We have been requested to announce James PRADFORD, They as a candidate to represent the second district of this an enemy without pictics or discipline, but sanguinary and altrocious in the extreme. The problemation concludes by state in congress.

The northern mail furnishes nothing save motley, out of date papers. We have, however, Charleston papers of the 30th of May, from which we can easily account for this daily, this increasing, this dispairing irregularity in the mail sardage. The Mercury of the 30th says that five northern dies, declare they never found the heat in those countries napers were received, at that data, in a state of dissolution! We stated, some three or four months ago, that the community had been endormie by "satisfactory letters" and filusive promises. It seems that our merchants will not awake from their apathy; for our part we are verily, tired with howling in the wilderness. The ravages of the cholera excepted, we know of no diner curse, inflicted on the city of New Orleans, than the mail failures.

We beg leave to mention to our correspondent, Howard, that a special committee of the city council has been appoint ed, in the very spirit of his communication; the members of the committee will certainly consult the safety of their fellow citizens, and enforce the provisions of the law. Strict domiciliary visits have, to our knowledge, already. Some of the hints of our correspondents—the article of lime instance -iad already been anticipated; and we entertain no doubt but his suggestions shall not have been offered in vain.

Respectfully, Sir, yours, HOWARD. John Rendolph, of Romoke. This eccentric man is no more. He died in Philadelphia on Friday last, in the 60th year of his age. He was one of the most extraordinary men that ever lived. He was perhaps unrivalled as a debutor. possessing talents of a high order, and an intrepidity which feared nothing; intellectual resources which never failed him; information which grasped the whole field of human knowledge; a biting sarchent which caused every antigonist to tremble; beloved by his constituents to such a degree that they followed him in all his political meanderings, in which he was perhaps never excelled, if he ever hid an equal. He has long been a conspicuous actor upon the public stage; and what cannot perhaps be said of any other mun may be said of him, that there has never been an administration to which, at one time or other he has not been opposed. But he is gone; and with his remains all-crimin and all his failts should be buried. May the good he ha done live after him; the avil lie interred with his bones. His remains were brought to our city yesterday, on their way to the place of his residence in Virginia. - Baltimore

By the brig Orient, arrived at New York, we have received the British Packet of the 25th of March, from which we have made the following extracts:

We have very little to record, or to remark upon, this week, as it regards affairs, there being very little news stirring, either foreign or domestic.

The government of Tucuman has forwarded 4000 hard dollars to general Quirogs, in sid of the expedition against the Indians: which the latter, in a letter of thanks dated San Juan, 3d January, slates he has deposited in the treasury of the province of San Juan. The Weather.—The extraordinary heat during the las week and at the commencement of the present one, has probably never been exceeded, nor perhaps equalled, in Buonos Ayres; at least many of the oldest inhabitants say io; and those who have resided in Brazil and the West Is here. It is singular that such weather should prevail a his advanced period of the summer, or rather in what might called the first month of autuum,

A quantity of floating islands, from the Parana, &c, have istely made their appearance off Buenes Ayres, brought hither by the prevailing northerly winds. It is said that snakes have often been found upon thes floating substances. At a distance, they look like small vessels, or boats. During the beautiful and the said of the s ng the Brazilian war, an alarm was given that the enemy's coats were pulling to the Inner Roads; they proved to be a number of those islands; which had been driven towards the shore by a strong easterly wind.

Shipureck and Loss of Lives .- Intelligence was received last evening from Patchong, south side of Long Island, that the British ship James Henry Cummings. Captain Fox, from Liverpool for this port, went ashore at that place, on Tuesday last, during a dense fog. She had a cargo of dry goods and salt: and about one hundred and fifty passengers. A boat coming ashore was upset and two ladies drowned, the remainder of the passengers and crew were safely landed—the vessel will be lost. This ship sailed from Liverpool on the 30th of March.—N. Y. DOMESTIC SILK.

When on an excursion to the-country a few days since we found, much to our surprise and graufication, that some of our female friends had turned their attention to the culture of Silk; and that many of them had made such progress in this laudable experiment, as already to have realized considerable profit from the production of the raw material, and munufacturing it into cloth. Mrs. Patrick Calhoun, of this District, who, among her other many excellent vir-tues; is remarkable for her industry and attention to her industry and attention to her matters of domestic concern ment, shewed us in a house which she had fitted up for the purpose, at least, we should say, 100,000 silk worms, all healthy and busily engaged, some of them in forming the coccon and others fitting themselves for the production of that valuable material. Mrs. Calhoun, who had tried the experiment last year on a smaller scale than she is coing present, assured us that she had no doubt, should no inforsien accident occur, she would be able to raise silk nough by the latter part of August, to manufacture more ban a hundred vards of cloth. We know of two other ladies in this District, Mrs. Covington and Mrs. Baskin, who have been similarly engaged for several years, and we have seen soline pieces of silk coth manufictured by them, which, when worked up into of its raritty, but also for its beauty, durability and cheap-ness. We hope that more of our ladies will turn their atcontion to this interesting, prohiitable, and laudable em-ployment, and that we will be pardoned by those whose sames we have given to the public, for having done so without their permission .- Abberille Whig.
