"Take a tumbler—across it lay two small sticks," arg as a quill—on there sticks place a tumbler awards and life of still. This is thubler above tumble the lower one being empty and the upper tull, backly full. This done, take a piece of lines a rotte man gut a half inches wide, sufficiently long to rearch fact the bottom of the anside of the upper at dier, in which is the miffe, to an inch or two below unables. This forms a perfect typhon. All the war in the miffe, letting the cased hang time the low unables. This forms a perfect typhon. All the war in the miffe, will run off into the lower tumbler. It work white, to be sure, from having run through 4 milk, but it will be water—pure water."

Standards Publications—To be great an extention of the standard of the lines of the standard of t milk, but it will be water—pure water. Standards of the vile business of private slander carried on by certain journals in London, that measures have been taken for regardled of fence against them, by inauticiproneutions, at the expense and under the conduct of associety, established for the purpose. The number of London payers engaged almost evclusively in this detreatable business, and relying upon it for support, is esternishing. We have seen specimens of nine tain a dense, among which the Satirst and the Age, vile as they are "were the least offensive. In some of these specimens the grossest accusations were flooright. tian a desce, whene which the Satirist and the Ap-vio as they are we're the least offensity. In some a these specimens the grossers accusations we're flowed; in the grosse stringing against individuals of knew, unbleasibled charactor, both men and women, an even the highest-personages in the kingdom were spe-ken of with most designating indecebey. Afthe meet-ing held for establishing the society, one of the speak est stated that within his own knowledge, six highly reportable 6 molies had been plunged into deep dis-tress, in consequence of these infamous publications and its autorious that in many instances weakly per-sons have how repeatedly stateled, in a most shapes full manner, wiely with a view to the extertion of hush meany.—N.
