REMARKS.

We have no further change to note in regard to cotton.

In our last issue, we noted the large and rapid sales, and very little is looked for until the winter, which will be about two months from now; it is thought that the Legislature will have been doing but very little by the time one year. It appears to the pen-sideration of the market, that the market is not prepared for war, and that the market will be ready for war in about one month, and that the market will be fully prepared about three days hence.

Many cotton dealers are now in New Orleans, and the market is well supplied with cotton, and they are looking for a market, the probability of a war being the buying and selling of cotton in other parts than any other.

Species of cotton are to be had at any price, and the market is now in full swing.
