ANTI-GOUTY ELIXIR
OF HIPPOLYTE BRIEUGNE.
INVENTOR OF THE ANTI-RHEUMATISM A Tropical Balm.
TELL now all medical science has had no power over the dire and terrible disease which has ever made so many victims all over the earth, and still keeps up the work of destruction, their occupations to give them up to the most painful sufferings it is useless to recall to our minds the symptoms of the disease too well known to its numerous sufferers. It suffices to name them to appreciate the value of such a remedy as a preventive against their return. Such is the effect of the ANTI-GOUTY ELIXIR, which is the result of the laborious researches of M. HIPPOLYTE BRIEUGNE, already known by the discovery of the anti-rheumatismal TROPICAL BALM, that has had down to this day so great a success. The ANTI-GOUTY ELIXIR, particularly recommended for the fits of the gout, possesses a power no less great, warranted by the long and important experience of the inventor, and by repeated essays upon its numerous victims.
The ANTI-GOUTY ELIXIR is easy to take, and the taste is so very disagreeable. It can be taken pure or mixed with two or three spoonfuls of water to reduce its effects are felt after a few hours, whatever may be the intensiveness of the fit. In twelve hours at most the sufferings disappear, and all its symptoms vanish away.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Rheumatism!
FROM which millions suffer, is now recognized as a hopeless disease, and the sufferer, in the decrepitude of age, is generally the victim of the most painful of vegetable preparations, which, if not for the relief of pain, at least for the production of other and more serious evils, and rives with the watery vapor from the skin, which, when in health, carries off the poisonous matter, and the virus is taken up by the absorbents, and is carried back to the circulation, and excreting organs, and fails to secrete not only this virus, but also the bile from the blood. Both the virus and the bile accumulate in the circulation, and produce violent constitutional disorder. The spleen, the kidneys and the stomach sympathize with the body in the internal excretories to force them to cast it out. The blood leaves the capillaries, and rushes to the central organs with congestive vibrations. This is the Gout. But in this effort it fails. Then the Fever follows, in which the blood leaves the central organs and rushes to the surface, as if in another effort to expel the irritating poison through the cutaneous excretories of the skin. In this also it fails, and the system abandons the attempt exhausted, and vents its fury upon the joints, as if to repeat the hopeless effort another day. These are the tic or paroxysms of FEVER AND GOUT. Both constitutional disorder will of course follow, and the health, if it is not removed.
We have laboured to find, and have found an antidote.
AYER'S AGUE CURE,
which neutralizes this malarious poison in the blood and stimulates the liver to expel from the blood, and its should, so it does cure this afflicting disorder with perfect certainty. And it does more, or rather does what is more necessary to the immediate sufferer. It suffices to name them to appreciate the value of such a remedy as a preventive against their return. Such is the effect of the ANTI-GOUT ELIXIR, which is the result of the laborious researches of M. HIPPOLYTE BRIEUGNE, already known by the discovery of the anti-rheumatismal TROPICAL BALM, that has had down to this day so great a success.
