New Orleans and Massivilla Raileand.—By a letter from a gentleman at Jackson, Miss., to the pressitent of the Company, we learn that the opponents of the passage of the road through that state, had succeed in all their amendments. The first amendments relieved the treatment of the state were no loubt ignorant of the tact that the Pontchartrain railing and has an exclusive privilege to run to that part of the lake; and that their vote amounted to a complete xclusion of the right of way. We would also remark that it is quite unreasonable in them to suppose that we ihould exhaust our means in giving value to the Pine parrens of that part of their state. These attempts to locating the road, while it amounts to an exclusion, hews that there is a consciousness of its injustice. Whatever may be the form adopted; it amounts to this, that a sister state has refused to Louisnana, Alabams and Tennessee a road through her terrisory!!

But the same letter informe us, that there is a reverning spirit in the senate of that state, and to that day we look for protection against those who would last the best prospects of the country for self sagrand.

To the Honorable the Legislature of the State of Lossseana:

The mamorial of the andersigned, citizens of the city of New Orleans, beg leave most respectively to repreent that the prompt and satisfactory manner in which suits have been directed in the city court of New Orleans ever since its creation, have had the most beneficial effects, and has met with universal approbation from the cuizens generally. Your memorialists would further represent, that the advantages to be derived from this court, might be extended by enlarging its inrisdiction to claims for sums of money not exceeding one thousand dollars: that the facility of collecting debts up to that amount would be very beneficial, and would at least in some degree remove the complair ts at present but too justly made of the law delay; that when it is considered that the number of suits must be greatly sugmented by the rapid increase of the population; that sairs frequently arise in the district and parish courts which take weeks and even months to 2ry; and that these two courts are only in session during eight months of the year, it is not surprising that it is difficult to have suits decided in these courts in less than a year, and that they often remain undecided for two or three years. This serious inconvenience would be obviated as to debts not exceeding one thousand dollars by enlarging the jurisdiction of the presion during the whole year; no difficulties have heretofore been experienced in obtaining jurors in the court whenever they are called for—and when the de fendants are once aware that jurors or he pracuret without difficulty at all times, they will be deterred from praying for a trial by jury merely for delay, as it notiously the case at present.

Your memorialists therefore respectfully pray your honorable body to take into consideration this memorial, and pass such laws on this subject as in your wisdom you may deem proper. To the Honorable the Legislature of the State of Louis om you may deem proper.

And as in duty bound they will always pray. ney win always pray.

Some three years since, a treaty was concluded by Col Gadaten with these Indiama, for a beasses of their lands in Florida, and for their removal to the country procured for them went of the Mismasppi. The execution of the treaty was contingent upon their approval of the country procured, which was to be examined by a delegation to be sent out for that purpose. This delegation was accordingly sent, approved by the country, and entered into a convention for the accustion of the original treaty. Both of these instruments were dely rathed by the president and the senate. When a rangements however began to be made for the execution of the treaty, and the removal of the Indiams, it was found that a person of them were opposed to going. As they had ceded all their country in Florida, it was found that a person of them were opposed to going. During this part of the debate, in which sld Entellus, in the position of actual lorce. A considerable position of the was at all times, prepared to go; in the positions if the less aged, the not more rigorous, hares of the seconte; great excitement and repeated increpations prevailed in the house. Mr Adams was requestly called to order, and on the last occasion, few with the content of the more and the gent of the government, it was finally agreed that if their removal were postposed till this winter, they would all peaceably go-proposed till this winter, they would all peaceably go-proposed till the winter, they would all peaceably go-proposed till this winter, they would all peaceably go-proposed till this winter, they would all peaceably go-proposed till this winter, they would all peaceably go-proposed till the winter of the government, it was finally agreed upon in open council, the arrangements then making were postposed, and it was determined to have every thing ready for their removal at the time prescribed.

Before however this period arrived, the discounted with the greatest difficulty that the application of actual lorce. A cosmiderable to renove them with as little injury as possible, and without the application of actual lorce. A cosmiderable to renove them with as a little injury as possible, and without the application of actual lorce. A cosmiderable to renove them with as a little injury as possible, and without the application of actual lorce. A cosmiderable to renove them with as little injury as possible, and without the application of them was to get the refractory ones to join in the emgration. After many councils, and the emgration. After many councils, and the emgration. After the emgration of them was to get the refractory ones to join in the emgrater of the the positions if the less aged, the not more rigorous, Dares of the senate; great excitement and repeated interruptions prevailed in the house. Mr Adams was frequently called to order, and on the last occasion, Mr Wiss of Virginia ross and expressed a hope, that the gendeman would be permitted to proceed whether in or out of order.

CITY COUNCIL.

To his knowledge, however, but one autoritey was commissioned, and that is were but one autoritey was commissioned, and that is my feet to the council to decide.

Mr Caldwell said that he should porsist, and merely on the ground that the present police was not sufficient to protect the general interest. To his certain knowledge, within twa months $10,000 has been paid by steamboat captains to guard the property they land by steamboat captains to guard the property land by steamboat captains to guard the property was an if the one ordered is illegal, the sounar it be made legal, the better for the public good.

Mr Thomas thought is had better be referred to a minimum time, in order that an ordinance more suitable sommittee, in order that an ordinance more suitable some to be present ordinance in monstrous. (Here the gentleman was called to order by the president, who stated that as she ordinance is monstrous.

Mr Gaisanie said that on a former occasion he was to use such language.) Mr Thomas firmshed by earlying that expected that as schoolboys; but he has a very lowed to broad an assertion as that a law passed by the council was monstrous.

Several desultory remarks were made subsequently; and on the amotion to persist, the feas and nays were called for. Mossrs Baldwin, Caldwell, Herry, McFarclaine, and with a sub-amendment from Mr Albard, requisiting the sucpetary to an entire the price at which each paper will publish the said ord
