PRINTED AND PUBLISHED DAILY, BY JEROME RAYON,
STATE PRINTER.
"THE UNION—IT MUST BE PRESERVED."

MONDAY MORNING, JAN. 5, 1835.

The Editor of the LOUISIANA RECORDER has requested us to inform the subscribers to that paper, who have not received the 1st number, that the neglect has been occasioned by the want of full names, or numbers of residence and street, accompanying the principal list of subscribers. He requests them to send to the publishers (E. Johns & Co. No. 81, Charles st.) for the paper, and leave their names and address there, or at any of the book-stores where subscription lists are left; that the oversight may be remedied and future omissions prevented.

Our legislature are to meet to-day. It is believed that a sufficient number of members will be in attendance to form a quorum. It is to be hoped that the present session will be one of business, and not one of idle palavering.

☞ We have received some strictures upon the drama which we must decline publishing, because we think they are harsher than the occasion calls for, if amelioration be desired.

It gives us more than common pleasure to notice the arrival of Mr. Power, the Irish commedian. He is to appear on Tuesday evening.

A New-York paper of the 13th says—"Orders have been received at the Navy Yard from Washington, to have all the vessels now on the stocks in such a state of forwardness as to allow of their being launched within thirty days' notice."

The National Gazette remarks upon the foregoing—"This would be a proper precaution, supposing that war is apprehended as even a possibility not very remote. The number of our public vessels afloat or prepared for movement, is not such as it ought to be with a lowering sky. It behoves the Government to consider also what is the relative American and French naval force at the various stations in the two hemispheres."

Greenwood Leflore, an Indian, and late chief of the Choctaws, has been elected to the Legislature of Mississippi. This is the first aborigine who has sat in the legislature of any of the states.

The Natchez Courier rejoices at his election on the score that he is an anti-Jackson man. We feel no surprise that whilli is against the administration, since the government have removed his monument-ized brethren from the abodes of the "pale faces."

The election for chancellor in Mississippi is still in suspense, although it is believed that Mr. Foote has been elected.

The Louisiana Recorder has made its appearance. It is under the editorial supervision of Dr. J. A. Kennicott, assisted by several gentlemen of distinguished literary pretensions. We have perused several of the articles which are highly creditable to the authors, particularly that of "A homeless gentleman." The establishment of a literary periodical is decidedly a desideratum in this community, and should receive a liberal support.

Mr. POLK, chairman of the committee of ways and means, has introduced some very important bills. One, regulating the deposites of the public money in the state banks. Another, providing for the sale of the government stock in the bank of the United States. A third, to repeal so much of an act as requires the bank of the United States to perform the duties of commissioner of loans for the several states.

"RATE OF INTEREST.—It is asserted in the Alabany Evening Journal, that the U. States Bank, after the 1st day of January next, will reduce its rate of interest on discounts to FIVE per cent. Is this the fact? And if it is a fact, what can be the cause and the object of this determination? Has it been found to be less difficult to draw in its funds than was apprehended, and that in consequence of the abundance of money in the market in proportion to the demand for it, the Bank, in order to keep its money out, is compelled to reduce its rate of discount? Has the pressure subsided and the panic passed over? Or is the Bank anxious to flood the country again with its notes, with the view of driving the specie out of circulation, and then create another pressure and panic by suddenly curtailing its discounts."

To the Editor of the Bee.

SIR,

The stockholders of the Pontchartrain Rail Road Co. are to elect on Monday next a Direction for the Co. for the ensuing twelve months. I beg leave to offer for their consideration the following ticket, which will restore unity of action and bring forward the resources of that valuable improvement in a manner that will give confidence to the public, and profit to the stockholders:

E J FORSTALL, JOHN HEWLETT,
R L BOOKER, ROBERT LAYTON,
J LEBEAU, Wm C C CLAIBORNE,
H W HOFFMAN. E. P.

To the Editor of the Bee.

SIR,—It is a principle of sound policy, that industry should be left free to its own natural bent, to follow those channels of trade which are found most profitable, or better adapted to the means or inclinations of those by whom they are selected. No laws should therefore be enacted to prescribe the course of industry or mete out its profits; and a legislative body incurs a fearful responsibility, when it attempts thus to interfere in a matter with which it should have nothing to do. The President, whose feelings are identified with those of the people and who has ever been the most uncompromising opponent of monopolies and privileges, very sagaciously observes in his last message "to suppose that because our government has been instituted for the benefit of the people, it must therefore have the power to do whatever may seem to conduce to the public good, is an error into which even honest minds are apt to fall." The President is right. Many honest men are apt to come to this conclusion, without reflecting that the exercise of a power of this kind is destructive of the great ends of society, since it tends to create, or at least strengthen those unequalities of wealth and influence, from which originate those dangers to person and property, against which all governments were intended to guard. The weak thus rendered still more weak, while the powerful are made in a corresponding ratio still more powerful.

A spirit of the kind we have just hinted at, we think has induced the persecution that has been got up against the pedlars of our city.

Tart elass, whose means are too limited to rent stores, are obliged to carry their goods, and to endure the exposure of the climate, unsheltered, upon the levee, in order to obtain their subsistence. It is not presumed that the community are injured by the competition between them and the store keepers; on the contrary it is urged as a most powerful argument against them, that they undersell the store-keepers.—Admitting this, the community in place of suffering are benefitted by the rivalship. But this is not the only advantage derived, the store keepers are prevented from entering into any combination, which from a similarity of interest, they might do, to the detriment of buyers.

It is a somewhat curious fact, that the most violent opponents of the pedling system are the very men who were themselves originally pedlars, but who have been enabled from the profits derived therefrom to establish stores.

It is not necessary here to enter into any argument to show that cupidity is at the bottom of all the opposition got up, and that all the outcry is raised by interested men, who would centre in themselves all the trade of our city.

If we cannot pass over in silence, the abusive language used in an extremely indecent article in the Louisiana advertiser of Saturday last. Not content with cutting the dollars off entirely from participating in business, the most opprobious epithets are applied to them. They are called knaves and vagabonds, and are taunted with being foreigners. As to the latter charge, it is one which confers no disgrace, when it is recollected that Emmett, and several other distinguished men were foreigners, but when they did become American citizens, they were never found wanting in their allegiance to their country.

A coarse and indecorous language is not calculated to convince the sober and reflecting. To call a man a thief, is no evidence that he is one, unless some satisfactory proofs can be adduced in support of the same. To say the least of these whol sale denunciations, they are but mere artifices to carry away the passions of the community, without either convincing their reason or judgment. It would be easy to retort upon the writer, but that would not be advancing the cause of justice, which is the object of the present communication, which, we appeal to you Mr. Editor, as an impartial and disinterested individual, to give publicity to in your columns, although it may so happen that you may differ from the propositions, and deductions therein.

O'CONNELL.

From the Mobile Register.

Public attention is keenly fixed on the accomplishment of the Tombeckbee, a grand central canal of navigation, from New-Orleans, or Mobile, to Washington and Baltimore, and thence to the extreme North East. We constantly meet, in our exchange papers, with speculations upon the prospects of some one of the detached works, which are projected along the route, and propositions are also made for extending and joining them into a continuous line. Meetings and conventions are urging on the spirit of enterprize, and pointed out to individual capitalists, and state sagacity, the immense public advantages, and private profit, that must result from success. Newspapers discuss the details, and the whole is enlightened and enlarged self interest, the practicability and means of speedily accomplishing this vast undertaking. Part of some of these discussions we copy this morning from the Philadelphia Commercial Herald, with which reading is, because it points out how much the citizens of it's town, and the state generally, have at stake in the work. With energy befitting the wealth and spirit of our people, and the resources of the state, the channel which it is proposed to unite into one central avenue of trade, may be directed through Alabama, and made to pour into the state treasury, a vast annual revenue, and raise her commercial port into one of the chief markets for the produce of the entire South, rivalling in wealth and population, the chief commercial cities of the Atlantic.

We hope that these considerations will be well weighed by our legislature. They have before them a most important proposition, recommended by the Governor, in his Message, and urged upon the r favor by the concurrent testimony of the most intelligent and discreet men in the state, in trade and revenue. The junction of the waters of the Tennessee with those of Mobile Bay, in some form if not by the precise route, or in the precise mode proposed by the bill before them, is of too great importance to be postponed or defeated by any discussions concerning petty details.—Cannot all parties who really desire the enterprise to be undertaken, unite first in settling that the work shall be done, and then entrust to some competent and disinterested board, the arrangement of the minor points, as may, after full examination, be considered best for the interests of the whole work, and the whole state? We hope that it will be considered in this spirit, and the present session not allowed to expire without some efficient steps in forwarding the work.

NEW-ORLEANS, Jan. 3.

REMARKS.

The market has sustained no very important changes since our last number; business, as usual, at this holiday season, is rather dull, and will probably continue so until after the 6th instant, when, it is expected operations will go on with great vigor. The Mississippi remains about as last noticed, and the weather continues as favorable as could be desired.

COTTON—Arrived since the 26th instant: of Louisiana and Mississippi, 11139 bales; Tennessee and North Alabama, 5451; Mo Florida, 210; Texas, 110—together 18515.—Cleared in the same time for Liverpool, 6051; New-York, 451; Boston, 437; Philadelphia, 113—together, 7052 bales—making an addition to stock of 11453, and leaving on hand, inclusive of all on ship-board not cleared on the 1st instant, a stock of 109,145 bales. Since the heavy sales at the close of last week, the market has remained very quiet; buyers, generally, have not evinced much disposition to renew transactions, or, at least, have not manifested a willingness to operate to any great extent; one of the principal cause, perhaps, to which this may be attributed is a desire of receiving further advices from abroad, as we have now been seven days without a Northern Mail. Some of the sales, since our last, are as follows, viz: 1123 bales at 14 1-2, 2000 at 14 3-4, 3000 at 14 3-4, 200 at 15 1-2, 250 at 15, 500 at 1 5-8, 90 at 16 4070 at 15, 435 at 14 1-2, of Louisiana and Mississippi; and 492 at 15, 340 at 14 14, 136 a. 14 1-2, 100 (select) at 17 cents, of Tennessee and North Alabama.—Prices remain without alteration and are very firm.

SUGAR—We continue to quote the same prices; the demand on plantation and in the city is pretty fair, but is less active in consequence of many purchasers having already completed their shipments to the North. Cleared this week: for New-York, 394 hhds. 6 bbls; Philadelphia, 309 hhds. 7 bbls; Coarleston, 332 hhds; Boston, 54 bbls; Richmond, 315 hhds; Mobile, 20 hhds. 30 bbls; Apllachicola, 81 bbls—together, 1424 hhds. 127 bbls.

MOLASSES—Sales on Plantation range from 17 a 18 cents per gallon, with a good demand. In the City, owing to the quantity in market, at the moment, it is rather difficult to effect sales at 21 a 22 cents. Cleared this week: for New-York, 253 hhds. 232 bbls; Philadelphia, 185 hhds. 404 bbls; Charleston, 604 bbls; Boston, 300 hhds. 50 bbls; Richmond, 163 hhds. 93 bbls; Mobile, 133 bbls; Apllachicola, 206 bbls—together, 901 hhds. 1622 bbls.

TOBACCO is in good demand, and there have been some sales of the new crop; but the arrivals are yet too light and sales too small to give quotations. Arrived this week, 202 hhds. Cleared, for Philadelphia, 3 hhds.

FLOUR—The supply continues fair, and the inquiry but limited at quotations. At 84 per bbl. the demand would be brisk. Arrived this week, 7343 bbls.

PORK—We quote Mess at $12 a $12 1-2; Prime $10 a $10 1-2; Cargo, $8. Prices are rendered rather unsettled in consequence of the expected arrivals. Hog-round is selling for 4 1-4 a 4 3-8 cents per lb. Arrived this week, 5185 bbls. 32,750 lbs. in bulk.

BACON has still further declined; Hams are selling for 7 1-2 a 8 1-2: Hog-round, 6 cents per lb; the supply fair and the demand quite moderate. Arrived this week, 52 hhds. 32,960 lbs. in bulk.

BEEF—Transactions are to a fair extent without material change in prices. Arrived this week, 294 bbls.

LARD—We have but to reiterate former remarks: it is plenty and exceedingly dull. Arrived this week, 65 bbls. 9263 kegs.

BAGGING and BALE ROPE.—We quote the former at 25 cents per yard, the latter at 7 a 7 1-2 cents per lb., and in no great demand. Arrived this week, 363 pieces Bagging, 321 coils Rope.

WHISKEY—There is a good stock in market and the demand limited at 30 a 31 cents per gallon. Arrived this week, 2102 bbls.

COFFEE—Present quotations are, for Havana coffee, 12 a 13; Rio 12 1-4 a 12 1-2; the market has a large supply of both qualities, and the demand is quite limited.

SALT—We have heard of nothing that claims a particular remark in relation to this article.

LEAD—Owing to the navigation of the upper Mississippi being obstructed with ice, but little Lead is arriving; a lot that came in since our last, was disposed of at $5 12 1-2 per 100 lbs. Arrived 2940 pigs.

MACKEREL—The stock is heavy and prices have declined a little since our last. Quotations are $7 12 1-2 a $8; 12 1-2 and $5 12 1-2 for Nos. 1, 2 and 3.

TEAS—The market is overstocked, and all kinds are dull at the quoted prices.

CANDLES—Sperm., are plenty and dull, at $1 a 23 cents per lb.

CORN—Sales to a considerable extent have been made during the week, of Shelled, at 60 a 62 1-2 cents per bushel. *In the Ear, the prices are the same, but not so much do*ing. Arrived this week, 7500 bbls. 4820 sacks.

HAY—The quantity in first hands is not large, and the demand is good at 75 a 87 1-2 cents per 100 lbs.

LIME, Thomaston—There continues to be a fair, steady demand for Lime at $1 25 per cask.

FREIGHTS—We continue to quote former rates, but understand that to Liverpool 5 9d. is pretty generally refused, owing to the advanced stage of the season. Shippers, on the other hand, are not disposed to pay an advance on present rates.

FREIGHTS—dull.

LOUISIANA STATE BANK,
New Orleans, 3d January, 1835.
AT a meeting of the Board of Directors, of this Bank, held this day, it was ordered that the following resolution, passed on the 31st of July last, be republished.
Resolved, That the unsubscribed stock of this institution, acquired from the state, be at the end of this month, apportioned on the list of proprietors according to their respective shares, and that a tender of it be made to them, at the rate paid for it, say, twelve per cent premium; on condition, however, that the offer shall be accepted of, and the payment made by them or their successors, on or before the 31st day of January next.
Resolved, That proprietors holding short shares, (three fifths paid) shall be allowed to pay them up, or exchange them for an equal amount in full shares.
Resolved, That all payments on stock made in the interval, between the stated periods of semi-annual settlements, i. e. the 3est July, and 31st January, shall be entitled to interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, in lieu of dividends.
