NEW ORLEANS, MONDAY MIGHT, FEBRUARY 6, 1843

The sales of cotton to-day reached nearly three bales only, principally on the whole the market is about the same as last quotations, with a slight advance on ordinary qualities, generally speaking the news is favorable.

We have nothing else worth alluding to day; we quote Sterling, 9 a 9½ cents premium, although a good many sales are still said to be upon Paris, 5 a 5¼ francs premium.

Freights have advanced and we notice the following engagements:
