THURSDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 6, 1832.

EDITOR.

J. R. DAWSON.

By yesterday's northern mail, New York papers are received containing the 21st of November. Philadelphia, the 22d, Baltimore and Washington to the 23d, and Charleston to the 27th.

The British ship Minerva, arrived at Charleston on the 26th ult., bringing Liverpool dates to the 17th October, nine days later than those brought by the Pennsylvania, the latest arrival at New York. We have copied from the Courier, a summary of the intelligence by this arrival, as well as the shipping and commercial news, which will be found under their appropriate heads.

FROM TAMPICO.

We have been informed by a passenger of the schooner Express, arrived from Tampico, that before her departure, all people were waiting with anxiety the arrival of the mail, in the expectation to receive the news of the entry of Santa Anna into Mexico. The captain was expected to depart this day for that purpose, but he would not wait.—A few hours after leaving the port, a corresponding rise heard on board that vessel, which led them to believe that the expected news had arrived.

The South Carolina Convention adjourned on the 24th inst. The ordinance of nullification was amended so as to exempt members of the Legislature from taking the oath to support it, required of all other officers under the State. It was also amended on motion of Mr. Turnbull, by striking out of the preamble the words "provide for arresting the operation," and substituting the word "nullify"—so that it now reads, "an ordinance to nullify certain acts, &c. &c." The dance is now commenced—God only knows how it will end!

The Boston Morning Post, received by yesterday's mail, says that it is doubtful whether any choice of Electors, or even of Governor, has been effected by the people of Massachusetts, and that the Governor is hesitating whether to issue his proclamation for an extra session of the Legislature or not. What next!

TO THE EDITOR OF THE NEW ORLEANS BEE.

Will you be good enough to inform me, why the Mayor or the Secretary of the Council, or the City Treasurer, have never published a statement of the amount of receipts and expenditures of the corporation. Every individual citizen is interested in the administration of the money, for which we are so heavily taxable, and every individual has the undoubted right to inquire into the secrets of those who receive and dole out the public funds.

Yours, DEBIT & CREDIT.

We confess ourselves, having no access to the accounts of the City Treasury. This matter would be referred to those whose duty it is to attend to it.—Editor.

At a meeting of the New-Orleans St. Andrews Society held in Mr. Patton's Hotel, on their first anniversary, viz: the 30th September, 1832; where they sat down to a splendid supper under the superintendence of Mr. Patton, when the following toasts and sentiments were given:

St. Andrews Day—the day we celebrate in the memory of the country we left. Song, Auld Lang Syne

The President of the United States—Prosperity to the land we live in. Song, The Star Spangled Banner.

The memory of Wallace and Washington—Who fought for the liberty and independence of their countries. Drank in silence.

Robert De Bruce and the battle of Bannockburn. Song, Scots Wha ha' wi' Wallace bled.

The memory of Charles Carroll of Carrollton—The last of the signers of our glorious independence. Drank in silence.

The Hibernian Society of New Orleans, and its worthy members. Song, Erin go Bragh.

Governor Roman, and the enterprising citizens of Louisiana. Song written on the occasion by Mr. Robert Robertson.

Saint Andrew did range round this planet to find
A set of gaels Scottice to gayety inclined;
And where to preside, as it were, o'er his own,
He chose it with mirth and with pleasure to crown;
That dear, precious freedom, the Scotchman's ensign,
Then fill to your bumpers, and quaff without measure,
This Saint will descend to augment our pleasure.

Each Scotchman has held, whose soul did retain
That spirit of freedom, which marks the Scotch chain,
Wherever he's doomed o'ertoss wide world to roam,
To make, for one night, a real Scottish home;
In showing that spirit, as loyal and free
That enflamed our Wallace with pureest liberty!
Then fill up, &c.

Let the star-spangled banner and eagle long spread,
That spirit if freedom, for which Wallace bled;
And ne'er shame the heroes, who died to be free,
With Washington, Warren and Montgomery;
Let the thorn and the thistle, in union combine,
To shield the dear rights of our sires O'Lang Syne!
Then fill, &c.

The memory of Sir Walter Scot—our distinguished countryman. In silence.

Auld Ovey—The consistent friend of the people and the British reformers.

The health of Lord Brougham—the moral steam-engine and a descendant of the immortal Dr. Robertson.

The memory of Julian Paydras—the benefactor of the colonies. In silence.

Auld Caledonia—the land that was never conquered.—Song, Ill the garb of Old Gael.

After the above toasts were given the following were volunteered by the gentlemen named.

By Alex. Dignity:—Scotland—her patriotism is as firm as her mountains,—and trusty as her claymore.

By Mr. John Biggar—The memory of those Frenchmen who fought and fell for liberty in the years 1789, 1792 and 1830.

By Mr. John Lyall—Love of country,—the heart that is cold to its native land, can never be warm to that of its adoption.

By Mr. Wm. Pettrey—The memory of the Ayrshire Bard—Robert Burns.

By Mr. John Biggar—The health of Daniel O'Connel the Irish Patriot.

By David Bertram.—To the unmerried members of the St. Andrews' Society—the "Kirk of Scotland."

By Alex. M'Gregor—The fair sex of Louisiana, and those of the land we left. Song, Gee ma ceanny bard o gee.

New-York, Nov. 20.

From Matanzas.—By advices from Matanzas up to the 12th September, received by the Elma Cook, it appears that another attempt had been made to overthrow the existing government, by a party of the correspondence with emigrants of Buenos Ayres. These letters were intercepted, and the plot discovered in time to defeat it. The Argentine consul resided at Matanzas, and the La Plattans colonel Pinto was arrested. They had calculated on gaining over the garrison of Matanzas, and were so confident of success that they had actually divided from Buenos Ayres with an account of their victory.—Com. Adv.

Arrival by Mr. Rives.—We learn that it has been determined by a number of our citizens to embark in Mr. Rives' ship Monticello to France, the completion of a public testimonial of respect is well deserved. Mr. Rives believe; discharged the duties of his station to the entire satisfaction of his countrymen in France, and we presume that his fellow citizens, without distinction of party, will cheerfully unite in the proposed testimonial so long as to the integrity and official conduct, when to the estimation in which he is held as a private citizen.—ib

TWO DAYS LATER.

CHARLESTON, Nov 27.

The fast sailing Br. ship Elmwood, Capt. Attlay, arrived this morning from Liverpool, and has brought us one file of London papers to the 17th ult. both inclusive; with London Shipping Lists.

We find in them very little news in addition to that contained in the Liverpool papers by the President, at Mobile.

The French ministry is dead, upon the authority of the most French papers, but to be improving and the anticipated greatness of the politicians or in the [illegible] of the promised people of the capital, and the [illegible] unanimously to have sworn the [illegible] the new cabinet. Since its formation [illegible] new Peers have been created.

[illegible] Liverpool, Oct. 17.

We have now for nearly three weeks past had a steady and limited demand for cotton, but with an unusually heavy market owing under circumstances. The decline has been nearly 1-8 per lb. from the highest point of the market, (which occurred in the last week in Sept.) and is only in the common qualities. The middling has at no time been very freely offered in this quarter, and towards the close of the past week there was a more general demand, and decidedly more firmness in the market. The value of good and fine qualities is maintained fully as high as at any former period of the season, particularly good Upland, which is decidedly scarce. The sales for the week ending 6th inst. were 10,000 bales, and for the past week they amounted to 10,700 bales. Of the latter 4,6000 were Upland at 6 2-4 to 7 7-8; 1000 Orleans at 6 3-4 to 8 1-2; Alabama and Mobile at 6 1-2 to 7 3-4, and 120 Sea Island at 11 1-2 to 13 1-2 per lb. About 1000 bales were taken on speculation. This week has opened with a fair steady demand and a firm market, the sales yesterday were about 2,500 bales. The import of cotton into Liverpool since the 1st January is 672,000 bales, against 714,000 to same period last year, though in the supply from the U. States there is an increase of 38,000 bales. The stock now in Liverpool is estimated at about 247,000 bales, of which about 186,000 is American cotton.

"There is still a limited demand for fresh sweet Flour in bond for export at 28s 6d per bbl.

"We have a better demand for Turpentine at rather high er rates, some sales of prime quality having been made at 10s 6d per cwt. American Tar is scarce, and 500 bbls. of very good has obtained the advanced price of 14s 6d per bbl. Nothing doing in Clover Seed. The Tob'co market is firm, with sales retained.

"Cotton, Upland 6 1-2; to 7 3-4; Orleans 6 5-8 a 8 1-2; Alabama 6 1-2 to 7 3-8; Sea Island 11 1-2 a 18; Stained do. 6 a 9 1-2; Flour, Ordn, per bbl. 26s a 28s; do in bond 18s a 22s 6d; Wheat, Irish, per 70 lbs. 6s 8d to 8s 3d; do. in bond 4s 9d a 6s; Rice, do 10s a 18s 6d; Cloversead, pub cwt. 60s a 66s; Quercitron Bark 7s 6d a 8s; Turpentine 10s a 10s 11d; Tar 12 a 14s; Tobacco, Va. leaf, 2 1-2 to 5; stemmed 3 1-2 a 8 1-4; Kentucky leaf 2 1-4 a 4; stemmed 3 1-2 a 5."

Liverpool, Oct. 17.—The cotton market is rather dull, and the consumers appear disposed to purchase as lightly as possible, and not to hold large stocks than are required for immediate use. The holders, however, are very firm, and will not sell below the market price. The general sales are for Uplands 6d. a 7 3-4d; Mobile 7 a 7 1-2d; Alabama 6 5-8 a 7d; Orleans 7 1-4 a 7 3-4d. We have this week arrivals from Charleston, Savannah and New Orleans which we believe will nearly close the imports of the old crop. The accounts generally received are in favor of the new crop being an abundant one.

"American Tar is so scarce that it has been sold at 14s 6d. per barrel."

"Oct. 17.—Our cotton market to-day has been very quiet so far, and our brokers expect only a moderate business will be done; the feeling of holders does not appear to have undergone any change."

DOMESTIC MARKETS.

FOREIGN COMMERCE OF NEW-YORK.

New Years, Nov. 29.—Comparative Statement of the amount of duties that accrued in the Port of New-York in the year 1831, and the probable amount that will accrue in the year 1832:—

1st Quarter of 1831,		$3,954,533
2d do.	do.	5,586,220
3d do.	do.	6,792,514
4th do.	do.	3,750,253
		$20,096,125
1st Quarter of 1832,	done	$6,956,695
2d do	do.	3,719,000
3d do.	do. ascertained amount,	3,562,000
4th do.	do. supposed not to exceed	3,500,000
		16,879 316
Decrease of revenue in 1832,		$13,226,819

A large proportion of this decrease of revenue is occasioned for by the reduction of duties on the 1st of January last, on several articles that constituted principal items of income, say teas, coffee, and salt, the first of which was reduced about 60 per cent., the second 50 per cent, and the third 33 1-3 per cent on the then existing rates of duty; to this explanation may be added the fact, that the importations of 1831 exceeded by far in amount those of any preceding year, and were much larger than the consumption of the country required, which consequently had a tendency to reduce the imports of the present year.

The actual decrease of duties, however, will be much greater than in the proportion stated above, and will no doubt materially reduce the amount stated by the Secretary of the Treasury in his report to congress as the probable revenue to be derived on imports for the year 1832. In that report it appears it was not contemplated, that the actual imports would fall short of 1831—they have done so to a very large amount, and when to this is added a great increase of merchandize shipped for re-exportation for the purpose of saving the higher duty, the debentures on which must be paid principally out of revenue of 1832, we are of opinion that the estimate of the fiscal officer of government, instead of exceeding the sum exhibited by him, in that document, which the leaders of the anti-tariff system in congress, repeatedly declared was deceptive, it will be found when the accounts of 1832 are made up, that the revenue will materially fall short of the sum stated in the report to which we allude.—Standard.
