INDEPENDENT MINSTREL CLAY CLUB.

The members of this Club will meet at their usual place, on Tuesday, at 7 o'clock P. M.

By order of
THOMAS H. SHIELDS, President.
D. L. Van Ostra, Secretary.

☞ Gentlemen wishing to become members of the above Club, will please make early application to the Secretary, corner of Gravier and Tchoupitoulas streets.

WHIG MEETING.

There will be a meeting of the Clay Club of the City of Lafayette and parish of Jefferson, on Wednesday the 11th instant, at 7 o'clock P. M., at Mr. BALLEST's, Coffee-house, corner of Second and Laves streets, City of Lafayette, for the purpose of electing the officers of the Club. Also, a Mass Meeting of the Whigs of the parish at the Carrollton Hotel, on Saturday evening, the 14th instant, at 5 o'clock, for the purpose of appointing Delegates to the Whig Convention at Baton Rouge. A general attendance is particularly requested.

POLITICAL PRINCIPLES ADAPTED TO DIFFERENT LATITUDES.

JAMES K. POLK in South Carolina:—A Protective Tariff man, with Free Trade Principles.

JAMES K. POLK in Pennsylvania:—A Free Trade man, with Protective Tariff Principles.

THE NATCHEZ CONVENTION.

We yesterday received the Natchez Courier, of the 6th, containing some account of the great whig mass convention, held in the neighborhood of that city, the day previous. It was a splendid gathering, by far the largest ever convened in Mississippi. The delegations from Louisiana were very full, the Concordia taking up numbers from Baton Rouge, the Feliciana and other places along the river, besides a highly respectable delegation from New Orleans.

When the procession reached the ground, the Rev. G. M. Drake, offered an eloquent, appropriate and impressive prayer. The multitude were then addressed by William S. Yerger and James M. Smylie, Esqrs, in argumentative and convincing speeches, after which the Convention adjourned to partake of a substantial and abundant repast.

After dinner the assemblage was harangued by S. S. Prentiss, for nearly three hours. It was one of his greatest and happiest efforts. He spoke until he was perfectly exhausted.

We regret to learn that Mr. Mazureau of this city was taken ill, though nothing serious is apprehended.

At nightfall large assemblage congregated in the Court yard at Natchez and were addressed with great eloquence and effect by P. W. Tompkins and A. L. Lingaman.—The Courier says that the Clay Club and Straight-outs were to meet that evening, when Messrs. Mazureau, Wilcox, Yerger and other gentlemen were announced to speak.

PENNSYLVANIA.

The Philadelphia North American of the 29th ult. says: "A friend who has been travelling in several counties of the State of Pennsylvania assures us that a most favorable revolution is taking place in quarters where the despotism of party has been thought irresistible. In the small borough of Northumberland, with only eight hundred inhabitants, there are twenty desertions from the opposite party. In Easton about one hundred Locofocos are known to have come over to the Whig side, headed by Captain JACOB ABEL, long one of the most influential of the other party in that region.—That such changes should take place in so short a time, with the idea of an honest vote well informed people. The maintenance of the present Tariff and the Distribution of the Land Fund are measures in which Pennsylvania has a vast stake. Her industrious population must be thoroughly blind to their best interests if they come out to aid the election of Mr Polk, who stands irretrievably pledged against these measure, who is wedded to free trade and to the introduction of Texas into the Union, with a debt which will render its absorption almost impossible, even if the will existed on his part to permit it."

ANOTHER MAMMOTH CONVENTION IN TENNESSEE.—The indomitable whigs of Tennessee, are to be in motion on the 16th inst., at Columbia, Maury county—the home of Polk—at the residence of Gen. Gideon Pillow, Polk's immediate neighbor. As the whigs of Nashville bravely dared the Lion of the Hermitage in his den, so did those of Maury confront his Satellite at Columbia. The Observer contains a glowing account of this spleudid gathering. It says:—

At half past seven, the Grand Procession was formed at the encampment east of town, and put in motion—the route was through town and Mayrsville, to the ground. We had the good fortune to occupy an elevated stand where we could see the procession an hour half a mile each way. Such a magnificent procession! The order, pomp and splendor, our eyes never witnessed save on one occasion—on the 2d of May at Baltimore; it was truly a sublime spectacle. Although there was not so many here as at Nashville on last week, the procession was, and much larger, in our opinion than at Nashville. The front must have reached Ashland—a distance of two miles—considerable time before the rear left town.

There were seventeen infantry companies and seven companies of cavalry in the procession from different parts of Tennessee. Conspicuous in the throng was the GREAT WAGON, forty feet long, sixteen wide and about the same in height, occupied by artisans engaged in the different branches of domestic industry. Large delegations were present from Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas and all the Western and Southern states. S. D. Frierson, presided, and the Consideration was addressed by Mr. BAKER, of Illinois, Mr. GRAVES, of Kentucky, Hon. Spencer Jarnagin, of Tenn and a number of gentlemen from other States. The prize banner was awarded to the whigs of Hickman.

The speaking was resumed at night and the next day, and the whole affair passed off in the happiest spirit, without violence, and without a single occurrence to mar the general harmony and good feeling that pervaded the vast assemblage. HURRAH FOR TENNESSEE.

NEW WORKS.—We are indebted to S. Woodall, 48 Camp street, for Morse's School Geography, illustrated with maps—a most excellent work for young people.—We have also received "Arrah Neil," or Times of Old, a new novel by James; the second part of "The Spoon," with illustrations, one of the most curious and instructive works we have seen for many days; and the "Grandfather," a tale by the lamented Miss Pickering—a work whose graceful, pleasing style, playful fancy, and inimitable powers of invention, induce the lovers of light literature to mourn her melancholy and premature demise.

☞ Mrs. Day, the wife of a respectable citizen of Clay county, Ky., says the Louisville Courier, gave birth, a few days ago, to THREE INFANTS, two BOYS and one GIRL. One of the Boys she named HENRY CLAY, the other THEODORE FRELINGHUYSEN, and the Girl LOCRETIA CLAY. The little customers and their anxious mother are all well and doing finely. There is no telling what a DAY may BRING FORTH in this County.—Baltimore Patriot.

HORNS TO EDITORS.—In France several Editors are Ministers of State, or hold distinguished offices under the government; but we are bound to state at the same time, that forty seven are in prison for libel on the government.

MORGAN, of Exchange Place, has received quite a batch of literary novelties. Among them we note the Spoon, first and second part; Arrah Neil, by James; the Grandfather, by Miss Ellen Pickering—all of them works which we can conscientiously commend.

☞ The official returns from Kentucky are published in full by the Washington Reporter. The vote for Governor is as follows: Owsley, 59,663; Butler, 55,040—4,623 majority. For Lieutenant Governor: Dixon, 59,102; Pilcher, 48,975—majority for Dixon, 11,127.

DREADFUL MURDER IN IOWA.—We learn from the Burlington Gazette, of the 17th, that a horrid murder was committed in Washington county, Iowa, on the 6th inst. A man by the name of McCauley, became enamoured of the wife of Mr Coffman, of that county, and fled with her and her child a few weeks ago. McCauley returned, and on Sunday are sung, after sundown, while Coffman and his wife and child were returning from the house of a neighbor, McCauley secreted himself in a corn field, avoided his gun at Coffman, and killed both him and his child. The child, carried in the father's arms, died almost instantly; the father survived until the next day, when he died. McCauley fled, but was pursued and caught. The wife was also arrested.

☞ The Louisville Journal's Correspondent at Nashville, speaking of the second day's proceedings of the Convention, says:

Hunt, of Louisiana, spoke to-day, and a noble representative he is of his noble State. Strong, powerful, ready, overwhelming, he did service to the glorious Whig cause which will be remembered. Col. Martin, four times called out, three cheers for Hunt and Louisiana, which was heartily responded to by the thousand enraptured Whigs.

THIRTEEN DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.
ARRIVAL OF THE GREAT WESTERN.

The Great Western, Captain Matthews, arrived at New York at 9 o'clock on the morning of the 31st ult, bringing advices from Liverpool to the 17th inclusive, and from London to the 16th, making the passage in 11 days. The Great Western brought one hundred and thirty passengers.

There had been no change in cotton—tendency, however, in favor of buyers. There was a good trade demand. In some instances holders had accepted prices a shade lower.

The accouchement of the Queen had taken place—She has given birth to a son who will be called the Duke of York. Of course the usual fetes and rejoicings followed this event. The Queen and infant were doing well at the last accounts.

Royalty is prolific:—the Princesse de Joinville having taken to see ushered a little Princess into the world.

Affairs in Morocco had assumed a more quiet aspect. France was intimidated the Emperor. The bombardment of Tangier will probably settle the trouble.

Mehemet Ali has abdicated in favor of his son Ibrahim.

Letters from France mention the death of Joseph Bonaparte—once King of Naples and afterwards of Spain. He died on the 29th July, after a long illness. Louis is now the head of the family, but his health is also very bad. The papers likewise mention the demise of the Grand Duchess Alexandrin, fourth daughter of the Emperor of Russia, and consort of Prince Frederick of Hesse.

The parliamentary session has been practically brought to a close, though there has been no prorogation, both Houses having adjourned to the beginning of the ensuing month, in order to allow those of the judges, who are now on their respective circuits, time to make up their judgment on the Writ of Error, moved by O'Connell and his fellow prisoners. It is supposed that this judgment will be unanimous in favor of the Crown, and that the government having thus been empowered to suspend the repeal agitation as clearly illegal and unlawful, and that the bare attempt to dismember the British Empire will no longer be tolerated, will shortly release the prisoners from their confinement, who, however, they are enjoying "health, wealth, peace and happiness." Some of the repealers in parliament have sobered that as a boon, whilst others, like many of their constituents, have demanded it as a right. The former have been censured by Mr. O'Connell for their moderation and craven spirit, whilst the repeal journals have loudly supported the latter, and evinced a strong desire to obtain the end sought for by intimidation rather than by submission. The repeal association continues to hold its meeting unmolested, but the oratory is of a harmless kind, and has no effect whatever upon the multitude, who are as quiet as possible, whilst the rent is gradually becoming "small by degrees and beautifully less."

IRELAND.

Judgment in the case of the traverers will be given on the 2nd prox.mo, and although it is generally under a cud that it will confirm the proceedings in the Irish Court of Queen's Bench, against which the repeal Judges may entertain with regard to the proceedings connected with the monster trials, whether any portion of Mr O Connell's term of incarceration will be remitted.

The usual weekly meeting of the Repeal Association was held in Dublin, on Monday, Alderman Arabin and Mayo presiding in the chair. The amount of the rent was about £1,300.

The so-much looked for demonstration in behalf of Mr O'Connell and the rest of the repeal captives, is announced to take place on Sunday at the several chapels throughout Ireland, proved a complete failure.

FRANCE.

The session of the French Legislature for 1844 was closed by Royal ordonnance on the 5th inst. In the Chamber of Deputies M. de la Rochejacquelein said that it was impossible the Assembly could separate without replying to the insulting language used in Parliament by a Minister of Great Britain, in speaking of the naval force of France.

On the 10th inst. a grand dinner was given at the Palace of Neuilly, in celebration of the 14th anniversary of the day on which Louis Philippe took possession of the throne, after making oath to the charter of 1830, in presence of the two Chambers. The ministers, ambassadors, grand dignitaries of the state, and a large number of general officers attended the banquet.

The Semaphore de Marseilles, of the 8th instant, announces the arrival, on the previous day, of the steamer Sphynx, from Alexandria, in the service of Duke Rovigo, deputed from the Russian army, and joined his countrymen, and by stratagem got possession of Dzindelinsk.

MURDER OF AN AMERICAN CAPTAIN ON THE HOOG SEAS.—The Thomas Bennett, a vessel on her voyage from Liverpool to Charleston, South Carolina, whence she sailed on the 21st ultimo, on the 16th, in consequence of the murder of the captain by the cook. She had been out five days when the melancholy event occurred, and had only reached the Bay of Biscay, when the chief mate put back, and on arrival the murderer, a fine-looking fellow named John Kent, was apprehended and lodged in confinement. It appears that Captain Halsey, the commander of the vessel, though generally a very sober man, had been under the influence of potent draughts from the time he put to sea. The day it is averred, he drank no less than a pint and a half of brandy. Under the excitement produced by ardent spirits, he rushed on deck, having some altercation with the cook, during the afternoon under the influence of which the cook, in a fit of passion, struck the old gentleman a blow on the head, and forthwith he left the cook at the helm, and proceeded to the cabin. The captain, it is said, had a knife in his hand at the time, and immediately after the blow was seen to fall, the blood flowing from his person; and, when picked up, several wounds of a fatal nature were found on his chest, throat, and other parts of his person, inflicted by the cook. An investigation before the magistrates on the 15th was adjourned to ascertain the law of the case, the chief magistrate intimating that as the vessel was under American colors, and the murdered man a citizen of the United States, it might be necessary to send the man out there to be tried. A coroner's inquest was held on the body, and after a patient investigation of two days, by a jury of merchants called off Change for the purpose, they returned a verdict of "justifiable homicide," believing that the fatal act was done in self-defence. The next, however, was not set at liberty upon this verdict, as he was claimed by the American Consul on behalf of the United States Government, and remanded to receive the answer of the Secretary of State, as to his being given up, to be tried there. The body of Captain Halsey was interred in the Protestant Cemetery on the 18th, attended from the Gracian Hotel by most of the American Captains in port. The deceased, we understand, was a widower, and has a family of six children.—Wilmer's Liverpool Times, Aug. 17.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Prince Royal of Prussia is now on a visit to England. Great Britain is this year overrun with foreign nobility.

The intelligence of the English crop is very favorable to England, and unfavorable to America.

Mr Washington Irving has arrived in Paris on leave of absence for two months from his diplomatic duties in cause which will be remembered. Col. Martin, four times called out, three cheers for Hunt and Louisiana, which was heartily responded to by the thousand enraptured Whigs.

The Cologne Gazette states, that the elections in Greece cost the lives of more than forty persons, without counting the wounded. It is believed that the opposition will have from fifteen to twenty voices. The different parties have expended enormous sums during the elections. This money must have come from foreigners, for the Greek treasury was completely penniless. The English, French, and Russians, are said to have no money in order to obtain the majority for their party.—On the 20th of July, after a violent contest, which had been held, which lasted four hours, made another attempt to prevail on M. Coletti to enter into the present cabinet; but he refused. He advised the king to send for the assembly, the Chamber of Deputies, and to appoint a Minister of Great Britain, in speaking of the naval force of France.

RUSSIA AND CIRCASSIA.

Accounts from Constantinople to the 17th ult., state that information had been received of the defeat of the Russians by the Circassians in Daghestan. The gallant and indomitable mountaineers were commanded by Chamil Bey, and the Russians by General Fersen, Aitoff and the Grand Duke Maximilian. The Daghestan is on the western coast; its principal city is Derbend, a fortress of great importance, in the service of Russia. Maximilian, deserted from the Russian army, and joined his countrymen, and by stratagem got possession of Dzindelinsk.
