

GOVERNOR. J. B. DAWSON. The Governor has made arrangements with J. G. HARRIS, publisher of the Louisiana Advertiser Price Current, for the continuation of that publication at this office. We hope to be able to resume his labors on Saturday next, at which time we will be furnished a review of the market for the past week, which will be found under its appropriate heading. Mr. H. contemplates the publication of his letter book, which will contain the correct names of all persons who have been named in his correspondence. We have no doubt that he will empty his own notebook, while the publisher of the Bee will be sure to derive substantial advantage from his industry.

By one of the revolutionaries captured at the Priests' house on Wednesday evening, the editors of the Bee, in this city, who are not opposed to the cause of the revolution, are invited to the office of the Bee, in their columns, the proceedings of that body, in the name of General Dumont, at the head of the revolutionaries. We trust that our country will have made its choice between the two sides, by the time the election is over, and advise us in a decisive manner, the proposition of each of the two parties.

The Mercantile and Argus are the only journals that have been published in this city since the revolution. The Mercantile Argus publishes them. "A man is known by the company he keeps." Mr. White is to be with us, but should that happen, a minority will retain Mr. Prieur to the retirement of people life, where his virtues are unquestioned.

Some who are in the Empiricist, has renewed the subject of a division of the city. Why don't they come down to our meeting, when Captain Penn is asleep, and take up the question of the city? That would do them good, and we should then be able to take up the question of the city. "The Mercantile Argus" will retain Mr. Prieur to the retirement of people life, where his virtues are unquestioned.

meeting, the Monday after, will be ready to provide for any occasion, and will accept each page and position in all matters connected with the Bee, and will make the highest bid for the amount of the contract in which we have published. We are, however, not bound to accept of any offer.

FROM SPAIN. Official accounts have been received at the Department of State from the Consul at Cadix, dated 24th September, containing the following notice: Official notice was given some time since, that the Freedom of the Port of Cadix had been suspended, and a decree which was to take effect on the 15th of September, which would deprive our vessels of the privilege of anchoring at that port, or of loading or unloading goods for foreign trade, to be opened in the way when the freedom of the port expires.
