There are few states in the union where capital omparked can produce a more profitable dividend. "The alention of eastern and foreign capitalists should be directed to this, by some of our eastern editorial brethren. We would particularly recommend to their attention the formation of the route hence through the gulf of Mexico across the territory of Florida; and the formation of a line of packet ships between New Orleans and one or more of the European cities.

During the course of the past three months, we have generally received intelligence from Europe, as only as is had been received in New York. We have had Havre journals often at the same period they were received in New York; and considering the defalcatory state of the mails during the winter, this was an object of ne little importance. Such a palpaide fact ought to inspirit a combination between capitalists to effect permanently have had cause to complain of being summarily removed so desirable an object as that designated. It is not now from o lice, seemed to cry Faugh! and Fudge! when re- a matter of doubt that vessels can arrive here from ports in Europe in the same or less time than they can arrive in New York; and should steamships be employed to my naturalized officens from the privileges and immu-navigate the Atlantic, the savantage would be manifestly in our favor-as those ships could touch at Key West for the necessary fuel.

The exports from this city already equal or exceed those from New York, although our imposts are considerably inferior. This originates from the interior trade of New York with the midland and western states being so much prosperity. A political economist or prudential jurist greater than ours; and by the strides which she has lately made in internal improvements, she seems resolved to mai main her superiority in this respect. But the railroad hence to Nashville, and chartering steamboats on the Mississippi, may arrest her progress in our favor.

Again the demand for extending the banking capital of this state indicates an accumulation of commercial transactions and agricultural resources in the state, of no mean magnitude. This capital now approximates 69 million dollars; and will enable Louisiana to depend on her own resources in this respect. This our citizens should peremptorily do-particularly when they have so suffered during the past year from an opposite conduct; and when similar means of disaster are now sinistransle and strenuously attempted by the very g eat increase of loans which have lately been made, by the United States bank, which when winding up her affairs in a year of two may produce the most lamentable consequences her means are now resorted to by our merchants. At well to beware in time.
