Races.—The race yesterday, three miles and repeat, for a purse of four hundred dollars, was won with ease in two heats by Mr. Rudd's horse Wm. Wallace. Time—first heat, six minutes and twenty seconds; second heat, six minutes and ten seconds—track heavy at the lower end.

The following horses are entered for this day, two miles and repeat, for a purse of three hundred dollars:

Mr. Rudd's sorrel gelding, Saucy Jack—rider's dress sky blue. Mr. Duplantier's bay mare, Polly Powel, five years old, got by Virginian—rider's dress red striped. Mr. Miller's sorrel colt Boscoyo, three years old, by Eclipse—rider's dress green, and red cap.

In the case of the ship Lavinia, lately wrecked on the Colorades, ten per centum on the specie and goods saved, had been given as salvage. The passengers, by whom this arrangement was made, were the principal owners. The specie amounted to seventy thousand dollars.

Rail Roads.—The stock of the Liverpool and Manchester rail road is selling at one hundred per centum above par.

MR. EDITOR—The new council has just met, and I perceive, with great pleasure, that the newly elected aldermen are occupying themselves seriously respecting the paving of the streets. It seems to me that this is one of the most important things upon which they could possibly have turned their immediate attention, as it is absolutely necessary that, at least, the commercial part of the city should be paved. I am of opinion, from the early attention that the gentlemen of the city council have bestowed upon the subject, that they will use every effort to accomplish this great object.

A very judicious idea that the streets might be durably paved with shells, appeared in an article published in your estimable journal; although I do not know whether there would be enough of them in the Lake Barrataria to pave all the streets in the city and the fauxbourgs, yet I agree in opinion with the writer, who consulted the public good in proposing the measure, as to the practicability of making them as useful as the more costly kind of pavement. The Naples Gazette of the 7th of February, in giving a farther account of the eruption of Mount Vesuvius, on the night of the 22d of December, says:—

"That on the 22d of December and the following night, the shocks from the mountain became much more frequent and perceptible, and were felt in all the neighboring country, and hollow roarings were heard every moment. On the 3d instant, the lava from the mouth of the crater had become 25 feet broad. It is a curious circumstance, that the first substances of which the lava consisted, have, in cooling, been formed into three arches like a bridge, under which the current which now issues from it runs. On the same day the lava had reached the base of the volcano, keeping the direction of the hermitage of St. Saviour, running over the old beds formed in 1767, 1779 and 1822, and encumbering the plains called Ginestre. Its greatest extent is a quarter of a mile, and its depth about fifteen feet. The mountain throws up at intervals of about 2 minutes each, a large quantity of red hot stones, which fall back into the crater.

The Naples Journals state that the Spanish Ambassador on the 15th ultimo, made a formal application for the hand of the Princess Maria Amelia, the King's sister, on behalf of Don Sebastian, Infante of Spain.

LATE FROM BUENOS AYRES.

By the arrival of the ship Firrata, at Baltimore, the editors of the American have received, through the politeness of a correspondent, files of Buenos Ayres papers to the 4th, and of Monte Video to the 10th of February, both inclusive.

The United States ship Lexington had returned to Monte Video from the Falkland Islands, having on board some of the persons concerned in the robbery of American sealing vessels. She was to proceed to Rio de Janeiro in a few days.

At Buenos Ayres there was every confidence that the cessation of hostilities would be followed by a permanent peace. The federal party had completely triumphed, and illuminations had taken place in the city.

The Provinces of Rioja and Mendoza have formally expressed their desires to join the league formed by the provinces of Entrerios, Santa Fe and Buenos Ayres, and that the governor of the latter should transact their foreign affairs.

The long prevailing drought still continued. Prayers had been offered up in the churches for rain.

From the Buenos Ayres Packet, Jan. 28.

BUENOS AYRES.

At half past 6 o'clock on the evening of the 24th inst. the flags at the fort, and at the marine office, were hoisted—a salute was fired from the former, and likewise from the National schooner of war Sarandi, in the inner roads, and the Guard vessel in the outer roads, in pursuance of an order by telegraph, from the marine office. Shortly afterwards a bulletin was issued from the Independencia printing office, containing a despatch from the governor of the province of Santa Fé, (Don Estanislao Lopez,) dated Santa Fé, 4th inst. to the governor of Buenos Ayres, (Don Juan Manuel de Rosas;) and a communications from general Quiroga to the former, dated Tucuman, 4th ult; both these documents speak of the happy termination of the sanguinary civil war, which for three years has desolated the country; that this important result has been consequent upon the triumphs which have invariably attended the arms of the defenders of the cause of the people and of the laws, particularly in the last battle at la Ciudadela de Tucuman, by which the Unitarians of Salta were placed at the discretion of the conqueror.

General Quiroga states, that in signing the treaty of peace with the province of Salta, he may have been wanting in his duty in not having first submitted the said treaty for the approbation of his excellency the commander-in-chief, but aware how much the republic was interested in the prompt termination of the war, he confidently hoped that his conduct would be excused. The following decree was issued.

BUENOS AYRES, 24th Jan. 1832.

The cessation of war, the end of the prolonged disastrous epoch of blood, has arrived; a general peace all over the republic succeeds to days of mourning and horror; this happy change is indeed worthy the congratulations of all. Public demonstrations, religious and civil, are due to the god of the country, to merit the peace we enjoy by his visible protection, and by the constancy, prudence and bravery of the illustrious generals, who have combated for the laws and the rights of the people, as well as for the enthusiasm and fidelity of the citizens and soldiers who have encountered all descriptions of sacrifices and dangers.

In consequence of which, the government has ordered and decreed.

Article 1st—On 27th inst. at 10 in the morning Te Deum to be celebrated in the Cathedral church with all possible solemnity, attended by the civil and military corporations, &c.

2d—The city to be illuminated for three successive evenings, viz: 25th, 26th and 27th, and other demonstrations.

3d—On the 27th all the public offices, shops, &c., are to be closed as on a holiday.

4th—Let this be published.

FROM THE PACIFIC.

The following is an extract from a letter, dated San Diego, California, December 12, 1831, received overland.

"The Pocahontas will sail for Boston about the 10th of January. Trade has been good here this season, but there is now a large supply of goods in market, and the demand for them small, as the hides, tallow, and furs are all bought up, and the Government is at present in a very unsettled state. There are two parties; the citizens & some of the military have risen against General Manuel Victoria and his party. The two parties met on the 4th instant, near the Pueblo de los Angelos, where a short engagement took place; two only were killed, and several wounded; among the latter was Gen. Victoria, many of whose troops joined the citizens. The remainder fled with the General to the Mission of San Gabriel, and have since surrendered to the other party.—[N. Y. Courier & Enquirer.]

CONGRESSIONAL ABSTRACT.

In the Senate, Thursday, the bill exempting merchandize, imported under certain circumstances, from the operation of the tariff of eighteen hundred & twenty eight, was, after some discussion, ordered to a third reading. The bill supplementary to the several acts for the sales of the public lands, returned with amendments from the House, was taken up. Mr. King moved that the Senate concur in the amendments of the House. Mr. Ewing spoke in opposition to the amendments, and Messrs. Moore and Buckner in their support, after which, on motion of Mr. Moore, the bill was laid on the table, and the amendments were ordered to be printed. On motion of Mr. White, the Senate then proceeded to the consideration of Executive business.

In the House of Representatives, Mr. Mercer, from the Committee on Internal Improvement, reported a bill for the improvement of certain harbors and the navigation of certain rivers—also, a bill declaring the assent of Congress to certain acts of the legislature of the State of North Carolina. A bill to amend an act for the benefit of certain surviving officers and soldiers of the army of the Revolution, and a bill for the removal of the land office from Franklin to Fayette, in the State of Missouri, were read a third time and passed.

The bill in addition to an act to provide for certain persons engaged in the land and naval service of the United States in the Revolutionary war, was again considered in committee of the whole. Various amendments were proposed, discussed, and adopted, and others submitted. At 4 o'clock the Committee rose, and the House adjourned.—Republican.

KEY WEST, March 7, 1832.

The following article originally appeared in this paper. We publish it on account of having lately seen a copy of it in a Boston paper, with many errors and inaccuracies in the latitude, longitude, and bearing of some of the Light Houses. It is evident if this erroneous statement be followed, it will materially mislead the mariner, and so far from being a guide to warn him from danger, will subject him to the very difficulties against which our publication was intended to guard. We advise Editors to publish the following, which may be relied on as accurate:

"For the information of Mariners generally, we have procured from the Collector of the port, the following schedule of the situation of the Light Houses along the Florida shore, under his superintendence:

Cape Florida Light.—Stationary. Situated on the South point of Key Biscayne, about 400 yards from the beach. The Light may be considered 70 feet above the level of the sea, distant from Gulf stream about 7 miles. Vessels drawing 10 feet may approach within 2 1-2 miles of the light. Lat. 25 47 N.—Long. 80 42 W.

Light Ship Florida, is situated on Caryford's Reef, near the site of the old one, in Lat. 25 08 N.—Long. 80 27 W. It is easily distinguished, as two distinct Lights are shown, which can generally be seen at the distance of 12 miles. Its object is to warn vessels from the dangerous rocks and shoals near which it is placed.

Key West Light, stands on the S. West point of the Island of Key West. It is in Lat. 24 25 N.—Long. 82 04 W.; erected for the purpose of guiding vessels when entering the harbor; the directions for which are as follows: Bring the Light to bear N. N. W. and the Sand Key Light to bear W. S. W. and you cross the Reef in about 5 fathoms water; run for Key West Light until within two miles, then steer N. W. until you open Fleming's Key, which is a Mangrove Island in the northern part of the harbor, and then run for it. The best anchorage is in the upper part of the harbor. The height of the Light House from the level of the sea, is 83 feet 6 inches. Light stationary.

Sand Key Light. Revolving once in 54 seconds. It is the best light on the coast;—S. W. by S. 10 miles from Key West Light; situated directly on the Reef. The light is 70 feet above the sea.

Tortugas Light.—Stationary. On one of the dry Tortugas Islands, at the Western extremity of the Reef, in Lat. 24 31 N. Long. 83 10 W.—Gazette.

The Post Office Robbery at Boston.—A lad was on Monday taken before Judge Davis, of the U. States District Court, who by some previous disclosures had given such information that nearly the whole sum of $700 has been recovered. He is a lad of about 13 years of age, and circumstances have made it proper for him frequently to be within the Post Office. The boy pleaded guilty to the charge made against him by the District Attorney, and was held to bail for his appearance at the next Circuit Court to be holden in this city in May next. The father of the lad was present; he is a man of most unimpeachable integrity, and stated that he did not wish to screen his son form justice; and it is generally believed that the boy was induced to commit this rash act by the advice of some unprincipled associates, he having hitherto sustained an excellent character.

The boy who made claim to the reward offered by Mr. Greene, on Saturday last, is not at all implicated in the theft.

It may, perhaps, not be amiss to add that the letter from which the money was taken, was deposited in the Post Office, Friday evening, March 16, and double postage paid. The same evening a $100 bill was exchanged at a Broker's office, for a boy whose replies when questioned, were rather suspicious, which has finally led to a disclosure. The letter containing the 500 dollar bill, which was torn in two, was yesterday found in the rear of Joy's buildings.—Boston Trav.

From a French Paper.

The following horrid occurrence is said to have taken place in a lonely house at the camp de Lune, arrondissement of St. Menehould. The account is extracted from the Echo de l'Est;—"A person of the department of the Marine, who had about him a sum of 800 francs, was arrested towards the close of the day in a forest, by a fellow who demanded his purse or his life. "My purse is light, said he, six francs is all it contains." "Give them, said the robber, and pass on your way." The traveller was scarcely out of the woods when perceiving a light in the fields, and afraid of being attacked by other thieves, he thought it prudent to direct himself towards a lonely house and ask for refuge. He there found a woman alone, to whom he related what had happened him, not forgetting to add, that by his presence of mind he had saved his 800 francs. The woman readily consented to give him a bed, and conducted him to a back room. Her husband, who was no other than the thief of the forest, came in soon after, and she told him what he already half knew. The worthy couple immediately laid a plan to assassinate their guest, which was fortunately overheard by the traveller, who armed himself with a heavy stick, and resolutely awaited his murderers. The husband seizing a large kitchen knife, and the woman a hatchet, went streight to the stranger's room. The door was barricaded; they broke it open, a conflict ensued in the dark, in which the stranger, by a blow with his stick, felled the husband to the earth. The woman concluding that it was the traveller whom she heard fall, struck several blows with her hatchet on the head of the victim, and thus accomplished the death of her husband. Justice is inquiring into the circumstances; but if these facts be exact, Divine justice has already avenged society."

CONFECTIONARY STORE FOR SALE

THAT fine Confectionary establishment, situated at the corner of Canal and Camp streets; enjoying the advantage of being situated between the city and fauxbourg, and near to several hotels, and certainly one of the best establishments of the kind in the city, from the custom which it enjoys. To any person disposed to invest their money in a profitable business, the purchaser of this establishment offers great advantages. It is not necessary that the purchaser should understand the business, as six slaves will be sold with the establishment, who understand it perfectly, and are fully able to conduct it under superintendance. The person disposed to purchase may be satisfied of this, by residing for fifteen days in the establishment, and seeing it conducted. The period since the proprietor had the establishment, about 28 month, he has made out of it, eight or ten thousand dollars; the only reason that compels him to dispose of it now, is his daily ill health. For further particulars apply to Mr. N. Durel, or to the proprietor on the premises.

NEW ORLEANS, April 10, 1832.

The judgment pronounced by the supreme court of this state, cannot be too well understood by the public, seeing that they are not indifferent to it.

The judgment rendered by the district court, on the 15th of last April, No. 9, 251, was confirmed, yesterday, by the supreme court. This judgment was pronounced in a case, instituted by Stephen Henderson and others, against the mayor et al., to try the right which they had to pass an ordinance to demolish the buildings, etc. on the batture in Faubourgs Delor and Jandet. In this judgment it is said, "The navigable rivers are the public roads, and all those who put impediments to the free use of them, or to the free usage of their banks, which are common to all, make a nuisance which ought to be removed."

This judgment of the district court, in French and English, can be had at Mr. Boiman's book store.—Price one bit.
