

NEW-ORLEANS BEE

BY BULLITT, BULLEN & MAGNE.
A NEWSPAPER OF INDEPENDENT AND PUBLIC SPIRIT.

SATURDAY MORNING, APRIL 27, 1839.

FOR PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

HENRY CLAY, OF KENTUCKY.

Subt to the decision of a National Convention.

The gentleman who borrowed the file of the Bee, are requested to return it to the office immediately.

PROGRESS OF PROSCRIPTION.

From the time that Governor Marcy, of New York, openly proclaimed in the senate of the United States, his determination to make the State of New York a model for the country, the Legislature has, in practical effect, nearly accomplished its purpose. Every inch of power they obtain is secured by a constant allusion to the principles of the Constitution. The administration of the law, however, is not yet complete. Subordinates are appointed who speak the language of the Constitution, and the administration of justice is now in full operation.

In any event, no injurious change of foreign policy, or for the safety of the United States is concerned, is likely to result from a change of ministry.

The particular character of the Great Western's new administration, however, is not yet fully known. At this time, from which we have been separated, we can only say that he is more ready to yield to the wishes of the nation than any other person—whether he be a hasty, hasty, and short-sighted, or a long-tempered, and far-sighted statesman.
