CONGRESS.

In the Senate on the 16th, Mr. Seward of N. Y. spoke on the slavery question. As the report of his speech is very long, we cannot publish it in extenso, and shall remark, has been already published, we omit for the present, a large portion of them. When Mr. Seward concluded Mr. Webster rose and requested Mr. Houston of Texas to be excused from the consideration of the press, to which he was a member, as he was pressed with the business of the committee of which he was chairman, and which must be discussed and put more than food. Mr. Houston said he was willing to proceed with the Texas bill, and hoped the Senate would do so. Mr. Clay
