

Top section of the page containing various news items, including local reports, municipal council decisions, and announcements. The text is arranged in multiple columns.

Middle section of the page, primarily consisting of classified advertisements and notices. These include real estate listings, business opportunities, and public notices.

Bottom section of the page, continuing with classified advertisements and notices. It includes various notices of sale, legal notices, and other public information.