HUMAN HAIR.—Its certainly true, although not generally understood, that the roots of the hair always remain in the most abundant profusion, and that there not only exist more roots in the skin of every individual than hairs growing from them, but the roots of the hairs, that they neither perish nor are destroyed, and nothing but the destruction of disease there should be complete defurniture, or destruction of the parts which nourish and sustain them, are maintain that they (the roots) continue vigorous, and are susceptible of, or even injured, when the hair has fallen from fevers, or from constitutional causes, or even in the old or young."—Extract from B. I. Beals & co's treatise accompanying Beals' hair restorative.

MESSRS L. I. BEALS & Co. invite those who are (and in any degree) or who are losing their hair, to give their treatise a perusal. It is applied without charge until the hair is produced.

They further offer to enter into a contract with any party to restore the hair under the penalty of a forfeit of from one to five hundred dollars, and party being bound to pay the sum, to be paid when the hair shall have been restored.

The original certificate of genuineness of the highest standing in the city, may be seen at the office 164 Broadway, showing incontestibly that Beals' Hair Restorative has restored and will restore the human head of hair. Dr. MAGNN, inventor of the "Lupina corporis Elixir Love."

Respected and honored sir.—We have all, in a variety of cases, tested the remarkable effect of your great discovery, and have accordant forth the purpose of bearing evidence to the facts, and tendering you the honor which is your due. The "Lupina corporis" is, in fact, a most infallible remedy in the accomplishment of the proper functions, and artificial decrease, and therefore must prove a blessing to the human race. We can also bear evidence, that there is nothing in it of a mercurial or deleterious nature, and in short, that it is one of the noblest medicinal discoveries of any age.

"With feelings of admiration and respect,—we remain, dear sir, your obedient, servants,

"LE CORDIAL DE LUCINE," or, in English, "the Lupinea cordial," is a general invigorator of the human frame. In all the various cases of languid lassitude, and debilitation, it is an unfailing remedy; in by it possesses in its own nature the strongest tendency to decrease to the effects of shocks, and weakness to other remedies. But the peculiar virtue on which its celebrity is based, is the feminy and feminity pith which it restores the virile powers; when they have been destroyed by dissipation, [illegible], or any of the numerous causes for which testimonials in the possession of those functions.

In common with the generality of really good medicines, this cordial contains nothing of a mercurial or deleterious nature, among the many ingredients which compose it; but is, at this season, simple, yet of great efficacious, that while it can renovate the powerful energies of a giant, an infant may use it, not only with impunity, but with advantage.

The assignee of society are unfortunately such, that, not withstanding the bequeths which would be sure to [illegible] to the public, it is impossible to enter into an analysis of this inestimable cordial here, or publish many of the documents which have been received as vouchers of the blessings it has conferred on numbers of despairing individuals. But this we cannot forbear remarking—that it has been demonstrated that there is scarcely ever, if any such thing at all, as diseased barrenness, or, as nominal inhesitity of the procreant functions, in either sex; and therefore, that those evils are the effects of artificial causes, and may be speedily subdued and recovered by the use of "Le Cordial de Lucine."

The Lucine cordial is also an indubitable cure for thaughed, the [illegible] fleur albus, obstructed, difficult, or painful menstruation; also for the incontinence of urine, or the involuntary discharge thereof. It is likewise an invaluable and thirtualled medicine in cases of [illegible] and diseases of the skin, and in the dispirital affections of the aged.

COUNTERFEIT.—The public is respectfully informed that one of the basest and most disgraceful counterfeits ever attempted has lately been brought to light in the city of New York; and as it is probable that that shop really popular medicine known as Swaim's Tonic Mixture," for fever and ague.

We have just put down an institution called "Bowland's," from Mixture," by E. B. Comstock & Co., whose label, bill, and packages, make its appearance from the store of Samuel & Brothers, No. 108 Water street, N. Y., in which the fac simile of the proprietor has been counterfeited—his copy-right infringed upon—his certificates copied—and, in fact, installed in such a manner, that from its correctness appearance, it can scarcely be detected. We should also say, that we have commenced a suit, in the United States court, for damages for this "piracy," upon our rights, and request letters to be very careful of whom they purchase the article, and that the source can be distinctly traced to the proprietors, or some one of his general agents, whom he has duly sworn to select, as that enjoying the utmost respect and confidence of the community in which they reside; and who, we trust, would wish to aid in any effort to put down the base and original "Bowland's Tonic Mixture," for the paltry gain of a few dollars, thereby endangering the lives of whole fellow citizens.
