

THE TIMES

PRIVATE LAW OFFICES OF DAVIS, R. J.
THOMAS, DAVEN,
REEDER & COOPER.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, DEC. 1, 1834.

"The meeting of the Senate appointed by the general committee of the democratic party, will be held Saturday next at 10 o'clock at 12 Wall-street, at Davis' office, Wall-street.

The meeting of those opposed to co-operation in giving a great democratic battle to the men from the north, and democratic principles, has been postponed to Saturday next on account of the inclemency of the weather that evening. It will be postponed until after the meeting of the general committee of the democratic party.

The North Carolina papers continue to lament the depopulation of the population of their State. "The tide of emigration," says one of them, "is bearing away the wealth, talents, and the strength of the nation."

The Indians in Tennessee.

THE CHIEF INDIAN.

In favor of the Indians.

The Indians in the State of North Carolina.

The Indians in the State of South Carolina.

The Indians in the State of Georgia.

The Indians in the State of Mississippi.

The Indians in the State of Alabama.

The Indians in the State of Louisiana.

The Indians in the State of Texas.

The Indians in the State of Florida.

The Indians in the State of Michigan.

The Indians in the State of Indiana.

The Indians in the State of Ohio.

The Indians in the State of Kentucky.

The Indians in the State of West Virginia.

The Indians in the State of Pennsylvania.

The Indians in the State of New Jersey.

The Indians in the State of New York.

The Indians in the State of Connecticut.

The Indians in the State of Rhode Island.

The Indians in the State of Massachusetts.

The Indians in the State of Vermont.

The Indians in the State of New Hampshire.

The Indians in the State of Maine.

The Indians in the State of New Mexico.

The Indians in the State of Colorado.

The Indians in the State of Wyoming.

The Indians in the State of Montana.

The Indians in the State of Idaho.

The Indians in the State of Washington.

The Indians in the State of Oregon.

The Indians in the State of Alaska.

The Indians in the State of Hawaii.

The Indians in the State of Arizona.

The Indians in the State of New Mexico.

The Indians in the State of New Mexico.