NEW-ORLEANS:
FRIDAY MORNING, SEPT. 20, 1844.

IMPORTANT MOVEMENT IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Our readers doubtless recollect the questions proposed to JAMES K. POLK, on the subject of the tariff, by the democracy of Dickinson township, Cumberland county, Penn. It will be borne in mind that the whig press generally predicted that these interrogatories would grave Mr. POLK, and that they would be unanswered. The result has justified the sagacity of our contemporaries, and vindicated the consistency of the Cumberland locofocos. It appears from the Carlisle Statesman—a locofoco paper—of the 5th, that the dissatisfied democracy held another large and respectable meeting on the 31st ult. at Teago's tavern, at which John Moore presided, and Messrs. Chesnel, Lynch, Phyler, Uhl, Parlet, McKinney and Smith acted as vice presidents, and Martin Snyder as secretary. The committee appointed at a former meeting to address a letter to the Hon. JAMES K. POLK, made a report that they had addressed the following communication to him; that five weeks had since elapsed, and that no reply had been received:

"CARLISLE, July 22, 1844.

"Hon. JAMES K. POLK:

"Dear Sir—At a meeting of the democrats at Dickinson township, of the (Cumberland co. Pa.) the undersigned persons were appointed a committee to address you on the subject of the tariff, and requested—

"First—Are you in favor of the tariff of 1842?

"Second—Would you, if elected, support that act as it is, without modification; or would you be in favor of modifying it?

"With every desire to support and uphold the democratic nominees, we must respectfully request a distinct and positive answer to the above interrogatories.

"Very sincerely, your most obedient humble servants,

"THOS C. MILLER,
"HENRY LYNCH,
"JAMES HYLER,
"MARTIN SNYDER,
"JOSHUA SEBRIGHT,
"MONTY DONALDSON,
"HENRY T. WILSON,
"FRANCIS HUTCHINSON,
"JOHN MOORE,
"JOHN MYERS,
"BENJAMIN PEFFER."

A preamble and resolutions were then adopted, together with an address to the democratic voters of Cumberland county. We can do no better than copy the resolutions, which are significant enough, and which add another to the many proofs we have alleged, that the tariff locofocos of Pennsylvania will not support JAMES K. POLK.

Resolved—That we cannot support the election of James K. Polk to the Presidency of the United States, because he is opposed to a tariff of protection.

Resolved—That we feel the most earnest desire and anxious wish to preserve the purity of the democratic party; that we are most firmly convinced, that the assuming men have now placed the party in that false position of giving support to a man who is hostile to their principles and their interests.

Resolved—That we call earnestly and seriously upon the democratic party of Pennsylvania, individually and collectively, to look seriously at the attitude in which they are placed, and rate the element, and rise in the indignation of the Presidential election.

The locos are bragging like very gamons, and attempting to keep the courage of their forces up by the power of their lungs—brag, brag, brag, at the game with them; but this they played in 40, in an equal degree to that they are doing now, and how did their predictions turn out?

But this is not the only game they are playing the grab, stealing the credit from the whigs, in this state, of passing the tariff of '42, and reversing by all the gods at once that they and not the whigs are the friends of the protective policy. And what is stranger than all, they find hundreds and thousands in this state willing and ready to be duped by them, and now too who have deep interests in the preservation of the tariff. But though the "locos are not all dead yet," there are some who cannot be made to believe that changings are not all green sky, by putting on green goggles. They are of trust, enough of them to save the state, by giving her vote to Harry of the West. Our whig meetings are very large and enthusiastic, and the spirit of 1840 animates the whig ranks, and urges on to that, the love of Henry Clay, and the desire to preserve the prosperity of the country, by placing at its head a statesman, of that kind of the king a whig up to the time of his impeachment by the Legislature has never, that we are so sure of, been seriously questioned by the press of either party in this city.

What, we presume, has given rise to the report at a distance, of our being a democrat, was his applying, and we believe, his being elected an honorary member of a democratic club of this city some time last December or January, after, however, all these certificates were issued, after articles of impeachment had been drawn up against him, and before he was found guilty of fraud.

Very respectfully,
LUMSDEN, KENDALL & Co.
To Messrs. JAMES B. LAMB, and JAMES STEELE, } Randolph, Tennessee.

Will our "democratic" contemporaries (the Herald and Republican) do us the favor to answer the following interrogatories?

1st—Were not Washington, Jefferson, Madison and Monroe, four Republican Presidents, all in favor of the Protection of Domestic Industry?

2nd—Did not Madison vote a bill chartering a National Bank, recommend the re-enactment of that bill in his next message to Congress, and sanction that bill after it had been passed by Congress a second time?

3rd—Was there not a majority of DEMOCRATS in both houses of Congress when this bill (the charter of the U. S. Bank) was passed?

4th—Did not ANDREW JACKSON recommend the Distribution of the "proceeds of the sales of Public Lands among the States?

5th—If these interrogatories cannot be answered in the negative, which party should be deemed Democratic by men of sense, the Whigs who now support these three principles, which were advocated by these Republican Presidents, or the Locofocos who oppose them as the Federalists of old did?

EAST FELICIANA.

The whigs of East Feliciana, ever faithful though in minority, held a meeting on the 7th, and appointed a delegation to the Baton Rouge Convention composed of EVERY WHIG in the parish. Among the resolutions adopted, is the following:

Resolved, That notwithstanding East Felician cannot expect the honor of giving the "largest majority" to the gifted son of the West, at the approaching Presidential election, we guarantee the largest increase in her whig vote compared with that of 1839, of any other parish in the State.

MAINE.

The following is an extract from a private letter to a gentleman of this city. These are the only returns we have received. To-day's mail will add to them:

BOSTON, Sept. 10th—3 o'clock P. M.

We have returns this morning from 23 towns, which give a locofoco majority of 1,204. You will see by returns below, that the whig vote is 1,966 larger than last year now, and the locofoco vote is about 1,700 larger.

The abolition vote is fallen off.

The returns received are all from the strongest locofoco part of the State. I am inclined to thing that the loco have carried the State by a small majority. They have worked hard to do it.

1843.		1844.
Whig—23 towns,	3180	Whig,	5146
Loco,	4338	Loco,	6350
Abolition,	607	Abol.	562

VERMONT.

Returns have been received from 192 towns in the State. They present the following result:

	1844.		1843
Slade, (whig.)	24,868	Mattocks, (whig.)	21,791
Kellogg, (loco.)	18411		19,767
Abolition,	3,865		4,354

Whig maj. over Locos 6,457 Do. 2,001
Whig maj. over all, 1,592 Whig deficit, 1,350

Clear whig gain so far, 2,942.

It is, therefore, seen that the victory is complete and decisive. To the State Senate the whigs have thus far elected 19 Senators, and the locofocos 9. Three counties yet to be heard from. In the House the whig majority is more than two to one.

In the Fourth Congressional District, Dillingham [l. f.] is defeated. Fifty six towns give Cheadle [whig] 5,965; Dillingham [l. f.] 5,723; Putnam [abol.] 1,248—majority against Dillingham 780. The remaining 30 towns cannot reduce this majority 200 votes.

☞ In Washington county, Pennsylvania, there was a grand whig rally on the 5th instant, at which 10,000 persons came together, and were addressed by Walter Forward, Andrew Stewart, and other distinguished speakers. Donegal, the banner township, had more voters in the procession than she gave votes for Harrison in 1840. So the cause moves on.

☞ There was a gathering of the whigs of Sullivan county, New York, on the 30th ult. Hon. A. S. Dickinson presiding. From 7,000 to 10,000 were in attendance. Among the speakers were Hon. James A. Hamilton, Ex-Governor Seward, Hon. William Nord, &c. Sculpture in a cloud hoodoo velocity, but the presence this fall to add 500 to her usual whig vote.

THAT BET.

The bet offered in our paper yesterday, was unintelligible by reason of typographical errors. We re-publish it in a correct form.

To the Editors of the Bee.

In reply to the enquiry in the Courier of last evening, you are authorised to state that I offered the bet in your paper of the 14th inst.; that said bet was taken on the forenoon of the day on which it was offered to be taken at your office, and that the money has been deposited in the hands of a friend of the party. If the editor of the Courier will wager $50 to $100 on the accuracy of the above statement, they will be proved—otherwise I decline satisfying his curiosity.

BENJAMIN VAN OSTERN.

☞ Our Pennsylvania letter will be found interesting. Its author is one of the coolest and most sagacious politicians in that State.

THE Whigs of the Third Congressional District of Pennsylvania have nominated Thomas C. Steele, Esq. as their candidate for Congress.

THE Whigs of St Mary have appointed a committee to select delegates to the Baton Rouge Convention.—They promise us a goodly number.

THE Locos of the Fourth District, Pa. have nominated Charles J. Ingersoll for re-election.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

BURGLARY.—On Wednesday morning, about two o'clock, the shoe store of Mr Jean Ulysse Thiac, situated at the corner of St Claude and Bayou streets, was broken open and about fifteen pair of boots and shoes stolen therefrom. Some of the inmates of the house hearing a noise in the store, arose and pursued the burglars. One of them, a slave named Stephen, belonging to the New Orleans Draining Co., after being pursued about two squares, was arrested, having in his possession seven pair of the stolen shoes. The other burglars, two in number, escaped. Stephen was brought before Recorder Genin yesterday morning and remanded for further examination.

[CORRESPONDENCE OF THE BEE]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7, 1844.

GENTLEMEN:

Soon after the death of Mr Muhlenberg, I informed you that the chances of the locofoco party electing their candidate for governor, who would be Mr. Shunk, were increased by that event. Such was then the prevalent opinion, but Mr. Shunk does not turn out to be as strong a candidate as we feared he would be. He will not get the vote in the eastern counties that Muhlenberg would have obtained, nor even in his own county—Allegheny. Resolved—That we feel the most earnest desire and anxious wish to preserve the purity of the democratic party; that we are most firmly convinced, that assuming men have now placed the party in that false position of giving support to a man who is hostile to their principles and their interests.

Resolved—That we call earnestly and seriously upon the democratic party of Pennsylvania, individually and collectively, to look seriously at the attitude in which they are placed, and rate the element, and rise in the indignation of the Presidential election.

The locos are bragging like very gamons, and attempting to keep the courage of their forces up by the power of their lungs—brag, brag, brag, at the game with them; but this they played in 40, in an equal degree to that they are doing now, and how did their predictions turn out?

But this is not the only game they are playing the grab, stealing the credit from the whigs, in this state, of passing the tariff of '42, and reversing by all the gods at once that they and not the whigs are the friends of the protective policy. And what is stranger than all, they find hundreds and thousands in this state willing and ready to be duped by them, and now too who have deep interests in the preservation of the tariff. But though the "locos are not all dead yet," there are some who cannot be made to believe that changings are not all green sky, by putting on green goggles. They are of trust, enough of them to save the state, by giving her vote to Harry of the West. Our whig meetings are very large and enthusiastic, and the spirit of 1840 animates the whig ranks, and urges on to that, the love of Henry Clay, and the desire to preserve the prosperity of the country, by placing at its head a statesman, of that kind of the king a whig up to the time of his impeachment by the Legislature has never, that we are so sure of, been seriously questioned by the press of either party in this city.

There is still another game our opponents are playing. This is the attempt to connect the foreigners and rabbles that the whigs are responsible for all the outrages committed in this city and the adjoining districts of Kensington Northern Liberties and Spring Garden. Look at the pedestals upon which all the Presidents rose to power, George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, all of them down to Van Buren, whom the democrats lately called from Linden-wald to New York to be pall bearer at his own funeral, Tyler we will not mention. But oh, where will Polk's pedestal be found? I tell you that the democrats who may vote for him now will be ashamed to acknowledge it in their posterity, to pass on if they will deny they were at the vote or voted at all, rather than confess to their indignant offspring that they voted for James K. Polk. Now look at the pedestal of Henry Clay, rising higher and higher for the last forty years. Aye, see him like an angle with untiring pinions, soaring against the sun. (Here the audience were startled by the cry of "An Eagle, an Eagle.") Every eye was raised toward the Heavens, and there with outspread wings, the proud bird of our country seemed to pause as if delighted with the scene beneath him. Gen. Coombs looked up and exclaimed—"Oh, proud bird of my country's banner, I accept the omen. Long, long may you soar in majesty above those born to wave waving over the land of the free and home of the brave." Gentlemen, I have said that these things did not come accidentally. That bird did not come by accident to take the sentence from my mouth. I hail it as a happy omen.

The effect of this occurrence, as may well be supposed, was electrical, and the air resounded with the sudden and spontaneous cheers of the multitude.

SICKNESS AT WOODVILLE.—The Bayou Sara Leger states that the yellow fever at Woodville, Miss. was abating. Per contra, the Feliciana Whig remarks that it is still prevailing to a fearful extent, and that six to eight persons die with it daily.

ADVERTISING.—The London Times contains, on an average, eight hundred new advertisements per day.—The English are an advertising people—they know it pays.

FROM THE ISTHMUS OF DARIEN.—The N. Y. Sun contains some items of intelligence from Panama, by way of Jamaica. The French engineers sent from France to survey the Isthmus of Darien, had completed their labor and were returning to France. Nothing was learned of the result of their operations.

The English were forming a coal depot at Panama, for a line of steamers, but for what line was kept a profound secret.

AN AMERICAN ARTIST IN ENGLAND.—The proprietors of the London Illustrated News, have determined to add to its interest, by a series of sketches of American scenery, and of American customs, which are to be furnished from the pencil of our ingenious fellow-countryman HENRY INMAN, who recently arrived in London. The New York Republic properly remarks that the reputation of Mr INMAN as an artist and a writer, is a surety that both the sketches and illustrations will be faithful.

MEMORANDA FOR SEPTEMBER.

ALWAYS REMEMBER that the first published Act of the first Congress was entitled in part "An act for the protection of American Manufactures."

DON'T FORGET that the first petition ever presented to the first Congress was from the Mechanics of Maryland, praying PROTECTION!

BEAR IN MIND that the second petition presented to the first Congress came from the Shopkeepers of Charleston, South Carolina! praying PROTECTION!

KEEP IT IN REMEMBRANCE that the third petition to the first Congress was for PROTECTION, came from the Manufacturers of New York City!

REMEMBER that even Mr. Madison, who was himself in favor of PROTECTION, could not get a horizontal revenue Tariff Bill through the first Congress.

TREASURE UP IN YOUR MINDS that the founders and framers of the Constitution were in favor of PROTECTION!
