CINCINNATI ELECTIONS.

The whigs have obtained a glerious triumph in Cincin nati. There were sixty-five candidates on the regularly nominated Harrison ticket; sixty-four have been elected. A fair and accurate test of the relative strength of the parties, was the election of township trustees, the candidates on both sides being men of unimpeachable integrity. The average vote given in favor of the whirs was 1986: for

> Before noticing the silly diatribes of the locofoce we waited until the clamor had reached Cincianati feeling tolerably confident that the whole matter would be then satisfactorily explained. We were not mis taken. The Cincinnati Republican in a few brie entences, sets the subject to rest very effectually. It appears that General HARRISON receives more let ers in one day than he could probably answer in a nth. To respond to them personally would be wholly impracticable. He, consequently, places them in the hands of the corresponding committee of the county, with a simple view to have them acknowledged. In case the querists call for opinions in regard to certain doctrines or public measures—as in the Oswe-ge correspondence—the committee, not being author-ized to speak for Gen't Harrison, advert to his acts, te the history of his political career, and to his pel-licly expressed opinions in his letters to Harman Den-MY and SERROD WILLIAMS. This was the case in the correspondence alluded to, and this is the ground
