Extract from the Medical Journal, published annually by Dr. Hoofland, and sold by all the principal booksellers throughout the country, and by agents in every town in the United States.

Hoofland's German Bitters.—This celebrated medicine is in great demand throughout the country, and is deservedly so, for it is a most valuable tonic, and has been the means of curing many persons who have been given up by the regular physicians, and pronounced by them incurable. Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Nervous Debility, are the diseases in which this medicine is most efficacious, and we know of many persons who have been cured by it of the most distressing cases of these complaints, after all other means had failed. We know of persons who have been cured of Liver Complaint of 15 years' standing, by the use of Hoofland's German Bitters, and who are now in the enjoyment of good health, who had been given up by the regular physicians, and pronounced incurable. We know of persons who have been cured of Dyspepsia of 10 years' standing, who had tried every thing they could hear of, without receiving any benefit, and who are now in the enjoyment of good health, who had been given up by the regular physicians, and pronounced incurable. We know of persons who have been cured of Nervous Debility, of many years' standing, who had tried every thing they could hear of, without receiving any benefit, and who are now in the enjoyment of good health, who had been given up by the regular physicians, and pronounced incurable. We know of persons who have been cured of Fever and Ague
