CRIMINAL COURT—March 17, 1829.
The State } The prisoner was brought into court and Louis Gayard, } on his being questioned by the Judge whether he had any thing to offer, why the sentence of the law should not be passed on him, he answered, "I am innocent, I never had the intention to kill nor even to wound my mother-in-law; I am a victim of popular prejudices—my mother-in-law whose death will be for me a source of eternal grief had struck me violently, and as soon as I drew the fatal instrument, to intimidate her, telling her not to approach me, she precipitated herself on me and wounded herself my wife and slaves could prove the fact but the law does not allow them to depose."

The Judge after alluding to the circumstances accompanying the dreadful crime of which he was convicted, which did not admit of any mitigation, sentenced him to an imprisonment of twenty years at hard labour and a fine of fifty dollars.

The State } The prisoner having been convicted James Armstrong, } of having furnished slaves with free papers, was sentenced to a solitary imprisonment of 24 hours, and an imprisonment at hard labour of 14 years.

NEW YORK, February 25 Rotation in Office.—We are informed that a person occupying a post of considerable importance under the Government of the United States, lately procured a friend near General Jackson to intimate that he should be willing to serve another four years' term, if the President elect saw fit to re-appoint him. The answer, was, in substance, that no one held the character, talents, and services of the incumbent in higher estimation than did Gen. Jackson; and he should have no other objection to his holding the office, than the fact that he had held it so long. "Rotation in office," said the General, "is a Republican principle."

The Philadelphia Gazette of Feb. 24 states that the New-York vessels in that port, loaded with anthracite coal, are completely blocked.

The Boston Palladium of Friday, remarks that there have been twenty-fur-ty alarms of fire in that city within one week!

The Anti-Tariff Resolutions in the Virginia House of Delegates, met with considerable opposition. On the 19th inst. after an animated discussion, the previous question, (which excludes further debate,) was called for, but not sustained: ayes 61, noes 100.

Great Fire at Demarara.—By the brig Indian Queen just arrived, says the Eastport Sentinel of the 14th inst. at Indian Island, in 42 days from Demar-ara we learn that that city has been destroyed by fire. We have not been able to obtain the particulars, but hear that the fire lasted upwards of three days, and had extended about three miles.
The loss is reported, at 500,000/ stg. It originated in an extensive warehouse, by some rum which a man was pumping from a hhh. taking fire from a candle.

Seamen's Libraries in France.—As the best answer which could be given to the letter which we published a few days since from a gentleman in Paris, 150 volumes of well selected books have been forwarded for the use of American and English seamen at Havre, Marseille, and Bordeaux.

American Cotton in British Bostons.
The following resolutions, proposed by Mr. Barney, on the 7th inst. in the U. S. House of Representatives, was adopted on Tuesday last:—

Resolved, that the President of the United States requested to cause to be furnished to this House any information in his possession, as to the practical operation of the recent act of the British Parliament, entitled "The customs amendment act," authorizing the importation of cotton in British vessels from their North American Colonies, at a duty of 3s. 6d. sterling per 1000 lbs. and also, whether the said act is in the ports of the said North American Colonies of such countries as may be in transatlantic communication with Great Britain, is required to entire to the benefit of said act —and how far this discrimination is in favor of their own shipping impugnating treaties purporting to place the carrying trade of the two nations on terms of mutual reciprocity.

Cash Duties.—It will be seen from the Congressional proceedings, that Mr. Cambreleng has reported a bill in the House, on the subject of Cash duties, and that 10,000 copies have been ordered to be printed. The precise nature of the report we are not yet able to state; though we cannot doubt that Mr. C. is opposed to an innovation which would operate so unfavorably upon our commercial prosperity.

A meeting was held in Boston on Thursday evening 19th inst. to consider the expediency of establishing an Institution for the instruction of the blind.
The object was approved, and a committee was appointed to carry it into effect.

Suicide.—A gentleman who arrived this morning from Philadelphia, informs us, that Mr. Joseph H. Jones, a respectable merchant of St. Louis, shot himself yesterday at the City Hotel, in Philadelphia. It was reported that $4000 had been committed to his care to pay over to sundry merchants, which had not been done, and that a slip of paper was found in his bed room on which was written, "I did not take the money, nor did my relative."

VESSEL SUNK DURING THE WAR.

It will be remembered that during the late war, 24 vessels were sunk in the channel-way at Baltimore, to prevent the enemy's ships from passing into the harbor. After the war, they were raised by the United States, at an expense of $38,154 21. Twelve of the number, however, were so injured as never to be re-fitted, and were valued, when sunk, at $71,579 30. The wrecks and materials were sold for $9,732 69, and these have been paid for $21,648 81. Leaving a balance due, of $31,149 39, which the Committee on commerce in the U. S.
House of Representatives, recommend should be paid by the Government $16,795 74, which the committee think is an adequate compensation for damages, and therefore recommend that no further appropriation be made.

Inundated Lands on the Mississippi.
It appears from a detailed statement by Geo. Graham, Esq. Commissioner of the General Land Office dated Jan.
12th, and laid before Congress Jan.
15th, that the Mississippi, when at its great height, inundates an area of 2,683,380 acres below the 31st degree of latitude, and between the 31st and 33d, (the Northern boundary of Louisiana,) 2,215,680; of which 238,000 lie in the State of Mississippi. Total, 4,929,160; exclusive of about 500,000 acres, which have been reclaimed by artificial embankments or levees, at the expense of individuals.

The immense value of this district of country, says the Commissioner, when reclaimed, is not to be estimated so much by the extent of its superficies as by the extraordinary and inexhaustible quality of the soil, the richness of its products, and the extent of the population it would be capable of sustaining. Every acre of this land lying below the 31st degree of north latitude, might be made to produce three thousand weight of sugar, and the whole of it is particularly adapted to the production of the most luxuriant crops of rice, indigo and cotton. Good sugar lands on the Mississippi, partially cleared, may be estimated as worth $100 per acre and rapidly advancing in value.
The rice lands of South Carolina, from their limited quantity, are of greater value. It is believed that the exchan-geable value of the maximum products of these lands, when placed in a high state of cultivation, would be adequate to the comfortable support of 2,250,000 people, giving a population of one individual for every two acres.

The geographical information contained in the article, is not the least part of its value.

The alluvial lands of Louisiana (says Mr. Graham,) may be divided into two portions: the first, extending from the 33d to the 31st degree of north latitude, in a direction west of south, may be termed the upper plain, is 120 miles in length, and generally from 25 to 30 miles in breadth, & at particular points, is of still greater width. That portion below the 31st degree of north latitude may be termed the lower plain. It extends in a direction from northwest to south east for about 240 miles, to the mouth of the Mississippi; is compressed at its northern point, but opening rapidly, it forms at its base a semicircle, of 200 miles in extent, from the Chafalays to the Rigoletta. The elevation of the plain at the plain at the 31st degree of north latitude, above the common side waters of the Gulf of Mexico, must exceed one hundred and thirty feet.

Mr. Graham expresses a belief, that by deepening and clearing out the existing natural channels, and by opening other artificial ones, through which the surplus waters of the Mississippi may be discharged into the Gulf,—making use, at the same time, of embankments, reservoirs, &c.—the whole of this territory may be reclaimed.

Breach of Marriage promise.—A case of this kind was tried in the Wayne Co. Common Pleas at its January term.
The parties were Hannah Dennis, vs.
John Stewart. The Lyons Advertiser says the plaintiff was a young woman of respectable. She made out a case of considerable aggravation. It appeared in proof, that the defendant, who was a young man had paid his addresses to her for a considerable time, that their marriage was much talked of between themselves; and a day appointed for the wedding. That after this, he suddenly abandoned her under the most painful circumstances, and left the country for the space of two years, during which time she became a mother.
The Jury gave a verdict of $500, for plaintiff.—Rochester Telegraph.

valuable collection, is the ZEPHYR, the most beautiful animal in the world, and the first one ever in this country. The LION and LIONESS, PANTHER and PANTHERESS, African LEO-PARD, the EMU, of Africa, one of the largest of the feathered tribe: Also a pair of Arabian Camels, and the Lama of Peru with her young.
The pleasing phenomenon of the monkey Dandy Jack, who will give an imitation of a first rate

There is another curiosity never before seen
