THE BEE.

PRINTED DAILY, BY E. DECAIR,

St. Peter Street, between Bourbon & Royal,

NEW ORLEANS.

SATURDAY, MARCH 21, 1829.

☞ We would remind those persons who have not yet visited the SOLAR MICROSCOPE of Mr. Rand, that to-day and to-morrow will be the last days of its exhibition.

☞ We learn by the steam-boat Planter from Natchitoches, that the [illegible] had struck on a snag near the mouth of Red river and sunk.

MEXICAN STATES.

☞ We have received files of Vera-Cruz gazettes up to the day of sailing of the schooner Monk, last arrived from that port. Tranquility continued to reign throughout the Mexican states. The law which had passed the House of Deputies, and having for object the expulsion of all Spaniards had been rejected in the Senate, on the 28th of February last. They were occupied in forming a new project on that subject. Gen. Vincente Guerrero was daily receiving committees sent by the different corporations of the several States of the Confederation, to felicitate him on his election to the second Presidential Government of Mexico. We give the two following extracts, which appear to us to represent the interesting present state of relations with that country.

VERA CRUZ, March 6th.

"Don Manuel Gomez Pedraza has arrived in this port to-day, on board of the english pack-ship Spy, Larla, from Tampico. The General will continue his passage to Europe in this same vessel which sails immediately. It is said that Pedraza has obtained from government a licence to travel in Europe for the space of four years, and that his appointments as General will be continued during that time."

El Noticioso.

VERA-CRUZ, March 8th.

"Although Gen. Santa-Ana had intended not to visit this place, we have been assured that in compliance with the wishes of his friends he has determined upon paying us a visit, and is expected to arrive here on to-morrow afternoon."—El Noticioso.

"Gen. Santa-Ana arrived at Vera-Cruz on the 9th of this month, and was received in the most triumphant manner. He was to depart from there on the 11th to continue his route to Mexico whither his duties as Secretary of War call him."

Inundated Lands of the Mississippi.—The Commissioner of the General Land Office has made a report to the House of Representatives in compliance with a resolution of that body, directing the Secretary of the Treasury to "communicate to the House any information in his possession, showing the quantity and quality of the public lands in the state of Louisiana which are rendered unfit for cultivation from the inundations of the Mississippi, the value of said lands when reclaimed, and the probable cost of reclaiming them." Many interesting facts are stated and a field opened for a profitable employment at home for a portion of the national funds. Should it be finally settled that the government has the power of applying its energies to internal improvements. Whether at this time, with immense tracts of wild and uncultivated lands in possession of the government not for sale, it can be deemed judicious to commence so stupendous a project as that of reclaiming for millions of acres of inundated lands, may be questionable. But there will, perhaps at some future day we have no doubt. In favour of immediate attention to the subject it may perhaps be said that comparatively a small part of the public lands are wanted for the growth of the sugar cane, a production of immense and increasing value, and which the rich, alluvial-inundated land of the Missippi are finally calculated to produce. Consequently such lands when reclaimed, (and about 400,000 acres have been, by individual enterprise,) are worth $100 per acre. It is stated that the Mississippi the muddiest river in the world, deposits its muddy particles with great rapidity; the waters hold in resolution not less than one sixteenth part of their bulk of alluvian matter. An inundation of sixteen inches depth over a tract of leval land, which drawn off will leave one inch depth of alluvian matter—a process which by means of dykes and embankments can be repeated at pleasure a thing never, which must render the lands of the plain of Louisiana inexhaustibly fertile. The kind of land already reclaimed is stated to be the most productive of any lands in the U. S. and will be in a very short period, if it is at present, as productive as any other known tract of country of equal extent.

The alluvial plain of Louisiana, like that of Egypt has been created by the deposites from the waters of immense & overflowing rivers; and like the plain of Egypt once no doubt inundated like the lands of the Mississippi, the latter can be reclaimed by the labor and ingenuity of man, and rendered the garden of the world, capable of sustaining a population of 2 millions and a half of human souls. The depth of the Mississippi is from 120 to 200 feet, which immense volume of water is hurried to its various outlets into the Gulf of Mexico with great rapidity, and its divided channels lessened to a very moderate depth. The plan proposed for lessening the inundation of the public lands, embraces the idea of removing the obstructions to the discharge of the water, and facilitating by every possible means their passage to the ocean.

PENSACOLA, March 10.

Achille Murat Esq. was on Monday last admitted and sworn as an Attorney Counsellor, and Proctor of the U. S.' District and Superior Court of West Florida, holden in the City of Pensacola.

Congress is now, within a week of its close, occupying itself with indispensible business, after having thus far trifled away the whole session. Yet even for such business, it will be seen, that a quorum could not be made to attend.

Mr. Weems' motion and solitary vote in the House of Representatives respecting the West Point School, though quite in character for him, tend to bring the body to which he belongs into disrepute.—N. Y. Herald.

Cotton Trade to England.—Among the resolutions offered in the House of Representatives on Saturday, was the following, by Mr. Barney, of Maryland. He (ellies, of Course, one day on the table.—

Resolved, That the President of the United States be requested to cause to be furnished to this House, any information in his possession, as to the practical operation of the recent act of the British Parliament, entitled "The Customs amendment act," authorizing the importation of cotton in British vessels, from their North American Colonies, at a duty of three shillings and six pence sterling per one hundred pounds less than when imported in vessels of these United States; also whether the actual landing in the ports of said North American Colonies of such cargoes as may be in transitu from this country to Great Britain, is required to entitle them to the benefit of said act; and how far this discrimination in favor of their own shipping, in spite of existing treaties purporting to place the carrying trade of the two nations on terms of natural reciprocity.

The Mercantile Advertiser furnishes the following extracts from a Bristol paper 27th December, in relation to the unfortunate occurrence at Liberia, which are mentioned on Monday:

"On the 18th November last an expedition was preparing by the American settlers at that place, to destroy a French slave ship and factory at Dighy, a place about thirty miles distant when, during the night, the magazine, in which they were making cartridges, blew up, and, horrible to relate, Mr. Lott Carey, the Governor, and nine of his people, were destroyed."

From the detail and particulars of the statement, we must, we fear consider that probable which at first struck us as doubtful.—N. Y. American.

A Country Dance.—I saw on the evening of the 1st Jan. 1829 in my neighborhood, in Tyler County, Va. the father, the grand father, and the great grand father, the daughter, the mother and grand mother, the mother and daughter and grand mother, the son, and great grand son, all in a dance on the same floor at the same time.—

[Wheeling Gazette.]

Silver Book.—In the library of Upsual in Sweden, there is preserved a translation of the Four Gospels, printed with hot metal types, upon violet colored vellum. The letters are silver, and hence it has received the name of Codex Argenteus. The initial letters are in gold. It is supposed that the whole was printed in the same manner, as book-binders letter the titles of books on the back. It was a very new approach to the discovery of the art of printing; but it is not known how old it is.

CHARCOAL—3000 bush. of prime Sedge, on plantations above and below the city, for sale by Feb 19 J. COURLAY & CO.

THE Ladies and Gentlemen of this City are respectfully informed that the large CARAVAN which has for the last two months been exhibited opposite the French Theatre, has removed to the corner of Tchoupitoulas and Poydras street, where it will remain until the middle of April, and then leave the city. Among this valuable collection, is the ZEBRA, the most beautiful animal in the world, and the first one ever in this country. The LIONESS, PANTHER and PANTHERESS, African LEOPARD, the EMU, of Africa, one of the largest of the feathered tribe. Also a pair of Arabian Camels, and the Lama of Peru with her young. The pleasing phenomenon of the monkey Dandy Jack, who will give an imitation of a first rate equestrian performer, both in riding the Shetland Pony, tumbling and dancing.

There is another curiosity never before seen in this country—a female monkey with her young, who nourishes it with all the tenderness of a mother.

These with a great number of other animals compose the exhibition which is now offered to the public, particularly those who wish to become acquainted with the curiosities of nature.

No danger need be apprehended, as the animals are well secured, and the place is well lighted up and covered with a pavilion.

Hours of exhibition, from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.
