MONDAY MORNING, DEC. 1, 1834.

MEETING OF THE COMMITTEE

Of Arrangements for a Democratic Festival.

On motion of R. M. Carter, J. Bush was called to the chair, John Wilcox was appointed president, and Myford McDougall secretary.

Mr. McDougall moved that Messrs. Pleuché, J. R. Wolf, P. Doherty, C. Cannon, C. P. Manouvrier, Octave de Armas, J. James, Tricou, L. Barberin, senior, C. Deasuy, Paul Bertus, Jerome Bayon, J. W. Stillwell, M. Egan, H. Norton, John Walsh, P. D. Henry and Col. Cavellier, be added to the list of the general committee, which was adopted, with an amendment that each of the members now present nominate an individual in addition to the above named.

Whereupon Mr. Holland nominated Augustin Bonce,
" J. Bush, " W. Crawford,
" J. Wilcox, " Dr. McFarlane,
" Mr. Murphy, " A. C. Patongais,
" Mr. Wise, " W. C. Quirk,
" Mr. Tulane, " C. Samory,
" Mr. Signol, " J. B. Lamothe,
" Mr. Powers, " J. Clarke,
" R. M. Carter, " H. B. Cenas,
" R. J. Kerr, " W. C. Goodrich,
" W. F. C. Duplessis " J. M. Kennedy.

On motion, resolved, That Messrs. D. C. Ker, J. Lefebvre and Labatut, be granted the privilege of adding to the above list.

Whereupon they named,
John J. Ker, Jules Leblanc,
John P. Davidson, Philip Harty.

On motion, resolved, That a committee of ten be appointed by the chair, to report to the general committee on Wednesday next, a plan to adopt suitable measures to commemorate by public festival, the late glorious triumphs of democratic principles:

Whereupon the President named the following gentlemen, upon said committee—

John H. Holland, R. M. Carter,
W. F. C. Duplessis, J. Wilcox,
P. Powers, H. Andry,
R. J. Ker, P. Tulane,
Jules Leblanc, G. Brusle.

On motion, resolved, That the following gentlemen be added to the said committee:

Mr. Commagere, Harvey Norton,
A. A. Suarez, Bernard Marigny,
Jas. S. M'Farlane.

On motion, resolved, That said committee make their report to the general committee on Wednesday next, at half past 6 o'clock, at Bassi's.

On motion, Resolved, That two Orations be delivered in English and French, at the Battle ground.

Whereupon, resolved, That Messrs. P. Soule and R. M. Carter be requested to deliver the same.

On motion the committee adjourned.

We beg to remind the members of the chamber of commerce that the hour of meeting this evening is changed to 6 o'clock.

The bank papers announce that neither Mr. Frelinghuysen nor Mr. Southard will resign their seats in the senate of the United States. We are not at all disappointed in this announcement. It has ever been a part of the policy of those gentlemen to oppose the will of the people.

From the Richmond Enquirer, we learn, that INSTRUCTIONS have been carried in thirteen counties, and four or five more are doubtful, against the re-election of B. W. Leigh, to the Senate. This makes a difference of twenty-six votes at least, and probably more—as some of the counties, Fredrick for example, have more than one delegate. If this be correct, and the instructions should be obeyed, Mr. Leigh will not succeed. His friends claimed for him of the Delegates elect, a majority of but eighteen. His opponents made it even less.

We feel justified in stating that the reproach made by "A Volunteer Fireman," whose communication appeared in our number of Friday last, against the good faith of the engine company No. 2, is undeserved. We have been satisfied ourselves of the fact, that every exertion has been made by them to fulfil their promise to the junior company, and we question not that in due season they will accomplish their liberal and laudable design. We cannot divine what could have been the object of our correspondent, in making a statement, which if he had taken the least trouble, he would have ascertained to be without the slightest foundation. If it was to create dissatisfaction among the young men of No. 2, and render them inimical to the senior company, we cannot but regret that we have been accessory to his bad intentions by giving his article publicity. But, if on the contrary, he was really deceived and acted from a false impression, it is to be hoped that he will not fail to make a proper reparation for the fault which he has without any improper motive committed.

The intelligence of the election of Mr. LYTLE in the Cincinnati district to congress, cannot but give great satisfaction to the democratic party throughout the United States. Mr. Lytle's course in the House of Representatives at the last session was steady, firm and dignified, and on all occasions he showed himself above all private or personal considerations. It is to be presumed that after so decided an expression of the public will as is evidenced in his election, that the Cincinnati district will no longer be claimed as faithful to the mammoth monopoly. His majority over the big candidate is stated at 462.

NEW WORKS.

The Cruise of the Midge—By the author of the King's Own, &c.—Wm. M'Kean, bookseller.

"We are once more on the sea, again the breeze catches the sails and away we go, spurt-like over the mighty deep, with such a mixed crew that we are at one time pleased and at another alarmed; the rough speech of the one, the deep oath of the second, and the hoarse voice of the captain, all combine to make imagery appear reality; a friend suggests the idea of dramatizing it, for our old friend Scott—the idea is worth remembering for his sake.

ST. LOUIS, Nov 6.

The Hon. Charles Shaler, of Pittsburgh is proposed by the Pittsburg Mercury as a candidate for the vacancy in the U. S. Senate, occasioned by the resignation of the Hon Wm. Wilkins. Mr. Shaler is an uncompromising opponent of the U. S. Bank, and from the complexion of the Pennsylvania Legislature, he will doubtless be elected.

Since the late inundation, this port has been crowded with Steamers, their trade from the Ohio river. The levee is thronged by traders with merchandize—purchasers from up the river, with the needful, and emigrants with their plunder. The hum of business audible in our streets, and our trading population have commenced harvesting. A heavy trade is anticipated this season. The crops in the interior are good in general, and here, produce is in demand, at good rates. This should cheer the farmer, and cause renewed exertion the coming season. The Ohio, Missouri, and Mississippi are gradually on the rise. The Illinois, is yet low.—Ibid.

The Times Change.—Thanksgiving is close at hand, and not a ce'ebration of it has arrived yet in Boston, whilst we hear of two at New York, and one at Baltimore. Time was and children hardly yet walk alone who have been born since, when these cities were dependent upon us for their Christmas supplies of Mediterranean fruit, and if the good old Governor, who waited for advices of Mr. Parson's first vessel before he determined upon Thanksgiving day, were now alive, he might very honestly doubt, if he breathed the air of New England. No matter—there is plenty of raisins and almonds, walnuts and filberts, oranges and lemons on the way to us, and we shall get our full shares of mince pies and plum puddings—as certainly as we had yesterday a deliberate old fashioned, winter forerunning storm of hail, sleet and rain, succeeded to-day by glorious autumnal sunshine. And, after all, suppose we have no raisins nor oranges, hav'nt we abundance of apples and pumpkins? Don't mention it.

Speaking of old Mr. Parsons reminds us of a story.—When he first engaged in navigation he kept a ship chandlary and grocery at the head of Hancock's wharf, (in Boston who are up-taking of) and had fitted out three schooners loaded with American produce for the West Indies, which, with his stock in store, constituted all his property. But during one these vessels he became considerably in debt, and as they had been long absent without being heard from, it was supposed they were lost. The creditors found it inconvenient to wait longer for their pay, and were at length clamorous. Mr. P. whose cash was exhausted, dealt out most of his goods to his creditors. There was one Highlander, however, to whom he was considerably in arrear, but who never mentioned to him the subject of his debt. Mr. P. called upon, and told him if he were expected to be paid, to come and receive his quota of goods, as it would soon be too late. "Never mind that," said Yulean, "I am not worried, if you are not." A short time afterwards, one cold winter morning, Mr. P. was roused from his slumbers by a loud knocking at his door, and on popping his head out of the window, he saw his friend of the bellows. "Mr. Parkins," said he, "I believe that is one of your schooners just this side the castle." He lost no time in throwing on his clothes and repairing to the wharf, and to his joy found the blacksmith's suspicions correct. She had arrived with a return cargo of gold and silver, having sold all her produce at a great profit. In less than forty-eight hours the other two arrived under similar circumstances. This was the foundation of the great fortune which he afterwards accumulated. It is needless to say that the blacksmith was paid to the heart's content—and more than that, on the return of each annual thanksgiving till the end of Mr. P.'s life, his family was presented with a ton of raisins and a barrel of flour. Such was the character of that eminent merchant Ebenezer Pardons.

The seasons—A late western paper has the following notice of the peculiarities which have marked the season of the present year. The description will answer very well for the region of the Middle States:

"We have never known a season in our life that was not the most remarkable that was ever seen and felt. It is either the hottest, or coldest, or dryest, or wettest, or earliest or latest, or rainyest, or snowyest, or fruitfulest, or barrenest that was ever heard of. But of all the most remarkable years we remember, we think the present the most remarkable. First comes a frost in May that tares all the young leaves red and brown, as it 'twere October,—kills all the fruit, and destroys nearly every thing else. Then the locust desolate the country. Then a drought follows that dries up the rivers, burns the corn to death, annihilates the potatoes, and raises the thermometer higher than was ever known.—This over,—come rains which nearly wash away North Carolina; and root up the cotton trees all through the South.—Finally, the scene closes by Jack Frost stepping in and chewing up the tobacco crop with the most cool and icy composure."—Mobile Mer. Adv.

RANDOLPH, Nov. 7th.

Cotton is crowding in upon us, in all sorts of ways. Our town has the appearance of a complete cotton mart, notwithstanding the Tobacco Plant took from our merchants about a thousand bales last Thursday, and steamboats are daily relieving the rivers of her burdensome weight of cotton that it is continually sinking if not groaning under. At present it comes in chiefly by wagons; but when the Hatchie swells, steamboats, flats, and keels towering with our snowy staple, will pour it in a ten-fold ratio.—Recorder.

ROBERT J. WALKER.

This gentleman's prospects are becoming brighter and brighter. Every week some mark of public confidence and respect is shown him. He is every where received with that respect due to splendid talents and unimpeachable integrity and moral worth. The compliment of a public dinner was tendered him in Claiborne county on the 11th instant, which was attended, according to the opposition paper there, by about "three hundred" persons. He made a speech of considerable length, which was distinguished for burning eloquence and powerful reasoning, and which shook Poindexterism to its centre. A similar compliment, we have been informed will be tendered him in Wilkinson county, the place of Poindexter's residence, where he will only have an opportunity of addressing the people. Nothing is wanting but light; and remove the covering from the shoulders of modern whigism, and the putrefying sores with which the party is covered cannot be concealed.—Mississippian.

MR. POINDEXTER.

Mr. Poindexter, when making speeches in this section of the country, denied, in the most unequivocal manner, the charge which has been made against him of his having basely fled from the standard of his country on the 8th January, 1815. He said it was a lie—that where danger was, there was he. We have been repeatedly told, by men who occupied conspicuous stations in the army on the 8th of January, that Mr. Poindexter did run from the battle ground, on the morning of the 8th, at the very commencement of the fight. Col. Campbell was there, and his valuable services have often been spoken of in terms of high commendation. He is better acquainted with Poindexter's history, than any man in the State, and saw him running. At a dinner given to Robert J. Walker, on the 1st instant, at Port Gibson, Colonel Campbell gave the following toast:

By Col. A. Campbell, an invited guest, from Adams county.—George Poindexter,—The coward whom I saw galloping from the standard of his country while the battle was raging, on the morning of the battle of the 8th of January, 1815—ought not to be trusted with her rights.—Ibid.

COMMERCIAL.

NEW-ORLEANS, Nov. 29.

REMARKS.

Business continues progressively to improve, and, generally, the affairs of the City are in a prosperous condition, whether taken in regard to the facilities that are now afforded for commercial transactions, or to the many extensive and useful improvements that are going on in every quarter of the town. The weather, in the early part of the week, was somewhat cool, but favorable to business; on Tuesday and Wednesday nights we had frost, and, in exposed situations, ice was formed; at present it is overcast and raining. The Mississippi is about at low water mark.

COTTON—Arrived since the 21st instant: of Louisiana and Mississippi, 17784 bales; Tennessee and North Alabama, 815; Mobile, 153; Lake, 328; Florida, 5—together, 19085 bales. Cleared in the same time; for Liverpool, 7993; Havre, 3494; Marseilles, 550; New York, 1236; Boston, 606—together, 13868 bales;—making an addition to stock of 5217, and leaving on hand, inclusive of all on ship-board not cleared on the 27th instant, a stock of 51751 bales. The demand for Cotton, since our last, has continued brisk, uninterrupted, and fully equivalent to the supplies received.—Sales have been made, throughout the week, at prices fully equal to, and, in some instances, at a slight advance, on those of the preceding. Choice Cotton continues scarce, and, for superior parcels of this description, we believe, that something over our highest quotation could be obtained.—The following are a few of the sales that have come under our notice, viz: 2200 at 15 1 4, 157 at 15 1 8, 1500 at 15 1 2, 691 at 15, 1514 at 15 1-8, 268 at 14 3 4, 433 at 15 3-4, 720 at 15, 650 at 15 1-8, 350 at 16, 1770 at 15 1 4, 268 at 16 1-2, 300 at 15, 141 at 17, of Louisiana and Mississippi and 250 Western District at 14 1-2 cents per lb. Sales of the latter description of Cotton, generally, average from 14 1-2 a 14 3-4 cents, for lots round.

SUGAR—The demand for Sugar, since our last, has improved, and very considerable sales on Plantation have been made, at 5 1-4 a 5 1 2 cents; some extra fine brought 5 3-4 cents. In the City, the demand is also quite fair; we quote 5 a 6 cents; the majority of the sales have been at 5 1-2.—Cleared this week: for New York 173 hhds; Charleston, 159 hhds; Baltimore, 140 hhds; Savannah, 150 hhds; Mobile, 200 hhds. 30 bbls; Pensacola, 2 hhds.

MOLASSES—There is a very extensive inquiry for Molasses, on Plantation, at 18 cents per gallon, for shipping; but transactions are still somewhat limited, for the reasons stated in our last. In the City, the price has undergone no change; sales, in barrels, continue to be made at 24 cents.—Cleared this week: for Charleston, 6 hhds. 20 bbls; Baltimore, 246 hhds. 377 bbls, Mobile, 75 bbls.

TOBACCO—A few hhds. continue to be sold occasionally, and realise extreme prices, but we forbear noticing them, particularly as it is only calculated to mislead persons in the upper country. No arrival or clearance.

FLOUR has considerably advanced in price; present quotations are 84 75 a 85 per bbl; this rise is not caused by any unusual demand; (on the contrary, the inquiry is rather limited;) but owing to its present scarcity, and an impression that, for some time, the supplies may be limited. Arrived this week, 4545 bbls.

PORK—There is very little here, and the arrivals continue to very light; the demand is good at quotations. Arrived this week, 150 bbls.

BEEF—Prices are without change; the small supplies that continue to be received meet with a fair demand. Arrived this week, 392 bbls.

BACON—The supplies continue to be limited, and the stock in market is very small. Prices, however, remain without change. Arrived this week, 50 hhds. Hams, 10 hhds. assorted, and 12477 lbs. in bulk.

LARD—For good Lard there is an excellent demand at 7 cents per lb., and is very scarce. Inferior in plenty and dull at 6 1-2 cents. Arrived this week, 3306 kegs.

BUTTER—Northern continues to be in fair demand, at 19 a 20 cents, Western, as usual, plenty and dull, at 9 1-2 a 10 cents. Arrived 276 kegs, 36 jars.

WHISKEY—The market is almost entirely bare of whiskey at this moment; we quote 24 a 26 cents per gallon; there is a good inquiry. Arrived this week, 216 bbls.

BAGGING and BALE ROPE—The inquiry for Bagging, though not excessive as it was, is still fair at the present quotation, 30 cents per yard. Rope remains without the slightest change. Arrived this week, 437 pieces Bagging, 415 coils Rope.

LEAD—Arrived since our last, 7119 pigs. The last sale was $4 50 per 100 lbs; but we have no recent transactions to notice, as there is none offering in the market.

SALT—No further supplies of Turks' Island have been received; and for other qualities the demand is very small.

COFFEE—There is a very good inquiry for Coffee, and in consequence of the scarcity of Havana Green, Rio is going off pretty freely at 12 1-2 cents.

CORN—Shelled, in sacks, is rather dull at 70 a 75 cents per bushel; the demand for it in the Ear, per bbl., is moderate at 87 1-2 a 81. Arrived this week, 1440 bbls. and 407 sacks.

OATS are in but limited demand at 45 a 50 cents per bushel; the market has a fair supply.

HAY is without change in price—the demand continues very good.

LIME, Thomaston, is rather looking up, we quote cargo sales $1 24 1-4 per cask—retail $1,50.

FISH—Mackerel continue to meet with a fair demand, at 87 50, 00 50, and 00 00, for Nos. 1, 2, and 3. Herring are in good demand 75 cents per box; Cod dull at $1 12 1-2 for good.

RICE—The market has been bare of this article for some time.

CANDLES, Sperm.—No change in price since our last: the demand continues fair.

HIDES—There is not a great deal doing yet in Hides, but the demand is pretty fair at the quoted prices.

STOCKS—There have been but few transactions in Stocks this week, and those at a slight decline on the prices previously obtained.

FREIGHTS—The current rate of Cotton to Liverpool is 1-2d., and to Havre 1 1-8 cent per lb. A reference to our Shipping List, will show that they are dull. Coastwise, although no absolute improvement has taken place in the rates, yet Freights are now more easily obtained, and a good many engagements have been made during the week.

FREIGHTS.—dull.

To Liverpool, Cotton per lb,	1-2d.
France—Havre, Cotton per lb,	1 1-8 cent.
Cowes, &c., Tobacco per hhd.
Northern Ports in the U. S., Cotton, per lb.	1-2 cent.
do. do. Tobacco, per hhd.	$3.
do. sugar per hhd., from the coast,	$4 25a $4 50.
do. do. from the city,	$4 00.
