The Louisians need be under no apprehension that there will first want of smartiers, so long as Mr. White shall have the superimption to continue a candidate for the gubernatorial chair. That gentleman's political life affords too many varied and striking incidents for the "material" to give out so maily. We have only referred to his incapicity in general derid developments of his boyten genius. Has the Louisinua nothing more potent to sirge against General Dawson than the batch of assertions it has lately put forth? We merely ask for in ormation.

Dogs the correspondent who signs himself was reli ciana," in the Louisiana of yesterday, think it reasonable or just that a parish judge should be perpetually in the discharge of his duties, without the privilege of being absent from his vocations a few waeks in the year. If he does, we feel assured that the generous, noble and liberal people whose sentiments he would represent do not, nor would they under any consideration require such a sacratics.

. We have judges from the several parishes of the state who daily visit us, some on pleasing and others on business, and not one word of exception is taken to their absence. It is remewhat strange that Gon. Dawson should be deprived the same privilege. His being merely a candidate for govdoes not alter the case in the least: it only gives the clug why he is singled out, and shows that malice and envy, numbers are Adeking to his standard—are at the bottom. It is apprehented that all those citizens who have imbibed unhyorable impressions from false and biased statements, will be undoceived should they happen to fall into his company. This explains the respons why "West, Feliciana," whose real agnature should be Bayou Lafourche, manifests so much anxiety about "the marriage licenses," and seems so desir sete prohibit the judge from stirring from the precincts of his indicial vocations.

MEETING OF CITIZENS. permance of public notice, a large concourse of citizens abled at the Washington ball-room to take into consideration the opposition of Mr. Burths, in the sense against pludging the faith of the state to the charter of the Citizens Bank, and to adopt recolutions recommending that body to re-consider its votes.
On motion, Burnard Marigny, Esq. was called to the chair, J. B. Araund appointed vice-president, and Feli-Grinne, Begt appointed secretary.

The chair explained the object of the meeting in a warm and vigorous address, and after having expatiated on the adcourages that would have resulted from the adoption of the measure, and the effect of Mr. Burthe's vote in prejudicing its he) Louisiana owes her prosperity. Had it not been for banks we should not behold so many fine buildings in our cities, and so many fine country residences. Would agriculture have been susceptible of so great developments?-Did not England owe her safety for the last twenty years to her banking system, and that daring speriod of war? He thought, independent of many weighty considerations, that the state had nothing to apprehend by pledging its faith to the Citizens' bank bill. On the contrary, he was of opinion that it would be of incalculable advantage, as the revenue of the state had since 1803, considerably segmented. The Baltimere Republican, in the state of the finance committee on the finances, observes:

"We lay before our renders the report of the finance committee on the subject of the bank and the deposites, drawn by Mr. Webster. And what does it all amount to. Look at it. Does it propose any legislative action? Nothing of the kind. The opposition have complained that the administration have proposed no measures for the relief of the country, and what has the committee proposed of the kind? Nothing and what has the committee proposed of the kind? Nothing emphatically nothing. It is a mere argument, which might just as well have been delivered in the form of a speach, succept that the opposition hope and expect that being placed in the fining of a report will give more effect to it. We think it must be finearded as a miserable movement to deceive the public and one which is entirely unworthy of Mr. Webster's fame.
