RICHARD M. JOHNSON.

17 We begleave to call the attention of the public to a large and valuable sale of the land that formerly camposed the plantation of L. F. Foucher, Esq. as it is laid off in aquares and lots, under the name of Garsavetle, agreeable to a plan drawn by B. Buisson, Ess. surveyor of the parish of Jefferson. The sale will commerce this day, Wedinesday, 27th instat 11 o'clock, at the Aroade Exchange, and be continued from day to day by Isaae L. McCoy, arctioneer, until the webule is dispused of When Carrollton, was fired laid off and add by auction, under prospects far less that was of the squares and lots, brought prices hat above their intrinser value, yet we see larger for mass have been more rapidly realized from these very parchases. That it was of the syntacted in the present instance are far superior to those offered then, and must certainly sound greatly to increase the prospect of a specific beruine to those who may embark in purchases. In addition to the many local advantages which this beautiful place possesses for country scats, and other purposes too nunerous to detail, the proprietors have I berally offered to construct a Railroad, at their own expense, to run from the Carrollton Railroad to the liver, and have already advertised for proposals to complete the same on, or before, the lat of January year. They have also mude it a stipulation of the sale, that two of the principle squares shall be sold on 10 years credit, free of interest, on conditions that the purchasers shall erect an hotel on case, at least equal in size and finish, to the splendid hotel at Carrollton and have the same completed. Said May 19337. They will always afford a greening for May 19337. They will always afford a greening for more rapidly into faces, and thereby greatly facilitate its rapid advancement in price, and the fortunes of those who may become part owners.

Since the above mentioned meeting, the chairman of the committee has written to and received an answer from the executive.

This correspondence must be highly interesting to the citizens of Louisians, and more particularly so to the inhabitants of New Orleans, as the question discussed has a direct bearing on our commercial relations with Mexico. Regard for truth itself requires also that every citizen should fully understand and appreciate the position taken by the first magistrate of this state, in regard to this delicate matter.

Many individuals feel some curiosity to know the result of these proceedings because it was publicly stated in the meeting by which the committee of vigilance was appointed, that should the governor refuse to give into the project there proposed, he would be positically dammed.

Among the letters remaining in the Post Office of this city, as appears in the fist published this morning, there is one with the following characteristic direction, which cannot fail to disclose the native country of the writer, whatevever may be its effect in furnishing information as to the person for whom the letter is intended, or his residence—but as his wife, it seems, keeps a shop and is a Jackson man, with such proper qualities, she cannot fail to be well known in our monumental and hospitable city.

"Pat McMahon, the little Carpenter that has got a big pair of whiskers, his wife keeps a shop, and is a Jackson man, and votes for the Union, and lives in Harrison street, and living near the unarket and works close by."

A gentleman was once complaining to an itererant fisherman who occasionally supplied him with fish, that a lobster, which he had purchased the day before, was not, 'quiete fresh,' Vel, mater' cried the fisherman, and whose tault's that I vonders! 'Twe cried him y your house every day for a fortnight; you migl ave bought him before if you're so very petickler. have bought him before if you're so very petickler.

This joke is something like that related of an eminent painter who entertained pretty much the same opinion about mediocrity in his divine art, as the old Roman has recorded in reference to "middling" verse. He was once asked by the possessor of a gallery of pictures, who was showing them to him at the time, whether he did not find some or them tolerable; —"tolerable," he replied, "oh yes! quite tolerable, but who would eat a tolerable sgg?" Honest Dogberry, much as the people may laugh at his "cacalology," hit the true meaning of the word when he declared that something was "most tolerable and not to be enpured."
