FOR PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES,
HENRY CLAY.

NEW-ORLEANS:
TUESDAY MORNING, MARCH 7, 1843.

Commercial.

NEW ORLEANS, MONDAY NIGHT, March 6, 1843.

There was a better feeling in the Cotton market to-day, and purchasers operated freely. The sales exclusive of 1,000 bales to an advance in most instances of per on the closing prices of last week. This improvement is mainly owing to the greater facility of negotiating Exchange.

The Tobacco market was likewise very animated, and many old bids changed hands at full prices.

Exchange has advanced, and we now quote sterling, 1 @ 1½ cent prem. Francs 5.30 @ 5.45—New-York, 60 to bills, 4 @ 4½ per cent discount.
