Commercial.

NEW-ORLEANS, FRIDAY NIGHT, July 1, 1842.

We have only arrived at that period of the year, when little or no animation can be looked for in any department of trade; and independent of this periodical dullness, we have at present to cope with all the manifold evils of a disordered currency. Under so many adverse circumstances, business is of course depressed beyond precedent; nor can we expect any revival for some months to come.

The rates of uncurrent money have somewhat improved since our last, especially the issues of the First and Second Municipalities, which are in active request at 6@11 per cent discount.

The weather continues pleasant and favorable to out-door pursuits. The river remains at the same stage last noticed.

COTTON.—Arrived since the 28th ult. of Louisiana and Mississippi, 700 bales—Tennessee and North Alabama, 146; together, 846 bales. Cleared, in the same time, for Liverpool, 6,401 bales—Havre, 3,149—Trieste, 9,107—New York, 86—Boston, 107; together, 9,949 bales; making a reduction in stock of 9,101 bales; and leaving on hand, inclusive of all on shipboard not cleared this day, a stock of 98,899 bales.

After closing our review on Tuesday last, two sales were effected, viz.—1,500 bales Louisiana, at 6½ cent, and 900 do. at prices varying from 6@6 9-16—both of which for the English market. On Wednesday about 700 bales were disposed of at a slight advance on previous rates. Yesterday and to-day the inquiry has been quite active for the season, and the business of both days embraces 2,500 bales, including 1,000 Alabamas, at 6 7-16, at prices fully ¼ higher on the inferior and middling qualities. The stock in first hands, comprising all the cotton held at certain limits, does not now exceed 10,000 bales. Our quotations are amended to conform with actual transactions:—

TOBACCO.—During the past three days the market has been rather quiet, and the sales reach about 300 hhds, at previous prices. The stock of good Tobacco is now very low, and the demand being chiefly concentrated on these descriptions, has the effect of maintaining prices very firmly. We quote fair running lots 3¾@4; 4 and 4¼ for X, Seconds and Firsts; selections and fine prices ¼@½ cent higher. A portion of the business since our last, has been for the English market.

Arrived since the 28th ult. 727 hhds.—Cleared, in the same time, for Liverpool, 1,310 hhds—New-York, 101—together, 1,411 hhds.

SUGAR—The market is very inactive, sales being confined to small lots, owing to the reduced stock on sale. The prices, we have no change to announce, and quote the fair extreme qualities. No sales have occurred on plantation nor in anything offering.

MOLASSES.—Business in this article is quite trifling, as the small quantity on sale precludes any extensive transactions. We quote 16@17½ ₲ gallon. We have not heard of any sales on plantation.

FLOUR.—Since our last review the transactions in flour have again been principally in retail, and at prices showing no change from those previously paid. We quote superfine $4 75 @ 5—fancy brands $5 25—and for the choicest barrels were taken for shipment to the West Indies.

WESTERN PRODUCE.—The Pork market continues in a very depressed condition, and for the season of the year there is more than the usual effect. We may properly class the case in the only article which forms an exception, and now in pretty good request, and which is worth 7 ₲ cwt for primes. Ordinary and middling 6 ₲ 6¾. We quote Pork mess $6 50 @ $7 00; prime, $4 50 @ $5; Mess Beef, $6 50 @ $7; prime, $4 50 @ $5; Prime Mess Pork, $8 @ $8 50; bulk pork, $5 @ $5 50; prime, $5 @ $5 50; Bacon, hams, &c. canvassed do., 6@7 c.; sides 5½@6 ₲ ; shoulders, 4½@5 ₲ lb.

WHISKEY.—We notice some inquiry for this article, but on the whole the market is dull, and large sales are not readily effected at our figures. We quote rectified, 19½@20c.

BAGGING AND BALE ROPE.—The demand is very limited, at previous quotations—say for Kentucky bagging, 11½@12c. cash and time—India do., 13@13½c.; Kentucky ropes, 6½@7c.

COFFEE.—We have no change to notice in prices, and quote Havana prime green, 8@9½—Rio, 8½@9c. (or ordinary) to good. The demand is slack.

CANDLES.—The market is abundantly supplied with sperm, and transactions are mostly in retail, at former quotations.

OILS.—There is scarcely any demand for the article at present, and our previous figures may be considered nominal.

EXCHANGE.—There has been some little demand for Exchange to place our last, and the rates are now points are ½ shade better. We quote Sterling, 4 ₲ cent. premium —France, 5.40 @ 5.50—New-York, 60 days, 4 ₲ cent. discount, 30 do. ½@¾ do., 10 do. ¾@1 do. Sight Checks, 1¼@1½ ₲ cent. discount.

DR. WRIGHT'S ASIATIC TOOTH WASH, a new and important discovery for cleansing the mouth and teeth—The Wash is a perfect safe and effectual remedy for removing from the teeth all the deposites from the saliva without injury to the enamel, which it leaves white and transparent.

It cures the scurvy, strengthening and hardening the gums, causing them to adhere closely to the teeth, where by the latter are restrained firmly in their sockets, and imparts to the breath an agreeable odor.

It can be obtained at the store of Messrs. Hyde & Goodrich, 13 Chartres street.

NEW-ORLEANS:
SATURDAY MORNING, JULY 2, 1842.

LAST GRAND WHIG RALLY.

The whigs of the Parish of Orleans will meet this evening in the BALL ROOM of the St. Louis Hotel.

A number of addresses will be made.

MANUEL CRUZAT,
Chairman Whig Executive Committee.

CLAY CLUB.

A special meeting will be held at the Club Room, in the CONTI STREET HOTEL, To-Morrow (Sunday), Evening, at half past seven o'clock, precisely.

It being the evening previous to the election, it is confidently expected that every member will be at his post.

G. C. LAWRASON,
W. E. DELAVIGNE, } Secretaries.

THE ELECTION.

The voters of the city will bear in mind that the polls will be opened for ONE DAY only—from 10 A. M. till 4 o'clock, P. M., on MONDAY, the 4th of July.

THE TAX LISTS.

The assessors lists of tax-payers have been made and posted up at the place of holding elections in each ward. We have been informed that these lists are quite defective. It therefore behooves every person entitled to a vote to examine the lists, and see that his name is placed upon them, if omitted. This had better be done in person, so as to obtain the voting as little as possible. The questions involved in the approaching elections are of the utmost importance, and every voter in the city, whatever his opinions may be ought to express them at the polls—there should be a full expression of the public mind, Monday next, on all the matters at issue.

"UNITED WE STAND; DIVIDED WE FALL."

We once more warn the whigs against voting split tickets. If there will ever be an occasion when it will become a party to show a firm and undivided front, such will be Monday to the whigs of this State. The locofocos are sensible of the magnitude of the issue, and the Courier of Wednesday evening contained an exhortation to its friends, which the whigs should ponder well. "Upon the result of the city election will depend," says the Courier, "the strength of parties in the Legislature, and as a consequence the election of U. S. Senator, and the decision of other matters of great consequence to the people of this State. Our friends need not be reminded of the burning ambition that now rages in the bosom of every locofoco to revolutionize Louisiana, nor can they be insensible to the terrible blow that will be given to whig ascendency and the prospects of whig principles should this forfeiture of our strength give way. It will cast a gloom over the whole South.

We would bring to the recollection of every whig voter the glorious triumph in July, 1840, and the series of splendid victories that followed up our example. We have only to will it and a like result will crown our exertions on Monday. We will "stop that ball" which was put in motion by a back-sliding President, and which has been rolling over State after State, crushing the hopes of the country beneath its leaden weight. To Louisiana will be due the glory of arresting the encroachments of locofocoism upon the strong holds of republican principles. But the whigs of the city should bear in mind that much depends upon their exertions. The elections are held but for the one day in New Orleans, and should the locofocos make serious inroads upon our strength, expresses will be sent in every direction through the State, hampering the courage of our friends and stimulating the zeal of the enemy. The polls are open for THREE DAYS in the parishes, and before Tuesday's sun rises upon our inglorious defeat, the intelligence will have been received in every direction. The apathy, inconstancy of faithlessness of the whigs of this city may then contribute to the defeat of our friends in the parishes and the State—even faithful Louisiana may be bowed down before the juggernaut of locofocoism.

It is a reproach upon the whig party that the locofocos of this city should nominate a ticket with any hope of success. They boast high it is true, even when defeat is evident. As to their city ticket they predicate their vauntings upon a supposed defection in our ranks. Let them be taught a lesson, fellow whigs that will impress them with a deeper sense of our constancy, uprightness and devotion to principles. It is not upon the glorious 4th of July, A WHIG DAY, consecrated by the whigs of the Revolution that, the whig party will prove recreant to their duty or unmindful of the claims of their country. It is not upon such a day, laden with the recollections of the great privations, sufferings and fidelity of our forefathers, that the whigs will but half finish the work they have in view. Nor will they upon that day permit personal prejudices, local or sectional feeling to interfere with the discharge of their whole duty. Not only will they not assist in promoting foes to their principles, but they will use all honorable means to secure the triumph, thorough, complete and overwhelming triumph over our whole ticket.

Let not the whigs be hoodwinked by the wily artices of the foe; let them not listen to any delusive arguments intended to beguile them into the belief that this or that man or the locofoco ticket is friendly towards them or theirs. Such artifices, however they become those who resort to them, are too shallow to entrap the voters they are intended to wheedle. The great whig party will look with anxiety upon us on Monday; our own country expects much of us. Let us realize the expectations of our friends, let us fulfil the prayers of our country and bearing in mind the motto of our Republic, "United we stand, divided we fall" let us march up to the polls resolved to do our duty, our whole duty and nothing short of our duty.

☞ Let every whig be present at the meeting this evening. It is the last grand rally before the Election—our friends should all be present.

TO THE GERMAN WHIGS.

On the 4th July, on the holy anniversary of the Declaration of our Independence, we are called upon to give our votes for Governor, Senators and Legislators.

We have suffered long enough under the Dictatorship of the so called democrats (better known as Locofocos,) we are the real democrats; it is high time that we rise en masse and with all our might against this party, in order to obtain a whig government. Then and only then may we expect to see our beneficent, our beloved adopted country flourish anew.

Rise up then! ye worthy Germans fellow citizens! let no whig neglect to go to the Polls on the 4th July and give his undivided votes to the Whig Ticket.

A GERMAN AMERICAN.

BURGLARY.—The store of Messrs. Goodman & Harris, in Gravier street, was broken into yesterday morning, shortly before daylight, and the sum of $4,000 in specie abstracted. The robbers have not yet been discovered, but we trust that they will not be allowed to long escape much longer.

DISASTER.—The steamer Pamela, Capt. Shepard, sunk a few days ago at bayou Pigeon, in 36 feet water. There was some little danger at first, which together with the post mill, let all persons on board, but a few lives. The passengers entered part of the steamer Norma.

☞ We are indebted to the Head Issue Room for important congressional documents.

[Partial Correspondence of the Bee.]

Washington, June 29, 1842.

Mr. Bronson gave notice that he would, [illegible] have to introduce a bill changing the [illegible] United States government. Mr. [illegible] resolution restricting the distribution of [illegible] upon, came up, and after an hour's [illegible] laid over for further debate. The army appropriation bill was then taken up as the special order, and the amendments proposed by the committee on finance were explained by Mr. Evans, after which they were severally debated and adopted. Mr. Evans moved two amendments, which were also adopted. One was to levy $60,000 of the $580,000 appropriated for the public armories, to be disposed of by the Secretary of War in the purchase of other arms than those manufactured in the public armories; the other was to add to the appropriation for the medical department $3,000 for completing, collecting and publishing meteorological tables. Mr. Crittenden moved an amendment making an appropriation of $100,000 for snag boats, repairs thereof, and improvements on the Ohio, Mississippi, Missouri and Arkansas rivers. This was warmly advocated by Messrs. Crittenden, Morehead, Lieb, Servier, and Allen; and opposed by Mr. King, on the ground of being the proper subject of a separate bill. It was, however, adopted by an almost unanimous vote. Mr. Berrien moved an amendment to appropriate $60,000 for 100 mounted Georgia volunteers to protect the border line between Georgia and Florida from the depredations of the Florida Indians. This was advocated by Messrs. Berrien and Cuthbert, but opposed by Preston, and finally negatived—ayes, 16; nays, 17. Mr. Berrien then moved an amendment appropriating $19,309 87 cents, for expenses already incurred by Georgia for seven troops of volunteers called out by the Governor of Georgia, and recognised by the U. S. officers in the Florida war. This, after some explanation, was adopted. The bill was then reported, the amendments were adopted, the bill was read a third time and passed. The Senate then went into executive session and shortly after adjourned.

In the House of Representatives, after the disposal of some private business, the consideration of the Revenue Bill was resumed in Committee of the Whole.

Mr. Pickens opposed the bill, on the ground that it was unjust to raise the whole amount of revenue required, from duties on imports.

Mr. Snyder also opposed the bill because it contained the obnoxious land distribution clause.

Mr. Hubbard, of Va. opposed the bill because he was favorable to a lower tariff.

Mr. Cushing defended the bill, and contended that those who opposed it, were bound to propose a substitute.

The debate was continued till the adjournment by Messrs. Gordon, Wise and others.

☞ The Governors of Connecticut, Pennsylvania, New York, Alabama, and Maine, are all said to be to-totallers.

☞ Our thanks are tendered to the officers of the steamboat Norma for very late river papers.

☞ A number of sheep in Gennessee county, New York, have actually been frozen to death in June.

WHIG MEETING.

In accordance with the request of the executive committee, a numerous assemblage of the whigs of the third municipality took place at Dimond's Hotel, in conformity with public notice.

Mr. R. B. Sykes called the meeting to order, by nominating the following officers, who were unanimously selected:

BENJ. WHITNEY, President;

Vice Presidents

R. C. CAMMACK,
HENRY LATHROP,
J. MAURICE,
VICTOR MAROT.

For Secretaries

B. RODRIGUEZ,
N. H. NASH.

The President opened the meeting by stating the object thereof, after which, R. N. Ogden, Esq., was loudly called for; who, in a most happy and enthusiastic manner, addressed the meeting. Gen'l Felix Huston was then called on to address the meeting which he did in a very elaborate and pleasing speech, depicting the evils of division in the whig ranks, and showing in its nakedness the trick of the locofocos, in bringing out J. R. Grymes, in opposition to our Senator, Albert Hoa. Seldom have the whigs listened with deeper attention to a public speaker.

On motion, the following gentlemen were appointed to draft resolutions:—F. B. Conrad, Dr. Dalton Wm. Freret and A. P. Simpson.

The Hon. O. P. Jackson was then called on to address the meeting, to which he responded with a speech glowing with beauty and learning. Wm. Christy, Esq., was then called on, and gave his cogent reasons for the necessity of unanimity in the whig ranks.

Mr. Conrad, as chairman of the committee appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting, reported the following preamble and resolutions:

Resolved, That viewing the approaching election as one which involves issues of vital importance, not only as regards the policy of the general Government, but as regards all the great and immediate interests of our own State, we will bring those Whigs recreant to the duty which, as good citizens, they owe to their country, if they show themselves lukewarm in the support of principles with which the future prosperity of our State is identified.

Resolved, That among those issues we consider a protective Tariff to be the first. That we look upon the Tariff system as essentially a part of our Whig faith; and we denounce as anti-American, and hostile to our industry, labor and industry, the resort on the part of the general Government to any other means of national revenue.

Resolved, That we consider Henry Clay to be the champion of the tariff system, and that our motto is the cause and country shall have it. Clay the Tariff President; and Henry Johnson, the Tariff Governor.

Resolved, That the principles which fired the souls of our Whig sires of '76 have lost none of their worth in the eyes of their Whig sons; and that for the assistance now and commemoration of the glorious principles, we hold no day so fit as the birth-day of our national freedom—no place so proper as the freeman's birthright—the ballot-box; and that the coming fourth of July will find the Whigs of New-Orleans, to a man, in the field, advocating their ancestral faith, and doing justice to the principles of the revolutionary patriots, by giving their zealous and undivided support to the entire Whig Ticket.

On motion, The thanks of the meeting was tendered to Mr. Dimond for the use of his room.

On motion, The meeting adjourned to Saturday night, at St. Louis Ball-room.

BENJ. WHITING, President.

B. Rodrigues, }
N. H. Nash, } Secretaries.
