S. M. MOUTON.

lighter, and it will now be in the power of the U.S. Bank to continue the present state of things, and to render Relief at hand.

The demise of Captain George D. Collier, Esq., of New York—grandson of Capt. Collier D. Collier, the celebrated author of the History of the Five Nations, a son of the late governors of New York when a colony of Great Britain—is announced to the New York public. The deceased himself was an eminent attorney, and had played a conspicuous part in the politics of his state.

Mr. Barrett, the editor and proprietor of the Delineator, has been compelled to publish a pamphlet, in defense of Sun one of O'Connell's letters to the people of Ireland. Mr. O'Connell implored us to counsel for the defense. It is somewhat singular to see the publisher of a libel at second hand, defended by the writer of the libel. Mr. O'Connell's speech in the House of Commons, in which he asserted that he had done by his royal signature, in behalf of the Queen, what various districts of the country claimed are represented to be in a very disturbed state.

The Proxie.—Too independent to be corrupted by the influence of gold or the power of office.

This account is transmitted by our distinguished Senator, William Wilkins, on the 28th instant, to the democratic editor of Spring Garden and Penn Township. It is a language fit of the honest people of Pennsylvania, who are able to represent. It is longer a question of the Union Bank, than of the Bank of New Orleans. It is now a contest between an insolent and corrupt institution, leagued with the nullifiers on one hand and the nation on the other, and the republican people of the American people. The Bank and its friends, Clay and Calhoun, are the chief authors of the present distresses, which we desire as they are.

Senator O'Conor reflect that his motives to act in this matter were to establish a bank of his own, and beneficial to all.

What is this? Is Mr. O'Conor, the man who should not fear to sacrifice the purity of the character of the Union Bank, and who did not give a moment's pause until the bill was corrected, revised and printed, that is, going under now to obtain signature to the petition against the Cato? Is this so? Mr. O'Conor like Senator Nicholas, has his fortune more at stake than any thing else. Does Mr. O'Conor reflect that his motives to act in this matter were to establish a bank of his own, and beneficial to all?

Yesterday morning Mr. Burleigh, taking advantage of the absence of Mr. Nichols, exerted himself to have the Citizen's Bank Bill brought under immediate consideration. Mr. Hart, very properly moved that it should be laid on the table in order to afford Mr. Nicholas an opportunity to vote upon the question. The attempt to carry a point by strategem is a very vain mechanism.

Is not the St. Philippe street ballroom in the city, and is not it a favorite place for a general meeting as any where? A vast concourse of the citizens did meet there, and we are prepared to show that the sentiments entertained were those of the mass of our people.

At the start, Prof. Aguirre arrived last evening, Venerable teacher, and his students have been received, but they are absent at present.

Several Operas have been produced at the American Theatre in a style and splendor deserving of lavish consumption. The combined musical talents of Mr. Sinclair, Mrs. Austin, Miss Clara Fisher, aided by an orchestra, which is as yet constituted, little inferior to the Orleans Theatre—create every harmony of sound which the most judicious minds can contrive, while nothing on the score of size, illumination, decorations or dresses, can fail to give the outre mesure the most striking effect.

Carriages and Attire have been produced in a style that no carriage and attire deserves.

Attire, in which there is much fine and beautiful music to be treated this evening, and we recommend it to the attention of amateurs, as possessing peculiar attraction.

The Louisville Advertiser conveys the creditable intelligence that the Directors of the Louisville Branch Bank have appointed to "take the responsibility" or "raise" to carry into effect the plan of the bank into execution. This tells for the independence and pride of these gentlemen.

Resolutions, to the foregoing, and these resolutions have been adopted by the committee appointed by the constituents of certain districts, similarly situated, more immediately within our city.

The same paper in connection with the foregoing, makes a remark highly honorable to the citizens of Louisville. It says "the resolute orders of the bank will be enforced in the section." We wish therefore despatched by her immediate.

We will not be surprised by necessity and unexpected extenuation. This is the determination of the people—and it will be adhered to." What a pity other enterprisers are not so independent and noble a spirit.

We should then have fewer exhibitions of the ambitious designs of the money-lenders.

A meeting has been held at Savannah on the subject of the removal of the Deposits. Dr. Geo. Jones, and a citizen of N. Y. as secretary. The meeting rejected a motion to withdraw in favor of restoration of the deposits at a rate of 5%.

Ohio lately resolved to grant the preference to the individuals who had applied to that body for an act of incorporation for the Anti-Slavery Society. The committee to whom it was referred having reported unfavourably, giving the Anti-Slavery Society a negative vote.
