GREAT GATHERING OF WHITEITES!!!! We are credibly informed that the meeting in the 7th ward at the "Draggon's Head," all told counted from 55 to 60 persons, including idlers, of which from 20 to 25 were from the city of Lafayette. Two or three attempts were made to get an Acration upon the occasion, but without succees. Mr. Deblioux of the Parish of Jefferson, was called or for the purpose, but relused to accede to the call. The meeting was presided by Judge J. W. Shamburg, assisted by a Vice-President and Secretary. So much for the 7th ward It lags behilf as much as any of the rest.

The Louisieus speculates upon the appointment of a Sectostry of State, should spin B. Dawson be elected government touching the removal of the deposition, and the does not on his part. He tells us an improbable to the post, although the mitinates that the surmisses and conjectures among his party, are quite intent the annies, that some mention Martin Gordon, others John R. Grymes, as likely to succeed to the hoors; but that the batter opinion, and the one to which he inclines is, that B. C. C. anong, will be elected out to the post, although he mitinates that Mr. Gordon would be subseted were he to solicit it. He goes on in review of helphalifications of each gentlemen, and tries to be sarcastic, bestowing upon them pretty mich of the same sort of praise. It strikes us as rather frivious for the white itsey have uothing to do. Of one thing they may be assured that no one from their ranks will be chosen. As regards the persons whom they have named, all we have to say is, that they are in our epinien, most egergically decided none of them are likely to be tendered the appointment, and if they are in our epinien, most egergically decided none of them are likely to be tendered the appointment, and if they are in our epinien, most egergical parts of the deposites, because of the surface of the city and the contract of the city of the most except the minimal parts of the surface of the city and parts of the surface of the surface of the city and parts of the city an were, we question much whether they would relinquish their personal case for it. We do not know who General Dawson will appoint; and probably he has not himself turned his to any one person in particular, thinking it tim, the do so, when he is elected. We feel confident o however, that he will not at all he influenced by private feelings, but that he will make the appointment with a view to the general good, selecting him who is most capable, mest worthy and most efficient for the station.

Having satisfied our opponents thus far, we shall not in urn speculate spon whom Mr White may select his Secretary of State, regarding his election as governor, as the far without the bounds of probability, rendering such species lation a matter unworthy of a moment's consideration. Did to me inclined to amuse ourselves in this way we might hold somewhat after this fashion, in which our 'speculat ng' neighbor will find that we have drawn largely upon him for

Some think Judge Perfer will be disch;-may be so;one thing is sure, if he sike for it, of course dismonot, it must set be refused him. Again we have more the name of Henry Johnson mentioned. He would make a most attentive and faithful Secretary-his business and other habits peculiarly the him for the station. But the general opinion accurate the station for the station. But the general opinion accurate from the places most implicit in whose patriotism and opinions he places most implicit condence, and struly but few can be found who will not series with us in thinking him, by his modesty, his retiring mare, and the unequivocal proofs he gove during the tim he sat as a member in the Legislature, of very superior talents, as the statesman of all others must worthy of Secretary of State.

However it is quite po offered the place. Mr White is surrounded by crowds of gontleman of equal worth and talent from whom he may make his selection, but we shall endeavour to release hi from the difficulty of choosing, by electing John B. Dawson

Shame upon the times! when gory-headed faction reigns and rules as the lord of the ascendant. Shame upon the times! when "man may rule the worst, by ever daring to be first." But, it is not strange that disappointed and ambitious leaders, should pursue the course which now characterize the conduct of some of the Senatore, but how strange that any sober and reflecting man, uninfluenced by heir motives, should part cipate in their feelings. The following these services the cone the other is without a parallel. nes explain the one, the other is without a parallel.

"They did not know how pride can stoop, When baffled feelings withering droop; They did not know how hate can burn In hearts once changed from soft to stern; Nor all the false and fata zea! The convert of revenge can feel."

But it is an objection to his election that his military skill would enable him to render service to his country, and that his patriotism would prompt him to sid her in the hour of peril. What American heart, not corroded by envy or feating in corruption, does not beat at the recollection of his chivalrous decks? That does not recollect with pride and statisfaction his brillant achievements during the last wer. chivalrous deeds? That does not recollect with processor satisfaction his brilliant achievements during the last war, by which he gained for himself imperishable laurels, and glory an renown for the arms of his country? Alas! how many canting hypocrites are now shedding crogovernment than he was thou? And this is an objection: Alas! how many canting hypocrites are now shedding crocodile tears over their prostate and bleeding country, who then refused to assist them in defence of that country? Yes, how many cowardly swords are now rendy valiently to leap from their scabbards to be bathed in a brother's blood, that then recreatly sneaked into their thing places! The very Senate clamber can count more than one. Then as now, ambition was their Go!, and they were willing to sacrafice their country at its alian to obtain power and to satisfy its anholy cravings. Sor,—I trust you will do me the justice to insert the following in your paper of tomorrow, in answer to an editorial article which appeared in your paper of to day:

I utterly deny ever having given any, pledge or promise to support for the gubernatorial chair John B. Dawson, at the time of, or previous to, the city elections in April last, or having ever, directly or indirectly, instinuated, or given law, person grasson to believe that I would in any manner.

But another reason why we should support Judge Dawson's election is found in the important fact, that is incorposed to that aristocratic feature in our Compitution, by which affords unequal legis'ative advantages to some of the parishes of the State, while it deprives many of the parishes of their just and equal representation in the Sentantial branch of our Legislature.

Our readers are probably aware that some of the small parishes on and near the Missrssippi river are allowed parishes on and near the Missrssippi river are allowed embraced by that section called F oriday, are allowed only one senator to several of them. For instance, Point Coupse, which gives about 200 vctes, has a Senator, while both the Parishes of East and West Felicians, which poll 800 votes, are allowed only one Senator to both of them. Is this republican justice be remedied?

A sure and speedy remedy of this exil will be found in with the fortunate in the result, or otherwise, count nave noninfluence in determining the issue between the Executive and the cenate.

I have however, stated that if I had be n a member of the House of Representatives, in Congress, I would have voted with the majority, not simply because I am a wern friend in the majority not simply because in an averal friend with the majority and the restoration, under a the correction of the administration, but because the restoration, under a the correction of the administration, but because the restoration, under a the correction of the administration has to the good or bad policy of the administration in so the good or bad policy of the conflict with my opinion as to the good or bad policy of the conflict with my opinion as to the good or bad policy of the constitutional rights removal, at I may not feel sorred.
