NEW-ORLEANS:
WEDNESDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 4, 1844.

GRAND WHIG MASS CONVENTION.
TO BE HELD AT BATON ROUGE ON THE FIRST MONDAY IN OCTOBER.

At the CLAY CLUB CONVENTION, held at Baton Rouge on Monday the 19th August, 1844, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That there be a GRAND MASS CONVENTION OF THE WHIGS OF LOUISIANA AT BATON ROUGE, ON MONDAY THE 7TH DAY OF OCTOBER NEXT.

Resolved, That the Clay Club of Baton Rouge be charged with making all the necessary arrangements for the reception of and whig mass convention.

Resolved, That the Clay Club of New Orleans be requested to invite such of the DISTINGUISHED WHIG SPEAKERS OF THE UNION TO ATTEND said mass convention as they may deem advisable.

Resolved, That the Whigs of the neighboring States be and they are hereby invited to attend said convention.

Resolved, That a STATE BANNER be procured by the Central Whig Club of New Orleans, which shall be presented to the whigs of the parish which shall give the LARGEST MAJORITY, a proportion to the whole number of legal votes of such parish, for Henry Clay and Theodore Frelinghuysen, as President and Vice President of the United States.

PHILEMON THOMAS, President.
N. J. PETERS, } Vice Presidents.
M. BARROW, }
W. H. McCARDLE, } Secretaries.
S. B. SHIPLEY, }

THE LOCOFOCO PARTY are seeking all sorts of devices to overcome the shock of their defeat in North Carolina, Indiana and Kentucky. In the first named State they appear to believe, that because the majority for the whig candidate is not so large, by about 1000, as it was in 1842, they have achieved a substantial victory. It is manifest enough the GRAHAM ran behind the whig strength in North Carolina, in consequence of Mr. HOKE, his antagonist, being a western man, and getting more of an a party vote in that section of the State where the whig majorities are overwhelming; and there is no reason whatever to doubt that in November the whig gain will be quite as large as it was between August and November, 1840. But the party locos, while affecting to rejoice over both Carolina, are particularly careful not to say a word about the Legislature, which, from a locofoco majority of 24, has been converted into a whig majority of 26. We rather think this reason is a pretty accurate specimen of the lies which the people of North Carolina beg to locofocoism. Take the vote for members of the Legislature as a test, and the whig majority of 1842 is more than sustained.

In Indiana, the contest was for members of the Legislature. It was an important contest, as much depends as a United States senator was to be chosen by the Legislature elect. For the last three years our opponents have elected a decided majority of themembers of the Legislature chosen each year. This year, for the first time since 1840, the whigs have carried a fair majority on joint ballot. In this not a triumph? Certainly not, nowere our quick witted locofocos, for the popular vote shows that you are in a minority. Very strange that last year, when the locofocos, with a popular majority of 2013, had 12 majority in the Legislature on joint ballot, that, though claiming an increased majority of the vote, they are in a minority of ten on joint ballot! Very strange, but not impossible. Now the fact is, that the locofocos have no popular majority whatever. We have already shown the way in which they contrive to figure out a satisfactory result, and we have published correct tables of the official vote in 22 counties, which exhibit a whig gain of 1089. In addition to this, we find in the papers the vote of 47 counties, which demonstrate a further gain of 1026 votes. Total gain of 22 counties—about three fourths—2061, already more than sufficient to overcome the locofoco majority of last year. We do not entertain a doubt that a careful statement from every county, using due allowance for those not contested, will establish a decided whig majority in the popular vote at this election.

Now for Kentucky, where the locofocos likewise attempt to make a show of triumph. OWSLEY'S majority is about 1,000, and the locofocos, knowing its unpopularity, and the popularity of his opponent, knowing too, that these causes were so influential upon the canvass, that the election of BUTLER was certain to result in advance by the Globe and other papers, were in the hesitancy to assume the result as a test of whig strength in the State. Bravo, the whig candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, has 11,000 majority, or more than double that given to OWSLEY. This is a small evidence of what the whigs of Kentucky can achieve. Jut look at the vote for the Legislature. The official returns to 58 counties for Governor and members of he Legislature, are as follows:

	W.	L. F.
Governor	33,788	32,561
Legislature	36,487	30,347

Here it is seen, that in little more than half the State, OWSLEY'S majority is 1267, while the whig majority on the Legislative ticket is 6,140, or about five for one. The same result is manifested in the Lieutenantgovernor. This is conclusive. In November, 1840, Kentucky gave HARRISON 10,000 more than LETCHER in November next, she will give CLAY 20,000 more than OWSLEY has received.

We trust the locos may hurt many such victories to cypher out as those in North Carolina, Indiana and Kentucky. If they are really pleased at such results, we must perforce admire the holiness of their aspirations, and the ease with which they are contented.

THE DIFFERENCE.

The locofocos try to make an estimate of the result at the Presidential election in Louisiana, which will give them the State. They cypher it out in this wise:

	L.	W.
1st District,	401
2nd "		500
3rd "	650
4th "	500
	1551	500
	500
	1051

We conceive this estimate to be absurd and extravagant. Our sincere conviction, formed after a cool and deliberate survey of the whole ground, is that Louisiana will be a closely contested State. Our belief is that Mr. CLAY will carry it, and we think that the majorities in the several Congressional Districts will be about as follows:

	L.	W.
1st District,	200
2nd "		1300
3rd "	500
4th "	000	000
	700	1300
		700
		600

Our friends both in the Firstand Third districts think we have been too liberal to the locofocofarian in our concessions, but we are willing to let our calculations stand in juxtaposition with that of the locofocos, and see which will come nearest the mark.

SUGAR.—We stated in Monday's paper that 6 hhds of New Sugar had been receipd by the steamboat Cotton Plant. We have since ascertained that the statement is wholly incorrect. We were deceived by the fact that the sugar was stored on the manifest of the boat as new, and the same was given of the plantation from which it came. With every disposition to obtain accurate and faithful accounts of such matters, error, in a case like the present, a sometimes unavoidable.

NATCHEZ CONVENTION.—The delegation to the whig Convention at Natchez, to be held on the 5th inst. left last evening in the steamboat Concordia. The delegation was quite large, numbering between fifty and sixty. There was quite a concourse of whigs on the Levee to witness their departure, and cheer them for their gallant devotion to the good cause. A salute was fired from the foot of Canal street, as the boat rounded to, in front of the city, by Capt. FORBI'S company, "The Native American Artillery."

☞ Our thanks are due to J. B. STEER, No. 14 Camp street, for the second number of Eugene Sue's thrilling romance "the Wandering Jew," and for the August No. of Campbell's Foreign Semi-monthly Magazine. The latter is embellished with an exquisite engraving, and contains the usual variety of interesting matter.

THE WHIGS of York and Adams counties, Pa., have nominated Dr. DAVID HERSHEY, as their candidate for Congress. The district gave 320 majority to HARRISON, in 1840.

THE SPIRIT IN NEW YORK.—A mass meeting of the whigs of Tompkins county, took place at Ithica, on the 21st. The number in attendance is estimated at 15,000. David D. Spencer, presided, and addresses were made by General Root, Governor Seward, Mr. Dawson, Judge Duer, Messrs. Sweet, Collier, Broughton, &c. Four stands were erected from which the speakers haranged the multitude. The prize Banner was awarded to the town of Newfield, which sent 1681 delegates, comprising nearly every whig man, woman and child in the town. [Total population in '40, 3,377; vote 367 whig 352 loco.] The Rochester Democrat says:—

At one o'clock a procession was formed of the Revolutionary Soldiers present (who bore this banner—" No pensioners, and Polk—no Polk, say pensioners,") and the guests of the whigs of Tomkins, headed by the Bunker Hill drummer and fifer, who played the morning reville for the whig army who fought that memorable battle. And right nobly did they perform the task they had assumed. Although beat down by the weight of four score years and two, the shrill sound of the ancient fife, and the merry rattle of the venerable drum gave tokens of most miraculous vigor in mind and muscle.—The band played Washington's March and Yankee Doodle, and wound up with three cheers, and all was done with a precision and earnestness, which elicited the most tremendous shout which ever split the welkin. When distinct cheers were given to the old drummer and fifer, and the scenes of revolutionary heroes who were with them, the heart's well overflowed, and every eye was moistened."

The whigs of Fulton county, held their mass meeting on the 23d. There were some ten thousand present, Montgomery and Herkimer being largely represented.—Elegant and able addresses were made by Messrs Fowler, Fillmore and others.

The grand mass meeting at Albany, was to take place on the 27th. We shall get accounts of it to-day, or to-morrow.

From the National Intelligencer.
THE TARIFF—ITS EFFECTS ON THE HOME MARKET, &c.

By the last steamer from England we are advised that the stock of American Cotton was immense, and the average sales, according to our calculation, did not fall over seven cents per pound. American Flour is quoted at nineteen shillings per barrel, and the duty up to 10s. 10d., or nearly $2 50 per barrel. American Tobacco was low, the price of which is about twenty-five thousand hogsheads, which, if consumed there, (and nearly the whole of it will be,) will yield to the British Government about two millions of dollars under the duty being three shillings per pound, or about eight hundred dollars per hogshead. As, according to these facts, we cannot rely upon foreign markets, it is for a moment turn to our home markets and see what they have done for the tillers of the soil—as every quarter for the last twelve months. In consequence of the salutary operation of the Tariff of 1842, the home markets for all the products of earth have been extended, and have been for a year past and are now higher than foreign markets. Instead of about three hundred thousand consumers to have taken the place of consumption about four hundred thousand bales of cotton, at an average of about nine cents per pound—a result which would have taken place during the last six months of the year at prices as high as ten and eleven cents, and while prices were from twenty to thirty per cent lower in Europe. And, even now, when prices have declined materially, we have the prospect of a great decline in Europe and a larger crop than was at one period anticipated, our prices of all descriptions of the staple are the same by sea and market of the country. These facts show the vast importance of fostering our manufactures. If the country had during the last year two millions eight hundred thousand bales instead of cotton instead of half that quantity, the planters would have obtained more than an average of nine cents per pound, and it must be equally so, parents to all practical purposes, with an increase in the consumption of cotton would have in the same ratio increased the demand for other products of the soil, and consequently the prices of them would have advanced proportionally. The crop of cotton of 1842 was about two million four hundred thousand bales; the crop of 1843 was about two million six hundred, but if we had had be about two million and fifty thousand bales, and the pending crop may be put down at from one million eight hundred thousand to two million five hundred thousand bales, according to the weather for the residue of the season. These crops have proved too large for the consumption of Europe, and hence the present low prices of cotton and other staples.

This country, without aid from Texas, is capable of furnishing out at least three millions of bales of cotton, which would be taken off at prices which would leave a handsome profit to the planter. Now, suppose our tragatelic thirty-two per cent Tariff abolished, and of course the home consumption of cotton cut off, do not the planters clearly foresee a decline, and probably a material decline, in their staple? In such a state of things, treat Britain and the Continent would fix the price, and fix it so low that the locofocos would prove disastrous to all the planting States.

Now, if free traders, whether they live in the North or the South, the East or the West, would pin their faith to the principles of free trade, and forego their theories and abstractions, can it be doubted that they would, yea, every one of them, concur with us in the confident assertion that tariffs do not actually raise the prices of all the products of the soil, and at the same time give employment in many branches of industry to hundreds of thousands of our fellow citizens?

There are such small quantities of grain and flour exported to Great Britain that they are scarcely worth speaking of, but of the latter we will say another word. For the last year, the price of flour in that country, on the seaboard, averaged from four dollars and fifty cents to five dollars, whilst shipments to England have not generally varied more than three dollars and forty cents, and the last quotation (nineteen shillings) rests only about three dollars per barrel.

The recapitulation of all these truths shows, conclusively, that the Tariff of 1842 is beneficial to the whole country.

LATER FROM CAPE HAYTIEN.

By the arrival of the schr. Orelina, Lafaun, at this port from Cape Haytien, we have received dates to the 20th instant from Cape Haytien. As regards political affairs, all was quiet at the time of the sailing of the ship. A "Provisory Council" had been duly elected. The proposition of dividing the Island into States was abandoned, and the government is now to all respects as it was prior to the late revolutions, with the exception that there is to be a Vice President, who is to reside at Port Au Prince, being the capital of the N. S. and W. At Port Au Platt they still sustain the Dominican flag, and the ambitious projects have arranged the heads of a treaty with the French by which the latter are to have a patent for the mines of Samana, for a term of years, and in return they are to have the majority of the population are opposed to it; dreading the consequences, should the French
