

THE BEE.

Published and printed daily by JEROME BAYON. Days of publication during the summer Tuesday, Thursday & Saturday. SATURDAY MORNING, AUGUST 18, 1854.

REPUBLICAN TICKET. FOR PRESIDENT, ANDREW JACKSON. FOR VICE PRESIDENT, MARTIN VAN BUREN.

GOVERNOR, J. B. DAWSON. Electors of President and Vice President: First District—JOHN B. PIAUCHE, Second District—THOMAS W. SCOTT, Third District—FRANCOIS LANDRY, Fourth District—ALEXANDER MOUTON, Fifth District—JACQUES BOISSIER.

Why does "MENTHE" who writes so well upon subjects of general literature, waste his attention upon the small posters of the newspapers? We have no patience with him, on the score of his communication in this day's paper, wherein he makes a serious charge against a writer in another journal, without offering the slightest proof of his allegation, except that of a vague, interesting impression, upon his own memory.

We have one word more to our correspondent, for whom, after all, we have the greatest respect. He knows our habits sufficiently well to be assured that our own time must be devoted, principally, and at times, almost exclusively, to political subjects; and yet he knows equally well that we are far from being insensible to the charms of literature.

Yet how is this to be provided? If the perpetual conflicts in which the editor is engaged, have not hardened his heart, and rendered it callous to subjects of lighter literature, his time is at least so incessantly occupied, as to prevent his devoting much attention to them.

"THE USURPER."—The opposition press announces the present chief magistrate an usurper. They make this denunciation upon the sole ground that the president refused to usurp unconstitutional powers himself, and refused to permit the congress of the United States to do so, by the exercise of the only preventive means,—his veto.

operating a while in this manner they would again inundate the country with money. When property shall have risen to a high value, direct taxation of the circulation will be imposed, and a new era will be opened.

Another power of but little less magnitude, is the power of protecting American industry, as it is called. This power is vested in the federal government, and is exercised over the whole capital and labor of the United States and territories. It consists in a complete control over the laborers in particular species of employments, by giving them high rewards, and making their profits flow from the pockets of others, operating upon them as penalties, it will readily consent, that she will control the capital and labor of the Union.

We are sorry that we have it not in our power to take this time to give the details of the proceedings in this regard. It is possible that the opposition, with such facts staring in its face, will persist in urging to the rescue of general Jackson a usurper! What does he desire power for? Himself? He will live but a few years, and he has refused to exercise very great ones even when urged to do so.

An evening paper, which, with unwearied courtesy, attributes the statement of the number of the Bee, that Jackson and anti-masonic tickets would have to co-terminate each other in Ohio, to "short memory, or oversight," is informed that it was derived from Lights and Shadows of Modern Times, a new anti-masonic paper, just established at Louisville, and edited by JAMES G. DANA, Esquire, late of the Franklin Commentator, and not from the Globe, as our contemporary seems to infer.

It would seem, too, that the Clayites are quite "easy as to New York," although they have adopted the electoral ticket of the anti-masonic. Laying aside the assurance contained in the address of the convention that formed the ticket, it is enough for those who know chancellor Kent, whose name stands at the head of the ticket, to be assured that he will not accept a nomination for president.

From the Mobile Commercial Register. "Postscript."—The three or four days which elapsed since the publication of the public statement of several of our correspondents, to the extraordinary circumstances and to be connected with the impugnation of the postmaster's office in this city. It was distinctly alleged that the postmaster had become interested in the contracting transporting the mail between Mobile and New Orleans, and was prohibited from doing so by the duties of his station. It was also alleged that he had tendered his resignation to the post office department, and that in the latter part of the month of June he had been appointed to the office of collector of customs at Mobile. Mr. Barry was accused of collusion in permitting Col. Stone to officiate in both capacities, and of expending a gross and palpable violation of the laws of the country. We did not see any of the circumstances which are mentioned in the department, and we were met on this head with the declaration of Mr. Beldin, one of the contractors, that Col. Stone had been interested with them, and with the notwithstanding that for two months he had acted in the capacity of collector of customs, and was prohibited from doing so by the duties of his station. It was also alleged that he had resigned, and the name of a highly respectable individual was given as the resignation; we called on the gentleman referred to, who stated that there was no misapprehension on the subject; that Col. Stone had voluntarily informed him that he was ready to resign, and that he had himself taken the necessary steps to effect his resignation, and that he had been appointed to the office of collector of customs at Mobile, and that he had been appointed to the office of collector of customs at Mobile, and that he had been appointed to the office of collector of customs at Mobile.
