity of Geneva.

LATEST FROM RIO JANEIRO.

The brig Earl, Noyes, arrived this morning from Rio, after a passage of 37 days. Among the vessels left we notice the United States ship Concord and schooner Enterprise.

Captain Noyes informs us that on the 16th of July, Don Pedro, accompanied by a large procession, marched into Rio, preparatory to his being crowned Emperor of Brazil, which was to take place on Sunday, the 18th. When the Exit left the streets of Rio were decorated with garlands. The city was illuminated on the night of the 16th.—Commercial Adv.

THE CROPS.—The Savannah Georgian of Thursday says—A friend has informed us that his letters from the upper counties of this State give pleasing accounts of the crops up to this date. The late heavy rains had not extended above Augusta, and we are gratified to learn that our friends, the planters, are cheered with the prospect of a full crop this coming season. We say, may their hopes be realized and their honorable industry amply rewarded.

It would please us to say as much for the Sea Island planters. We have heard that they have suffered considerably, and hope that our future accounts of the Sea Island cotton crop will be more favorable.

HENRY CLAY TO THE WHIGS.

In the concluding part of his noble speech on the veto, after speaking of the buoyant hopes with which he had come to the Extra Session, and the exertions the whigs had made to pass such measures as would give relief to the country, Mr. Clay uttered the following elevated and patriotic sentiment and exhortation to his friends:

"COME WHAT MAY, LET US DO OUR DUTY, OUR WHOLE DUTY, AND NOTHING SHORT OF OUR DUTY. WE OWE THIS TO THE COUNTRY, AND LET US NOT FALL SHORT OF IT."

Pass the sentiment round, re-echo it, and let it be our governing principle.

TEN THOUSAND WHIGS.

[U. S. Gaz.]

The sentiment is worthy of the illustrious Senator, and the noble patriotism, which has never ceased to animate all his exertions for his country. It is a sentiment which will find an echo in the bosoms of the whigs of the land. It will incite them to renewed and redoubled efforts to achieve the great practical reforms for which they have toiled through years.

Richmond Whig.

RUINS IN CENTRAL AMERICA

For some time past the Chevalier Frederichsthal, attache of the Austrian Legation, has been exploring the ruins of Central America. Perhaps no one better fitted for the labor than this gentleman could have been induced to undertake it. Belonging to a noble family at home and of manners and attainments in science, his labor was undertaken merely for the advancement of science itself, and with the expectation of no reward but the reputation that should follow his success.

This gentleman travelled by himself, lived like the Indians, and at night encamped on the ground as one of them. So he spent the last nine months in that country, and during that time has been among the ruins of cities where the foot of a white man never was before, and which are unknown even to the most recent travellers. He mentions the ruins of one colonnade where there are yet ten rows of columns, in each of which are 18 columns—in all 180 columns. He had with him a complete Daguerreotype apparatus, and has taken a great number of views of remarkable ruins. This often required two Indians to hold his table against the force of the wind, two also to keep steady the apparatus, others to protect it from the sun, &c.

We had yesterday the pleasure of seeing these impressions at his hotel, and they surpass any thing of the kind which we have seen, in distinctness and excellence. From the impressions taken in the open air, he has made drawings which show the original, in their richness, elegance and finish, to be the work of a highly cultivated people. The work of Messrs. Stephens and Catherwood was on the table, and its sketches were compared with the Daguerreotype, when the sketches in every case were found defective, imperfect and different from the impressions. No idea can be formed from them of the perfection of art with which these structures are finished, as revealed in the impressions and their magnified drawings.

The impressions of Uxmal when compared with the sketches of Palenque, show a far more advanced state of cultivation by the inhabitants of the latter place. The ornaments on the temples signify that their religion was of a most sensual kind.

In some future year it is expected that this invaluable collection, with the results of these labors, will be given to the public. And when it is recollected that Austria has in her possession the original manuscripts and the drawing of Cortez who invaded Mexico, with these may be compared, it may be hoped that some light will be thrown on the character of that wonderful people who preceded us on this continent.
