have nothing to complain of. Mr. Coldwell is known to be an unwavering friend to the administration, at least his proare other peints involved in the result, that morit attention. I writer in the Louisiana, objected to Mr. McDougail on the score that he was the custom-house candidate, and apunderstand to mean, 'that the shoemaker should stick to his last." Had the writer rendered his quotation in plain English, for the benefit of the vulgar, perhaps the numerous body of mechanics would have exerted themselves to select a man to represent the word, who entertained a little more respect for the working classes. It seems to me, lowever, that this piece at arragance and-would be-nebility asbion, comes with a very ill-grace from sno who supports an actor, who is known to have exercised the profession of umbrella-making, in Rugland, to a considerable extent .-But, perhaps, sir, we should pass this over, when we call To mind, that this worthy personage established a regulation five hundred. - V. Y. Times at hig theatre, by which all persons who were round jackets were excluded from the reputable part of that establish

As regards myself I have ever held, that the majority have the right to govern, and that their decision must be right .-I submit to the election, therefore, of Mr. Caldwell without murmur, and hope that he may not deceive, as I appre hend he will, the calculations of those who were induced t support him. If the mechanics, who are here told to keep to their business, and leave matters of government others, are disposed to co-operate in the'r own dispanchia ment, I can have nothing to any, and therefore will no Mr. Editor, claim your tedulgence spon this head.

In respect to the assertion that Mr McDongell, was the custom-house candidate, I have only to cite as a palpable contradiction, that Mr. Breedlove, the newly appointed collector, voted an open ticket for his competitor, Mr. Caldwell, and that the custom-house influence, if any such influence really exists, was excreed on the same side. From this, then it would appear, that if there was any cuescirhouse cardidate, James II. Caldwell was the man.

Appointments by the Governor. William Dunn, to be weigher of cotton, for New-Orleans, vice John Stringer, resigned.

Benoist Laurents, to be justice of the peace for the paris of Natchitoches, vice Benjamin Metoyer, resigned. Guy H. Bell, to be coroner for the parish of St. Landry via S. E. Bell, resigned.

We announce with great pleasure that CHARLES DER-IGNT, Eaq., has consented at the earnest solicitations of numerous triends to run for the U.S. Senate for this State. Mr. Derbigny is opposed to the United States Bank, and upon that ground we yield him our hearty support. We believe that with proper exertions on the part of the eppenents of that evershadowing and corrupt monepoly, he can be triumphantly elected. The question tween two piano makers, M. Paje. (so well known.) and is not Vanburen-ism or anti-Vanburenism, but Bank on M. Erard, the former of whom, at the lote exhibition; respectively. The property of the page of the control of the Mr. Derbigny, who is on other points opposed to the adhi sistration, has consented to meet this issue.

To speak in praise of Mr. Derbigny, is superngatory. He is known to possess every requisite to fill the station he approate, with honor and credit.
